Becker, 2007-08-05 I Remember one of French writer Georges Perec s most famous pieces consists of 480 numbered paragraphs each just a few short lines recalling a memory from his childhood The work has neither a beginning nor an end Nor does it contain any analysis But it nonetheless reveals profound truths about French society during the 1940s and 50s Taking Perec s book as its cue Telling About Society explores the unconventional ways we communicate what we know about society to others The third in distinguished teacher Howard Becker s best selling series of writing guides for social scientists the book explores the many ways knowledge about society can be shared and interpreted through different forms of telling fiction films photographs maps even mathematical models many of which remain outside the boundaries of conventional social science Eight case studies including the photographs of Walker Evans the plays of George Bernard Shaw the novels of Jane Austen and Italo Calvino and the sociology of Erving Goffman provide convincing support for Becker s argument that every way of telling about society is perfect for some purpose The trick is as Becker notes to discover what purpose is served by doing it this way rather than that With Becker s
