Maternal Pasts Feminist Futures Nostalgia Ethics And The Question Of Difference:

Maternal Pasts, Feminist Futures Lynne Huffer, 1998 This book examines the relations among nostalgia gender and foundational philosophies through a critique of the lost mother as a ground for thinking about sexual difference More specifically the author critiques the nostalgic tendencies of feminist theory arguing that an emancipatory system of thought must move beyond a maternally oriented structure Through close readings of works by Maurice Blanchot Luce Irigaray Julia Kristeva and Nicole Brossard the book elucidates the many dimensions of nostalgic paradigms literary psychoanalytic epistemological ontological and sociopolitical This critique ultimately confronts postmodernism and especially the burgeoning field of performative theory as an intellectual paradigm that claims to subvert systems of meaning Analyzing the writings of J L Austin Judith Butler and Irigaray the author argues that despite its antinostalgic structure performative theory provides an inadequate model for understanding the connections among language identity and the social bonds that constitute the ethical and political sphere Asserting through the example of performative theory that a critique is not enough the book examines the possibility of a constructive model that is both non nostalgic and informed by ethical constraints One such model is offered through a reading of the Quebecois writer Nicole Brossard which explores her work in relation to the question of lesbian writing Demystifying nostalgia Brossard not only uncovers and subverts the structures through which a concept of origins is produced but also provides a different visionary way of thinking about the relationship between subjectivity and language Finally the book argues for further feminist work on the relationship between narrative and ethics a field whose future lies in the elaboration of a bridge between the moral commitments of ethical theory and the fractured realities that find their expression in literary forms Ethics and Nostalgia in the Contemporary Novel John J.

Su, 2005-11-24 Images of loss and yearning played a crucial role in literary texts written in the later part of the twentieth century Despite deep cultural differences novelists from Africa the Caribbean Great Britain and the United States share a sense that the economic social and political forces associated with late modernity have evoked widespread nostalgia within the communities in which they write In this original and wide ranging study John J Su explores the relationship between nostalgia and ethics in novels across the English speaking world He challenges the tendency in literary studies to characterise memory as positive and nostalgia as necessarily negative Instead this book argues that nostalgic fantasies are crucial to the ethical visions presented by topical novels From Jean Rhys to Wole Soyinka and from V S Naipaul to Toni Morrison Su identifies nostalgia as a central concern in the twentieth century novel Screening Nostalgia Christine Sprengler, 2009 Through a series of detailed visual analyses of popular films the author demonstrates that the visual creation of pastness does not necessarily sever our connection to history as is commonly claimed but can yield new insights into the relationship between the present and the past Modernism and Nostalgia T. Clewell, 2013-07-29 This book addresses the multiple meanings of nostalgia in the literature of the period Whether depicted as an emotion remembrance or fixation these essays demonstrate that the nostalgic impulse reveals how deeply rooted in the damaged the old and the vanishing were the variety of efforts to imagine and produce the new the distinctly modern

Writing in the Feminine in French and English Canada Marie J. Carrière, 2002-01-01 This important work considers the contemporary movement of writing in the feminine by examining the work of five women writers from French and English Canada and the dialogue therein with feminist and psychoanalytic theory and theories of ethics Informing the author s interpretations are the ideas of French theorists Emmanuel Levinas Paul Ricoeur Luce Irigaray and Julia Kristeva as well as American feminists Kelly Oliver and Jessica Benjamin Marie Carri re explores the unfolding complex questions of sexual difference female subjectivity and mother daughter relations She also uncovers and examines the occasional breakdown of the feminist ethics postulated by Nicole Brossard France Theoret Di Brandt Erin Mour and Lola Lemire Tostevin Carri re views these instances of deviation not as a failure of writing in the feminine but as an inevitability in the relatively new intellectual terrain of feminist ethics Writing in the Feminine will be of great interest to scholars of literary theory women s studies and Canadian literature in French and English As a challenging study of the connections between gender and authorship it will also appeal to those who have a particular interest in women s literature

Birth Passages Theresa M. Krier,2001 Birth Passages offers a provocative and eloquent challenge to the nostalgia for the maternal sometimes influenced by classic Freudian theory which pervades many discourses Theresa M Krier suggests an alternative to the common characterizations of the maternal as a force inspiring both desire and dread a force that must be repressed if subjectivity and culture are to be established Instead drawing on the work of Melanie Klein D W Winnicott and Luce Irigaray Krier seeks to establish a new model of the relationship between mother and infant one in which birth is seen not as the tragic ending to the prenatal union but rather as the child s claiming both distance from and proximity to this parent Krier s insightful readings of poetic works from antiquity the Middle Ages and the Renaissance show these texts in opposition to their cultures insistent nostalgia for the maternal Their authors she maintains recognize such longing as a symptom of a glamorous but false and disabling fantasy In her analysis of the Song of Songs Lucretius s De rerum natura Chaucer s Parlement of Foules Spenser s Amoretti and Faerie Queene and Shakespeare s Love s Labor s Lost and The Winter s Tale Krier details how the writings represent the intersubjective nature of birth

Maternal Conceptions in Classical Literature and Philosophy Alison Sharrock,Alison Keith,2020-01-29 Unlike many studies of the family in the ancient world this volume presents readings of mothers in classical literature including philosophical and epigraphic writing as well as poetic texts Rather than relying on a male viewpoint the essays offer a female perspective on the lifecycle of motherhood Although almost all ancient authors are men this book nevertheless aims to carefully unpack the role of the mother not as projected by the son or other male relations but from a woman s own experiences in order to better understand how they perceived themselves and their families Because the primary interest is in the mothers themselves rather than the authors of the texts in which they appear the work is organized according to the lifecycle of motherhood instead of the traditional structure of the chronology of male authors The chronology of the male authors ranges from classical Greece to late antiquity while the motherly lifecycle ranges from pre conception to the commemoration of offspring who have died before their mothers

Unarchived Histories Gyanendra Pandey, 2013-12-17 For some time now scholars have recognized the archive less as a neutral repository of documents of the past and rather more as a politically interested representation of it and recognized that the very act of archiving is accompanied by a process of un archiving Michel Foucault pointed to madness as describing one limit of reason history and the archive This book draws attention to another boundary marked not by exile but by the ordinary and everyday yet trivialized or trifling It is the status of being exiled within by prejudices procedures activities and interactions so fundamental as to not even be noticed that marks the unarchived histories investigated in this volume Bringing together contributions covering South Asia North and South America and North Africa this innovative analysis presents novel interpretations of unfamiliar sources and insightful reconsiderations of well known materials that lie at the centre of many current debates on history and the archive

On Matricide Amber Jacobs, 2007 Despite advances in feminism the law of the father remains the dominant model of Western psychological and cultural analysis and the law of the mother continues to exist as an underdeveloped and marginal concept In her radical rereading of the Greek myth Oresteia Amber Jacobs hopes to rectify the occlusion of the mother and reinforce her role as an active agent in the laws that determine and reinforce our cultural organization According to Greek myth Metis Athena's mother was Zeus's first wife Zeus swallowed Metis to prevent her from bearing children who would overthrow him Nevertheless Metis bore Zeus a child Athena who sprang forth fully formed from his head In Aeschylus's Oresteia Athena's motherless status functions as a crucial justification for absolving Orestes of the crime of matricide In his defense of Orestes Zeus argues that the father is more important than the mother using Athena's motherless birth as an example Conducting a close reading of critical works on Aeschylus's text Jacobs reveals that psychoanalytic theorists have unwittingly reproduced the denial of Metis in their own critiques This repression which can be found in the work of Sigmund Freud and Melanie Klein as well as in the work of more contemporary theorists such as Andr  Green and Luce Irigaray has resulted in both an incomplete analysis of Oresteia and an inability to account for the fantasies and unconscious processes that fall outside the oedipal patricidal paradigm By bringing the story of Athena's mother Metis to the forefront Jacobs challenges the primacy of the Oedipus myth in Western culture and psychoanalysis and introduces a bold new theory of matricide and maternal law She finds that the Metis myth exists in cryptic forms within Aeschylus's text uncovering what she terms the latent content of the Oresteian myth and argues that the occlusion of the law of the mother is proof of the patriarchal structures underlying our contemporary social and psychic realities Jacobs's work not only provides new insight into the Oresteian trilogy but also advances a postpatriarchal model of the symbolic order that has strong ramifications for psychoanalysis feminism and theories of representation as well as for clinical practice and epistemology The Politics of Desire Agust n

Colombo, Edward McGushin, Geoff Pfeifer, 2022-03-28 In his preface to Deleuze and Guattari's Anti Oedipus Michel Foucault notes that in the late sixties there is a turn away from Freud and a movement toward what he calls an experience and technology of desire that is no longer Freudian Foucault Deleuze and Guattari were interested in and engaged with this shift and their collective work in these areas spawned a larger post Freudian literature This book gathers contributions from international scholars with the aim of exploring the social political and philosophical dimension of Deleuze and Guattari's and Foucault's critical encounters with psychoanalytic thought Their possible connections their divergences the fields of reflection that these encounters open and the problems and debates that led Foucault and Deleuze and Guattari to engage with psychoanalysis in the ways that they did In doing so the main goal of the book is not to engage in a critique of the discipline of Psychoanalysis as such but to investigate how Foucault's and Deleuze's critique of Psychoanalysis gives rise to a political reflection that draws on some of Psychoanalysis key notions Among these the concept of Desire is central as it allows us to grasp the different ways in which Foucault and Deleuze politically engage with Psychoanalysis for Deleuze Desire is the element through which Revolution becomes possible whereas for Foucault Desire is a cornerstone of the modern mechanisms of subjection Drawing both on new material like Confessions of the Flesh the 4th volume of Foucault's History of Sexuality and on Foucault and Deleuze main work the book covers a variety of topics including the contrast between Foucault's and

Deleuze political understanding of desire and pleasure the genealogy of desire as a way to investigate the historical shaping of psychoanalysis the relationship between psychoanalysis and the normalizing mechanisms of power e g biopolitics and disciplinary regimes the ways in which psychoanalysis and neoliberalism come together in particular moments the status and role of desire in revolt resistance and transformation Foucault and Deleuze s different approaches to the unconscious the role of desire in the formation of identity etc In the 50th anniversary of Deleuze and Guattari s Anti Oedipus one of the major references that inspires the many chapters in this book we aim to pay homage to these two important figures of contemporary thought by enriching and opening new lines of thought and problematization of the political reflection on Desire that Foucault and Deleuze developed

Revolutionary Time Fanny Söderbäck, 2019-12-01 Examines the relationship between time and sexual difference in the work of French feminists Julia Kristeva and Luce Irigaray This book is the first to examine the relationship between time and sexual difference in the work of Julia Kristeva and Luce Irigaray Because of their association with reproduction embodiment and the survival of the species women have been confined to the cyclical time of nature a temporal model that is said to merely repeat itself Men on the other hand have been seen as bearers of linear time and as capable of change and progress Fanny S derb ck argues that both these temporal models make change impossible because they either repeat or repress the past The model of time developed here revolutionary time aims at returning to and revitalizing the past so as to make possible a dynamic embodied present and a future pregnant with change S derb ck stages an unprecedented conversation between Kristeva and Irigaray on issues of both time and difference and engages thinkers such as Simone de Beauvoir Jacques Derrida Sigmund Freud Judith Butler Hannah Arendt and Plato along the way Revolutionary Time makes a distinctive contribution to contemporary feminist and continental philosophical thought By engaging Kristeva and Irigaray in depth alongside one another and making time the guiding thread for reading their work the author generates insights that are not to be found elsewhere in the existing literature Through its development of the concept of revolutionary time the book offers rich resources for thinking about temporalization in its existential ontological and political dimensions in ways that are particularly valuable for feminist projects of change and political transformation

Reclaiming Nostalgia Jennifer K. Ladino, 2012 Often thought of as the quintessential home or the Eden from which humanity has fallen the natural world has long been a popular object of nostalgic narratives In Reclaiming Nostalgia Jennifer Ladino assesses the ideological effects of this phenomenon by tracing its dominant forms in American literature and culture since the closing of the frontier in 1890 While referencing nostalgia for pastoral communities and for untamed and often violent frontiers she also highlights the ways in which nostalgia for nature has served as a mechanism for social change a model for ethical relationships and a motivating force for social and environmental justice
