Spirituality and Hospice Social Work

Ann M. Callahan, 2017-02-07 Many hospice social workers must address spiritual issues with their clients but do not feel competent to do so effectively This targeted volume draws upon multidisciplinary theory and research to advance a relational model of spiritually sensitive hospice care The book will help readers elevate their spiritual competence and foster a relationship with their clients that will enrich the experience for all involved Spirituality and Hospice Social Work helps practitioners understand various forms of spiritual assessment for use with their clients The book teaches practitioners to recognize a client s spiritual needs and resources as well as signs of spiritual suffering It also discusses religious and spiritual practices that clients may use to enhance their spiritual coping Spirituality and Hospice Social Work stresses the need for interdisciplinary collaboration with other members of the hospice team along with the value of maintaining professional ethical standards when addressing spiritual issues Throughout the importance of spiritual sensitivity and its effect upon client well being is emphasized

The Inner Life of the Dying Person Allan Kellehear, 2014-06-03 This unique book recounts the experience of facing one s death solely from the dying person s point of view rather than from the perspective of caregivers survivors or rescuers Such unmediated access challenges assumptions about the emotional and spiritual dimensions of dying showing readers that along with suffering loss anger sadness and fear we can also feel courage love hope reminiscence transcendence transformation and even happiness as we die A work that is at once psychological sociological and philosophical this book brings together testimonies of those dying from terminal illness old age sudden injury or trauma acts of war and the consequences of natural disasters and terrorism It also includes statements from individuals who are on death row in death camps or planning suicide Each form of dying addressed highlights an important set of emotions and narratives that often eclipses stereotypical renderings of dying and reflects the numerous contexts in which this journey can occur outside of hospitals nursing homes and hospices Chapters focus on common emotional themes linked to dying expanding and challenging them through first person accounts and analyses of relevant academic and clinical literature in psycho oncology palliative care gerontology military history anthropology sociology cultural and religious studies poetry and fiction The result is an all encompassing investigation into an experience that will eventually include us all and is more surprising and profound than anyone can imagine

The Oxford Textbook of Palliative Social Work Terry Altilio, Shirley Otis-Green, John G. Cagle, 2022 It is so important to advocate for things that may not always seem possible Getting to work with patients families at the end of their life is the ultimate honor Lauren G Markham MSW LCSW APHSW C In this work one witnesses both depths of human suffering and heights of human transcendence that can inspire both awe and fear At those times I have found that surrendering my need to be an expert and instead allow myself to simply be a human is the wisest action Kerry Irish LCSW OSW C FAOSW

Dying in America Institute of Medicine, Committee on Approaching Death: Addressing Key End-of-Life Issues, 2015-03-19 For patients and their loved ones no care decisions are more profound than those made near the end of life Unfortunately the experience of dying in the United States is often characterized by fragmented care inadequate treatment of distressing symptoms frequent transitions among care settings and enormous care responsibilities for families According to this report the current health care system of rendering more intensive services than are necessary and desired by patients and the lack of coordination among programs increases risks to patients and creates avoidable burdens on them and their families Dying in America is a study of the current state of health care for persons of all ages who are nearing the end of life Death is not a strictly medical event Ideally health care for those nearing the end of life harmonizes with social psychological and spiritual support All people with advanced illnesses who may be approaching the end of life are entitled to access to high quality compassionate evidence based care consistent with their wishes Dying in America evaluates strategies to integrate care into a person and family centered team based framework and makes recommendations to create a system that coordinates care and supports and respects the choices of patients and their families The findings and recommendations of this report will address the needs of patients and their families and assist policy makers clinicians and their educational and credentialing bodies leaders of health care delivery and financing organizations researchers public and private funders religious and community leaders advocates of better care journalists and the public to provide the best care possible for people nearing the end of life
