

Glory Movie Questions

1. How does the attitude of Colonel Robert Gould Shaw toward African-Americans change and why?

Colonel Shaw's attitude toward African-Americans changes over the course of the movie. At first, he is a white supremacist and believes that African-Americans are inferior to white people. However, as he spends more time with the 54th Massachusetts Infantry, he begins to see them as individuals and not just as a race. This change in attitude is what allows him to lead the regiment with respect and dignity.

2. What differences exist among the black soldiers who make up the 54th Massachusetts Infantry? What does this tell you about the different experiences of blacks in 19th-century America? Think about their regions of origin, former status (enslaved), and educational background.

The 54th Massachusetts Infantry was a regiment of African-American soldiers who fought in the American Civil War. The regiment was made up of men from different parts of the country, including the North and South. This diversity of background and experience is what makes the regiment so unique.

3. What attitudes did white soldiers have about the 54th? Did these attitudes change and why?

At first, the white soldiers in the 54th were very hostile to the African-American soldiers. They believed that they were inferior and that they should not be allowed to fight alongside them. However, as the white soldiers spent more time with the 54th, they began to see them as individuals and not just as a race. This change in attitude is what allows the 54th to fight as a unified unit.

4. Were blacks treated equally to whites in the Union army? Explain.

No, blacks were not treated equally to whites in the Union army. They were paid less than white soldiers and were often given the most dangerous and difficult assignments. However, the 54th Massachusetts Infantry was the first African-American regiment to be recognized as a fighting unit by the Union army.

5. What is significant about Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse pay for himself?

Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse pay for himself is significant because it shows that he was willing to sacrifice for his men. He believed that the 54th was a fighting unit and that they deserved the same pay as white soldiers.

6. Did that incident end as you expected? What feelings/arguments come over you last night?

The incident ended as I expected. The 54th was recognized as a fighting unit and they were paid the same as white soldiers. This was a significant step forward for African-Americans in the Union army. The movie is a powerful story of courage and sacrifice.
