Masters and Servants on the Cape Eastern Frontier, 1760-1803 Susan Newton-King, 1999-07-08 A history of the conquest and servitude of the Khoisan in the Cape eastern frontier Landscape, Environment and Technology in Colonial and Postcolonial Africa Toyin Falola, Emily Brownell, 2013-03-01 This volume seeks to identify and examine two categories of colonial and postcolonial knowledge production about Africa These two broad categories are environment and landscape and both are useful and problematic to explore Discussions about African environments often concentrate on Africans as perpetrators of their own land causing degradation from lack of knowledge and technology Landscape defines the category of knowledge produced by foreigners about Africa where Africans remain part of the scenery and yield no agency over their surroundings To flesh out these categories and explore their creation and how they have been deployed to shape colonial and postcolonial discourses on Africa this volume investigates the technological pastoral the points of convergence and conflict between Western notions of pastoral Africa and the introduction of colonial technology scientific ideas and commodification of land and animals Pacifying Missions , 2023-03-13 Pacifying Missions provides the first sustained examination of peace and missionary work in the context of the British Empire It interrogates diverse missionary projects from Africa and the Pacific region unfolding a variegated world of ideas discourses and actions The volume yields compelling evidence for a reconsideration of peace as a vital focus for analysis in the history of Christian mission It also reveals a landscape of peace that was plural dynamic and contested worked out in specific contexts and deeply entangled with understandings and experiences of violence Contributors to this volume are Geoffrey Troughton Elizabeth Elbourne Jane Samson David Maxwell Norman Etherington Esme Cleall Amy Stambach Joanna Cruickshank and Bronwyn Shepherd Fading Footprints José Manuel de Prada-Samper, 2025-03-12 That summer afternoon I had no way of knowing the book would radically alter my existence Yet that proved to be the case A wind that had begun to blow from a faraway place a long time ago had finally caught up with me So writes folklorist Jos Manuel de Prada Samper about a chance discovery more than thirty years ago of an obscure book called Specimens of Bushman Folklore in a second hand bookshop in England Part historical detective story part memoir Fading Footprints traces the author s journey into the magical folklore of the xam hunter gatherers of the Upper Karoo Through archival research and on field trips in South Africa de Prada Samper reveals the tragic scope of the genocide of the xam San by European colonisers However he is also able to humanise the xam as he delves into the work and lives of researchers Wilhelm Bleek and Lucy Lloyd who recorded the stories of San prisoners in Cape Town over more than a decade in the late 1800s Determined to seek out the ancient folklore tales the author travels to forgotten corners of the Northern Cape There he learns that many stories are still told to this day by farm workers and that contrary to common belief the culture and traditions of South Africa s first people are still very much alive Their footprints may have faded but they have not been erased Slavery, Emancipation and Colonial Rule in South Africa Wayne Dooling, 2008 Slavery Emancipation and

Colonial Rule in South Africa examines the rural Cape Colony from the earliest days of Dutch colonial rule in the mid seventeenth century to the outbreak of the South African War in 1899 For slaves and slave owners alike incorporation into the British Empire at the beginning of the nineteenth century brought fruits that were bittersweet The gentry had initially done well by accepting British rule but were ultimately faced with the legislated ending of servile labor To slaves and Khoisan servants British rule brought freedom but a freedom that remained limited The gentry accomplished this feat only with great difficulty Increasingly their dominance of the countryside was threatened by English speaking merchants and money lenders a challenge that stimulated early Afrikaner nationalism The alliances that ensured nineteenth century colonial stability all but fell apart as the descendants of slaves and Khoisan turned on their erstwhile masters during the South African War of 1899 1902 Land Rights, Ethno-nationality and Sovereignty in History Stanley Engerman, Jacob Metzer, 2004-08-02 The complex relationships between ethno nationality rights to land and territorial sovereignty have long fed disputes over territorial control and landed rights between different nations ethnicities and religions These disputes raise a number of interesting issues related to the nature of land regimes and to their economic and political implications The studies drawn together in this key volume explore these and related issues for a broad variety of countries and times They illuminate the diverse causes of ethno national land disputes and the different forms of adjustment and accommodation to the power differences between the contesting groups This is done within a framework outlined by the editors in their analytical overview which offers contours for comparative examinations of such disputes past and present Providing conceptual and factual analyses of comparative nature and wealth of empirical material both historical and contemporary this book will appeal to economic historians economists political scientists sociologists anthropologists and all scholars interested in issues concerning ethno nationality and land rights in historical perspective The Atlantic World D'Maris Coffman, Adrian Leonard, William O'Reilly, 2014-12-05 As the meeting point between Europe colonial America and Africa the history of the Atlantic world is a constantly shifting arena but one which has been a focus of huge and vibrant debate for many years In over thirty chapters all written by experts in the field The Atlantic World takes up these debates and gathers together key original scholarship to provide an authoritative survey of this increasingly popular area of world history The book takes a thematic approach to topics including exploration migration and cultural encounters In the first chapters scholars examine the interactions between groups which converged in the Atlantic world such as slaves European migrants and Native Americans The volume then considers questions such as finance money and commerce in the Atlantic world as well as warfare government and religion The collection closes with chapters examining how ideas circulated across and around the Atlantic and beyond It presents the Atlantic as a shared space in which commodities and ideas were exchanged and traded and examines the impact that these exchanges had on both people and places Including an introductory essay from the editors which defines the field and lavishly illustrated with paintings drawings and maps this accessible volume is invaluable reading for all students and scholars of this broad sweep of world history Decolonising Schools in South Africa Pam Christie, 2020-06-07 This book explores the challenge of dismantling colonial schooling and how entangled power relations of the past have lingered in post apartheid South Africa It examines the on the ground history of colonialism from the vantage point of a small town in the Karoo region showing how patterns of possession and dispossession have played out in the municipality and schools Using the strong political and ontological critique of decoloniality theories the book demonstrates the ways in which government interventions over many years have allowed colonial relations and the construction of racialised differences to linger in new forms including unequal access to schooling Written in an accessible style the book considers how the dream of decolonial schooling might be realised from the vantage point of research on the margins This Karoo region also offers an interesting case study as the site where the world s largest radio telescope was recently located and highlights the contrasting logics of international big science and local development needs This book will be of interest to academics and scholars in the education field as well as to social geographers sociologists human geographers historians and policy makers Chapters 1 and 10 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license San Representation Keyan Tomaselli, Michael Wessels, 2017-12-22 The San or Bushmen of southern Africa have exerted a fascination over generations of writers and scholars from novelists and anarchists to ethnologists and geneticists and also occupy a special place in the popular imagination as the First People and the contemporary remnant of spiritual and natural man The ways in which particular groups of people from southern Africa have been traditionally categorised and positioned as objects of scrutiny by a range of academic disciplines is increasingly being contested and questioned There is a growing awareness of the cultural economic and genetic entanglement of the peoples of the region This book examines how San and Khoe people are represented by others as well as by those who identify as San or Khoe The book interrogates the ways in which disciplines through their methodologies and ways of authorising knowledge not only discover or reveal knowledge but produce it in ways that involve complex and often ambiguous relationships with power structures and forms of intellectual symbolic and cultural capital One major trend that emerges is that the San and Khoe can no longer be seen as people of the past but have to be acknowledged as contemporary and socially situated individuals and communities who are increasingly contesting the representations which others have imposed on them This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Arts: A Journal of South North Cultural and Media Studies Rethinking South Africa's Past Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-03-18 This book presents key historical scholarship published in Safundi from 1999 to 2024 tracing South Africa s past through approaches of comparative history transnational history and visual history in addition to addressing the importance of topics like gender labor and class dynamics as well as regional historiographies The first section of the book focuses on comparative history as a founding method for Safundi given the journal s origins in American and South African studies while also recalibrating this approach through a variety of topics cities biographies and practices of violence rather than nation states writ large Drawing upon innovative sources of evidence the second section moves beyond the comparative method to address transnational histories as a new narrative technique for storytelling and analysis Whether issues of education immigration or visiting musicians to South Africa these chapters demonstrate the importance of a post national approach for understanding the past The sections that follow fan out into other subject areas including the uses of visual history gender roles class cultures and environmental history all of which illuminate connections between South African history and other parts of the world This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa s complex history over the past several centuries

Quantitative History and Uncharted People Johan Fourie, 2023-08-10 One of the biggest challenges in the study of history is the unreliable nature of traditional archival sources which omit histories of marginalised groups This book makes the case that quantitative history offers a way to fill these gaps in the archive Showcasing 13 case studies from the South African past it applies quantitative sources tools and methods to social histories from below to uncover the experiences of unchartered peoples Examining the occupations of slaves victims of the Spanish flu health of schoolchildren and more it shows how quantitative tools can be particularly powerful in regions where historical records are preserved but questions of bias and prejudice pervade Applying methods such as GIS mapping network analysis and algorithmic matching techniques it explores histories of indigenous peoples women enslaved peoples and other groups marginalised in South African history Connecting quantitative sources and new forms of data interpretation with a narrative social history this book offers a fresh approach to quantitative methods and shows how they can be used to achieve a more complete picture of the past

Rediscovering the British World Phillip Alfred Buckner, R. Douglas Francis, 2005 Rediscovering the British World is one part of an ongoing attempt to approach British Imperial history from a different viewpoint placing the colonies of settlement at the centre Editors Phillip Buckner and Douglas Francis have included nineteen essays from expert scholars in the field which cover a broad range of cultural social and intellectual topics in British imperial history from the mid nineteenth to the mid twentieth century The essays focus on the history of Britain and the Empire with considerable emphasis on the self governing dominions of Canada South Africa Australia and New Zealand They attempt to show the centrality of the Empire in the history of the nations created by the British diaspora overseas while at the same time calling into question the extent of the existence of a British World The goal is not to wax nostalgic but rather to re examine the complex phenomenon of this far reaching empire and to shed light on the ways in which it has shaped our world With contributions by James Belich Frank Bongiorno Bettina Bradbury Patrick H Brennan Phillip Buckner Elizabeth Elbourne R Douglas Francis Jeffrey Grey Catherine Hall John Lambert Douglas Lorimer David Lowe Stuart Macintyre Adele Perry Paul Pickering Satadru Sen R Scott Sheffield Paul Ward Stuart Ward Wendy Webster

The Lower !Garib - Orange River Luregn Lenggenhager, Martha Akawa, Giorgio Miescher, Romie Nghitevelekwa, Ndidzulafhi Innocent Sinthumule, 2023-06-02 The Lower Garib or Orange River flows through the historical Namaqualand and since 1990 has formed the international border between Namibia and South Africa The contributors to this volume focus on this hardly discussed stretch of the Orange River to understand the region's social history geography and economy This book brings together scholars from Namibia South Africa and overseas as well as the knowledge and analysis from people living in the region In concise chapters and short portraits they discuss the region's past and present from a variety of perspectives

Writing the South African San Lara Atkin, 2022-01-01 This book offers an innovative new framework for reading British and settler representations of Indigenous peoples in the nineteenth century Taking the representation of the Southern African San as its case study it uses methodologies drawn from critical anthropology imperial history and literary studies to show the role that literary representations of Indigenous peoples played in popularising the hierarchical view of racial difference The study identifies an ethnographic poetics in which the claims of scientific discourse blend with a consciously literary preference for metaphor and analogy This created a set of mobile figures that could be disseminated to different reading publics in both Britain and the colonies through a variety of literary genres and textual media It advances research on race and imperial history by focusing on the importance of literature from newspapers and periodicals to popular novels in shaping discourses of national and racial belonging in Britain and the Cape Colony

The Anatomy of a South African Genocide Mohamed Adhikari, 2011-09-16 In 1998 David Kruiper the leader of the Khomani San who today live in the Kalahari Desert in South Africa lamented We have been made into nothing His comment applies equally to the fate of all the hunter gatherer societies of the Cape Colony who were destroyed by the impact of European colonialism Until relatively recently the extermination of the Cape San peoples has been treated as little more than a footnote to South African narratives of colonial conquest During the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Dutch speaking pastoralists who infiltrated the Cape interior dispossessed its aboriginal inhabitants In response to indigenous resistance colonists formed mounted militia units known as commandos with the express purpose of destroying San bands This ensured the virtual extinction of the Cape San peoples In The Anatomy of a South African Genocide Mohamed Adhikari examines the history of the San and persuasively presents the annihilation of Cape San society as genocide

Transformations in Slavery Paul E. Lovejoy, 2011-10-10 This history of African slavery from the fifteenth to the early twentieth centuries examines how indigenous African slavery developed within an international context Paul E Lovejoy discusses the medieval Islamic slave trade and the Atlantic trade as well as the enslavement process and the marketing of slaves He considers the impact of European abolition and assesses slavery's role in African history The book corrects the accepted interpretation that African slavery was mild and resulted in the slaves assimilation Instead slaves were used extensively in production although the exploitation methods and the relationships to world markets differed from those in the Americas Nevertheless slavery in Africa like slavery in the Americas developed from its position on the periphery of capitalist Europe This new edition revises all statistical material on the slave trade demography and incorporates recent research and an updated bibliography

Witchcraft and Colonial Rule in Kenya, 1900-1955 Katherine Luongo, 2011-09-26 Focusing on colonial Kenya this book shows how conflicts between state authorities and Africans over witchcraft related crimes provided an important space in which the meanings of justice law and order in the empire were debated Katherine Luongo discusses the emergence of imperial networks of knowledge about witchcraft She then demonstrates how colonial concerns about witchcraft produced an elaborate body of jurisprudence about capital crimes The book analyzes the legal wrangling that produced the Witchcraft Ordinances in the 1910s the birth of an anthro administrative complex surrounding witchcraft in the 1920s the hotly contested Wakamba Witch Trials of the 1930s the explosive growth of legal opinion on witch murder in the 1940s and the unprecedented state sponsored cleansings of witches and Mau Mau adherents during the 1950s A work of anthropological history this book develops an ethnography of Kamba witchcraft or uoi
