Challenges Associated with Cross-Cultural and

At-Risk Student Engagement Gordon, Richard K., Akutsu, Taichi, McDermott, J. Cynthia, Lalas, Jose W., 2016-12-12 Creating a meaningful and interactive learning environment is a complex task for any educator. However, once this is accomplished, students have the chance to receive enhanced opportunities for knowledge development and retention. Challenges Associated with Cross Cultural and At Risk Student Engagement provides a comprehensive examination on emerging strategies for optimizing instructional environments in modern school systems and emphasizes the role that intercultural education plays in this endeavor. Highlighting research perspectives across numerous topics such as curriculum design, student teacher interaction, and critical pedagogies, this book is an ideal reference source for professionals, academics, educators, school administrators, and practitioners interested in academic success in high stakes assessment environments. The Role of Teacher Interpersonal Variables in Students' Academic Engagement, Success, and Motivation Ali Derakhshan, Reza Pishghadam, Anna Mystkowska-Wiertelak, 2022-07-05 Student Engagement and Participation: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources, 2017-06-19 The delivery of quality education to students relies heavily on the actions of an institution's administrative staff. Effective teaching strategies allow for the continued progress of modern educational initiatives. Student Engagement and Participation: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications provides comprehensive research perspectives on the multi-faceted issues of student engagement and involvement within the education sector. Including innovative studies on learning environments, self-regulation, and classroom management, this multi-volume book is an ideal source for educators, professionals, school administrators, researchers, and practitioners in the field of education. Written Corrective Feedback: The Role of Learner Engagement Alia Moser, 2020-12-21 The book provides new insights into written corrective feedback by describing students' expectations as well as mediating factors that influence their engagement with it. The book draws on an extensive dataset to illustrate secondary school students' behavioural, cognitive, and emotional engagement with written corrective feedback and the extent to which mediating factors such as teachers, peers, feedback options, attitudes, and emotions foster or hinder it. It shows why teachers need to provide students with the purpose of the corrective feedback they provide, explain how such feedback works, and introduce strategies that can be employed to engage with it. Based on the finding that a combination of several feedback types is essential to ensure learner engagement, the book also provides an extensive description and multiple authentic examples of the Engagement Feedback Mediator Model that was developed in the context of this study. Finland's Famous Education System Martin Thrupp, Piia Seppänen, Jaakko Kauko, Sonja Kosunen, 2023-03-01 This open access book provides academic insights and serves as a platform for research-informed discussion about education in Finland. Bringing together the work of more than 50 authors across 28 chapters, it presents a major collection of critical views of the Finnish education system and topics that cohere around social justice concerns. It questions rhetoric, myths, and commonly held assumptions surrounding Finnish schooling. This book draws on the fields of sociology of education, education policy, urban studies and policy sociology It makes use of a range of research methodologies including ethnography case study and discourse analysis and references the work of relevant theorists including Bourdieu and Foucault This book aims to provide a critical updated and astute analysis of the strengths and challenges of the Finnish education system Student

Engagement in Neoliberal Times Nick Zepke, 2016-12-14 This book investigates origins meanings uses and effects of student engagement in higher education and addresses three core questions 1 Why is student engagement so visible in higher education today 2 What are its dominant characteristics 3 What is missing in the popular view of student engagement These questions pave the way for a fresh approach to student engagement The book argues that an elective affinity between student engagement and policies embedded in neoliberalism the dominant ideology of the early 21st century enables student engagement to transcend diverse intellectual and practice contexts This affinity encourages quality learning and teaching that enables student to succeed in their studies and future careers The book shows that focusing on neoliberal objectives for learning and teaching limits the potential of student engagement in higher education This conclusion leads to a critical and practical social ecological perspective that approaches engagement more as a pathway to social justice than as a list of techniques This book is a work of critical scholarship backed by empirical research It questions accepted theories and practices and offers fresh insights into student engagement in higher education including how engagement could promote social justice The Influence of Teacher-Student Relationships and Feedback on Students' Engagement with Learning

Roger Wood, 2018-06-11 This book presents a potential hierarchy between the three basic psychological needs central to Self Determination Theory SDT Findings from the author's research suggest that the motivation to exercise autonomy is an outcome that is cumulatively influenced by the perceived quality of the teacher student relationship and students perceived competence within specific learning contexts and with a specific teacher These findings are the basis for three hypotheses regarding students motivation to engage with learning activities The first is that perceived competence is informed by and reciprocally informs the quality of the teacher student relationship The second is that students perceived competence and the quality of the teacher student relationship have a combined impact upon students autonomous motivation The final posit is that a teacher can be autonomy supportive both prior to and during activities where students have opportunities to exercise their autonomy Such autonomy support includes the influence of teacher feedback upon students perceived competence and their subsequent motivation to autonomously engage with learning activities This research begins to unravel such motivational interplay through an SDT informed model which is used as the basis for discussing the specific influence of teacher feedback and autonomy support upon students engagement with learning activities in formal learning settings The findings and model are worthy of further testing and development as part of the wider agenda of student engagement wellbeing and positive psychology prevalent in educational research education psychology and the philosophy of social motivation
