stained glass artists in Europe and the Americas and the transformation of stained glass from religious decoration to secular material culture Unique features of the book include its geographic breadth encompassing England France Italy USA and Mexico and its inclusion of American female glassmakers Essays consider how stained glass became an art form during this time and show how the narrative for the figurative design drew from the Bible mythology history literature and the symbolism of the time including popular culture such as ecology and materiality Written for students and the general public interested in the humanities literature history art history and new media and popular culture this book examines the visual beauty and symbolism of stained glass windows in Europe and American cultures during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the modern era The Woman Saint in Spanish Golden Age Drama Christopher D. represented in major museums and art galleries as well as in numerous private collections Her work hitherto considered on a purely decorative level merits closer attention For the first time this volume argues the relevance of Spilsbury's religious background and in particular her evangelical and Moravian connections to the interpretation of her art and examines her pervasive and often inovert references to the Bible hymnody and religious writing The art that emerges is distinctly Protestant and evangelical offering a vivid illustration of the mood of patriotic Protestant fervour that characterized the quarter century succeeding the French revolution This focus may be situated in the general context of increasing interest in the religious faith of historical actors men and women in the eighteenth century and in the related contexts of growing acknowledgement of a religious aspect to enlightenment art as well as investigations into Protestant culture in Ireland The book is extensively illustrated and contains a list of all of Spilsbury s known works The Cult of Saint Katherine of Alexandria in Late-Medieval Nuremberg Anne Simon, 2016-03-16 Katherine of Alexandria was a major object of devotion within medieval Europe ranking second only to the Virgin Mary in the canon of female saints Yet despite her undoubted importance relatively little is known about the significance and function of her cult within the German speaking territories that stood at the heart of Europe Anne Simon's study adds a welcome new interdisciplinary perspective to the study of Saint Katherine and the wider ecclesiastical landscape of a medieval Europe poised on the edge of religious change Taking as a case study the wealthy and politically influential merchant city of Nuremberg this book draws on a wide variety of textual and visual sources to explore interrelated themes the shaping of urban space through the cult of Saint Katherine her role in the moulding and advertising patrician identity and alliances through cultural patronage and patrician use of the saint to showcase the city's political economic cultural and religious importance at the heart of the Holy Roman Empire Further the book reveals the construction of exemplarity in Saint Katherine's legend and miracles and their resonance within the context of the city and the Dominican Convent of Saint Katherine whose nuns came from the same status aware confident patrician elite that so loyally supported successive Emperors Filling a significant gap in current research the work has much to offer scholars of medieval history hagiography art history German studies cultural and urban studies Hence it not only expands our understanding of Saint Katherine's importance in German speaking territories but also adds to the picture of her cult in Imaging the Other Marie A. Conn, Thérèse McGuire, 2009-12-11 Imaging the Other Essays on its European perspective Diversity emerged from Nancy Porter's essay in Conn and McGuire's second collection of essays Not Etched in Stone Essays on Ritual Memory Soul and Society Porter explored the creation of the other as the basis for conflict among humans In the present collection each author considered the general theme in the context of her or his own background interests and research At a time when much of the world is in turmoil these essays speak of the other how we create categories the consequences of such categories and ways of re imaging those who for whatever reason are different from us Each essay in this collection stands on its own and grows out of the author's unique discipline and experience however these essays intersect with each other in many intriguing ways
