Africa North of the Limpopo Kenneth Wyndham Smith, F. J. Nöthling, 1985      Botswana Directory, 2001      Touts Enrique Martino, 2022-08-22 Touts is a historical account of the troubled formation of a colonial labor market in the Gulf of Guinea and a major contribution to the historiography of indentured labor which has relatively few reference points in Africa. The setting is West Africa's largest island Fernando Po or Bioko in today's Equatorial Guinea 100 kilometers off the coast of Nigeria. The Spanish ruled this often ignored island from the mid nineteenth century until 1968. A booming plantation economy led to the arrival of several hundred thousand West African principally Nigerian contract workers on steamships and canoes. In Touts Enrique Martino traces the confusing transition from slavery to other labor regimes paying particular attention to the labor brokers and their financial logistical and clandestine techniques for bringing workers to the island. Martino combines multi-sited archival research with the concept of touts as lumpen brokers to offer a detailed study of how commercial labor relations could develop, shift and collapse through the recruiters' own techniques such as large wage advances and elaborate deceptions. The result is a pathbreaking reconnection of labor mobility, contract law, informal credit structures and exchange practices in African history.      Jane's World Railways, 1987      Migrant Labour in South Africa's Mining Economy Alan H. Jeeves, 1985-06-01 In tracing the development of the recruiting system Alan Jeeves shows how a large proportion of the labour supply came to be controlled by private labour companies and recruiting agents who aimed both to exploit the workers and to extract heavy fees from the employing companies. The gold industry struggled for years against the internal divisions which created the competition for labour until at last the Chamber of Mines with the support of the state succeeded in driving out the private recruiters and centralizing the system under its control. This study of the interests involved in the struggle for control of the black labour supply reveals much about the forces which created and now entrench racial domination in South Africa's industrial economy.      Botswana Yellow Pages & Business White Pages, 2008      Long Walk to Nowhere Philip Frankel, 2017-07-05 The end of apartheid has triggered massive illegal immigration into South Africa from all parts of Africa and beyond. Along with urbanization and internal migration the end of apartheid has encouraged human smuggling and the trafficking of men, women and children into the commercial sex market and various sectors of the economy from mining to agriculture and the service industries. Long Walk to Nowhere analyses the impact of these developments on Nelson Mandela's vision for a democratic South Africa. Frankel explores human rights, the political culture, public health, the criminal justice system and institutional development as South Africa moves into its third decade after liberation. Using migration and human trafficking as barometers for democratic success, Frankel establishes that South Africa has become more unstable under two post-Mandela presidencies. The book covers the three major modes of human trafficking: commercial sex trafficking, child trafficking and labour trafficking. It also looks at the dynamics of trafficking with a perpetrator focus, the complex issues of dominance and the policy responses in light of South Africa's first comprehensive
