The Architectural Review ,1899 American Architect and the Architectural Review ,1928 The American Architect and the Architectural Review ,1921 Material Architecture John Fernandez,2012-08-21 Composed of a series of essays this book deals with the broad issues affecting the nature of architectural materials and provides a focused review of the state of the art materials It also provides designers with the tools they need to evaluate and select from the thousands of different materials that are available to them The book is organized into three sections Time looks at how the materials used in architectural design have changed over the years showing how we have come to use the materials we do in contemporary design Materials covers all five material families metals polymers ceramics composites and natural materials giving in depth information on their properties behavior origins and uses in design It also introduces a review of the cutting edge research for each family Systems outlines the technical design orientated research that uncovers how new architectural assemblies can be designed and engineered All of this practical advice is given along with many real case examples illustrating how this knowledge and information has been and can be used in architectural design The Architectural Review and American Builders' Journal Samuel Sloan,1869 Material Architecture John Fernandez,2006 Composed of a series of essays this book deals with the broad issues affecting the nature of architectural materials and provides a focused review of the state of the art materials It also provides designers with the tools they need to evaluate and select from the thousands of different materials that are available to them The book is organized into three sections Time looks at how the materials used in architectural design have changed over the years showing how we have come to use the materials we do in contemporary design Materials covers all five material families metals polymers ceramics composites and natural materials giving in depth information on their properties behavior origins and uses in design It also introduces a review of the cutting edge research for each family Systems outlines the technical design orientated research that uncovers how new architectural assemblies can be designed and engineered All of this practical advice is given along with many real case examples illustrating how this knowledge and information has been and can be used in architectural design The Architectural Review ,2005 Materials, Form and Architecture Richard Weston,2003-01-01 First published in Great Britain in 2003 by Laurence King Publishing Ltd London T p verso Building News and Architectural Review ,1862 Architecture for the Screen Juan Antonio Ramírez,2012-03-28 Most of us have never found ourselves trapped inside a burning skyscraper or entombed within an Egyptian pyramid but we probably have some idea of what it would be like because of their portrayal on screen The movies have overcome the constraints of time and place by bringing us images of diverse and otherwise unfamiliar settings This work covers the many applications of art and architecture appearing in the movies produced in

Hollywood from the very beginning until the fifties The first chapters deal with the process of design construction physical characteristics and immediate functions of a wide variety of architectural sets The remaining chapters examine the great number of styles shown in those movies and take the reader up to the final triumph of modernist architecture in the aftermath of the Second World War

Design for Rethinking Resources Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen, Carlo Ratti, Martin Tamke, 2023-11-16 The book provides new perspectives from leading researchers accentuating and examining the central role of the built environment in conceiving and implementing multifaceted solutions for the complex challenges of our understanding of planetary resources and circularity revealing critical potentials for architecture and design to contribute in more informed and long term ways to the urgent transition of our society The book offers a compilation of peer reviewed papers that uniquely connects knowledge broadly across practice and academia from the newest technologies and methods such as the role of digital modelling analysis and fabrication in circular design i e material passports cyber physical augmentation and LCA to the potentials of growing and harvesting biomass materials engaging waste streams in material production and more all in context of economic social and ecological potentials and consequences The book is part of a series of six volumes that explore the agency of the built environment in relation to the SDGs through new research conducted by leading researchers The series is led by editors Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen and Martin Tamke in collaboration with the theme editors Design for Climate Adaptation Billie Faircloth and Maibritt Pedersen Zari Design for Rethinking Resources Carlo Ratti and Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen Eds Design for Resilient Communities Anna Rubbo and Juan Du Eds Design for Health Arif Hasan and Christian Benimana Eds Design for Inclusivity Magda Mostafa and Ruth Baumeister Eds Design for Partnerships for Change Sandi Hilal and Merve Bedir Eds

As Seen Zoë Ryan, 2017-01-01 Exhibitions have long played a crucial role in defining disciplinary histories This fascinating volume examines the impact of eleven groundbreaking architecture and design exhibitions held between 1956 and 2006 revealing how they have shaped contemporary understanding and practice of these fields Featuring written and photographic descriptions of the shows and illuminating essays from noted curators scholars critics designers and theorists As Seen Exhibitions that Made Architecture and Design History explores the multifaceted ways in which exhibitions have reflected on contemporary dilemmas and opened up new processes and ways of working Providing a fresh perspective on some of the most important exhibitions of the 20th century from America Europe and Japan including This Is Tomorrow Expo 70 and Massive Change this book offers a new framework for thinking about how exhibitions can function as a transformative force in the field of architecture and design

Walter Gropius in Britain Alborz Dianat, 2025-03-31 As the first monograph dedicated to Walter Gropius s activity in Britain this book provides a comprehensive account of the Bauhaus founder s contributions to architecture and design while living in London between 1934 and 1937 Drawing on earlier and later decades this reveals the close contact between British German and American design circles with Gropius bridging parallel developments In its approach this book concentrates on the individuals working to aid Gropius in Britain and spurring the architect's enduring dominance in English language histories. This includes his architectural partner Maxwell Fry, his translator P. Morton Shand, his employer Jack Pritchard, and many other prominent figures such as Frank Pick, Herbert Read, Elizabeth Denby, and Henry Morris. The vital role of Gropius's wife Ise is also highlighted, particularly as her English language capabilities far exceeded his. By uncovering this wider network, the collaborative nature of his success is demonstrated. Such an approach reveals Gropius's contributions beyond buildings to various debates in the period. These spanned subjects including standardisation, prefabrication, democratisation, the planning of high rises, the influence of commercialism, and the reform of architectural education and practice. Beyond design discourse, the broader impact of nationalism is considered, with the support Gropius received contrasted against the attacks Jewish migrants endured. This book will appeal to those interested in the Bauhaus, interwar Britain, architectural media, and emigration studies. By applying revisionist approaches and highlighting the importance of discourse beyond built forms, this book advances our knowledge of the period. The transnational focus holds significance for architectural developments in Germany, Britain, and America following Gropius's trajectory. While concentrated primarily on the interwar period, the postwar impact of exchanges is revealed, leading up until Gropius's death in 1969.

Material Imagination Natalie Adamson, Steven Harris, 2017-07-24. Material Imagination examines the interrelated concepts of matter, materialism, and materiality in postwar European art from 1946-1972. It provides a unique perspective on European art by prioritizing material dimensions over concept or context, while also paying attention to theoretical and historical concerns. It explores artists' methods and materials in order to better understand the social and cultural environments in which their works of art were made. It demonstrates how materials can be harnessed to affect the critical interpretation of artwork. It brings together exceptional illustrations and new research in eight essays by art historians and scholars.

Vertical Living Julia Gatley, Paul Walker, 2014-09-01. In 1946, a group of students and idealists got together to realize their visions for a modern city. Over the following half century, the Architectural Centre they founded helped shape the possibilities of modern life in urban New Zealand and profoundly influenced the remaking of the capital city of Wellington. More than just an association of architects, the Centre furthered education, published a magazine, Design Review, hosted modernist exhibitions in its gallery, staged an audacious campaign for political influence called the Project, and fought for better planning, better design, and better built environments in Wellington. Charting these activists and their projects over the years, Julia Gatley and Paul Walker also offer a history of urban Wellington from the 1940s to the 1990s and beyond. The book reminds us that in modernist ideology, architecture and urban planning went hand in hand with visual and craft arts, graphic and industrial design. In recovering the multidisciplinary history, politics, and planning of the Architectural Centre, Gatley and Walker begin writing the city back into the history of architecture in New Zealand.

Conservation of Clay and Chalk Buildings Gordon T. Pearson, 2015-11-17. This publication provides practical guidance on appropriate methods of conservation and repair of earth buildings using traditional building materials.

It is the first major work on the subject since Clough Williams Ellis and the Eastwick Fields published Building in Cob Pise and Stabilized Earth in 1947. The book deals with the nature of clay and chalk, their qualities and characteristics, and the way in which they have been used to construct buildings. Advice is given on soils analysis, the philosophy of repair techniques, and the factors to be considered before altering, converting, or extending an earth building. The author primarily advocates repair techniques using traditional materials, but he also considers the role played by certain modern materials and assesses their suitability.
