Douglas B. Reeves

Maths Literacy Grade 10 June Exam 2014:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience.

Leading Change in Your School Douglas B. Reeves, 2009-04-14 Guiding schools through significant change is one of the toughest challenges educational leaders face but learning from the examples of those who have succeeded can make it less daunting. In Leading Change in Your School distinguished author and researcher Douglas B. Reeves offers lessons learned through his work with educators in thousands of schools around the world and presents real life examples of leaders who have met the challenge of change head on with impressive results for their schools and districts. Readers will also find practical resources for engaging their colleagues in change initiatives. Expanding on a number of his columns in the journal Educational Leadership Reeves offers insights and recommendations in four areas: Creating conditions for change including assessments to determine personal and organizational readiness for change; Planning change including cautionary notes about strategic planning; Implementing change including the importance of moving from rhetoric to day to day reality; and Sustaining change including the need to reorient priorities and values so that individual convenience gives way to a shared sense of the greater good. The change leaders both teachers and administrators whose stories Reeves tells come from varied districts but they share a passion for creating schools that work for all students. They are, Reeves says, people like you sharing similar challenges but perhaps with different results.

The Pedagogy of Standardized Testing Arlo Kempf, 2016-04-29 Based on a large scale international study of teachers in Los Angeles, Chicago, Ontario and New York, this book illustrates the ways increased use of high stakes standardized testing is fundamentally changing education in the US and Canada with a negative overall impact on the way teachers teach and students learn. Standardized testing makes understanding students' strengths and weaknesses more difficult and class time spent on testing consumes scarce time and attention needed to support the success of all students, further disadvantaging ELLs, students with exceptionalities, low income and racially minoritized students.

Handbook of Literacy in Africa R. Malatesha Joshi, Catherine A. McBride, Bestern Kaani, Gad Elbeheri, 2023-07-28 This volume highlights the shortcomings concerning literacy development in Africa and collates the current available literature based on empirical research in various countries in a coherent manner Further emphasized is how the current research can guide practical information to improve the literacy situation in Africa The research studies will encompass various fields such as linguistics neurosciences and education and will provide future research directions and instructional recommendations to improve the literacy situation in Africa

Students of Color and the Achievement Gap Richard R. Valencia, 2015-03-05 Students of Color and the Achievement Gap is a comprehensive landmark analysis of an incontrovertible racialized reality in U S K 12 public education the relentless achievement gap between low socioeconomic students of color and their economically advantaged White counterparts Award winning author and scholar Richard Valencia provides an authoritative and systemic treatment of the achievement gap focusing on Black and Latino Latina students He examines the societal and educational factors that help to create and maintain the achievement gap by drawing from critical race theory an asset based perspective and a systemic inequality approach By showing how racialized opportunity structures in society and schools ultimately result in racialized patterns of academic achievement in schools Valencia shows how the various indicators of the achievement gap are actually symptoms of the societal and school quality gaps Following each of these concerns Valencia provides a number of reform suggestions that can lead to systemic transformations of K 12 education Students of Color and the Achievement Gap makes a persuasive and well documented case that school success for students of color and the empowerment of their parents can only be fully understood and realized when contextualized within broader political economic and cultural frameworks

Frontiers in the Acquisition of Literacy Claire M. Fletcher-Flinn, 2015-09-28 Learning to read and to spell are two of the most important cultural skills that must be acquired by children and for that matter anyone learning a second language We are not born with an innate ability to read A reading system of mental representations that enables us to read must be formed in the brain Learning to read in alphabetic orthographies is the acquisition of such a system which links mental representations of visual symbols letters in print words with pre existing phonological sound and semantic comprehension cognitive systems for language Although spelling draws on the same representational knowledge base and is usually correlated with reading the acquisition processes involved are not quite the same Spelling requires the sequential production of letters in words and at beginning levels there may not be a full degree of integration of phonology with its representation by the orthography Reading on the other hand requires only the recognition of a word for pronunciation Hence spelling is more difficult than reading and learning to spell may necessitate more complete representations or more conscious access to them The learning processes that children use to acquire such cognitive systems in the brain and whether these same processes are universal across different languages and orthographies are central theoretical questions Most children learn to read and spell their language at the same time thus the co ordination of these two facets of literacy acquisition needs explication as well as the effect of different teaching approaches on acquisition Lack of progress in either reading and or spelling is also a major issue of concern for parents and teachers necessitating a cross disciplinary approach to the problem encompassing major efforts from researchers in neuroscience cognitive science experimental psychology and education The purpose of this Research Topic is to summarize and review what has been accomplished so far and to further explore these general issues Contributions from different perspectives are welcomed and could include theoretical computational and empirical works that focus on the acquisition of literacy including cross orthographic research

Child Development at the intersection of Race and SES Volume 57 in the Advances in Child Development and Behavior series presents theoretical and empirical scholarship illuminating how race ethnicity and socioeconomic status intersect to shape children s development and developmental contexts Important chapters in this new release include the Implications of Intersecting Socioeconomic and Racial Identities for Academic Achievement and Well being The home environment of low income Latino children Challenges and opportunities Profiles of race ethnicity and socioeconomic status Implications for ethnic racial identity discrimination and sleep Youths sociopolitical perceptions and mental health Intersections between race class and gender and much more Rather than focusing on the additive effects of race ethnicity and SES which is typical and a limitation in the developmental literature the scholarship in this book considers how the factors and processes shaping the development of children of color can differ markedly across the socioeconomic continuum This collection illustrates how applying an intersectional lens to developmental science can yield unique insights into the challenges confronting and assets buoying both minority and majority children s healthy development

Modulators of Cross-Language Influences in Learning and Processing Anat Prior,Tamar Degani,Zofia Wodniecka,2022-06-01

Mental State Understanding: Individual Differences in Typical and Atypical Development Daniela Bulgarelli,Anne Henning,Paola Molina,2017-09-13

The current book addresses the development of mental state understanding in children with typical and atypical population and reports new suggestions about the way to evaluate it and to support it through training The presented frame is multifaceted In respect to typical populations the role of maternal reflective functioning language communication and educational contexts has been deepened and the association with internalizing externalizing behaviors performances in spatial tasks and pragmatics has been addressed as well As to atypical populations deficits in mental states understanding are reported for children with different developmental disorders or impairments as the agenesis of the corpus callosum Down Syndrome preterm birth Autism Spectrum Disorder hearing impairment and personality difficulties such as anxiety Overall the papers collected in our book allow a better understanding of the mechanisms influencing mental state understanding and the effects of mental state comprehension on development

Function and Education Mariëtte Huizinga,Dieter Baeyens,Jacob A. Burack,2018-09-21 Executive function is an umbrella term for various cognitive processes that are central to goal directed behavior thoughts and emotions These processes are especially important in novel or demanding situations which require a rapid and flexible adjustment of behavior to the changing demands of the environment The development of executive function relies on the maturation of associated brain regions as well as on stimulation in the child s social contexts especially the home and school Over the past decade the term executive function has become a buzzword in the field of education as both researchers and educators underscore the importance of skills like goal setting planning and organizing in academic success Accordingly in initiating this Research Topic and eBook our goal was to provide a forum for state of the art theoretical and empirical work on this that both facilitates communication among researchers from diverse fields and provides a theoretically sound source of information for educators The contributors to this volume who hail from several different countries in Europe and North America have certainly accomplished this goal in their nuanced and cutting edge depictions of the complex links among various executive function components and educational success

A Fight for the Soul of Public Education Steven Ashby,Robert Bruno,2016-11-04 In reaction to the changes imposed on public schools across the country in the name of education reform the Chicago Teachers Union redefined its traditional role and waged a multidimensional fight that produced a community wide school strike and transformed the scope of collective bargaining into arenas that few labor relations experts thought possible Using interviews first person accounts participant observation union documents and media reports Steven K Ashby and Robert Bruno tell the story of the 2012 strike that shut down the Chicago school system for seven days A Fight for the Soul of Public Education takes into account two overlapping parallel and equally important stories One is a grassroots story of worker activism told from the perspective of rank and file union members and their community supporters Ashby and Bruno provide a detailed account of how the strike became an international cause when other teachers unions had largely surrendered to corporate driven education reform The second story describes the role of state and national politics in imposing educational governance changes on public schools and draconian limitations on union bargaining rights It includes a detailed account of the actual bargaining process revealing the mundane and the transcendental strategies of both school board and union representatives      Students at Risk of School Failure José Jesús Gázquez, José Carlos Núñez, 2018-10-18

The main objective of this Research Topic is to determine the conditions that place students at risk of school failure identifying student and context variables In spite of the fact that there is currently little doubt about how one learns and how to teach in some countries of the developed world there is still there is a high rate of school failure Although the term school failure is a very complex construct insofar as its causes consequences and development from the field of educational psychology the construct student engagement has recently gained special interest in an attempt to deal with the serious problem of school failure School engagement builds on the anatomy of the students involvement in school and describes their feelings behaviors and thoughts about their school experiences So engagement is an important component of students school experience with a close relationship to achievement and school failure Children who self set academic goals attend school regularly and on time behave well in class complete their homework and study at home are likely to interact adequately with the school social and physical environments and perform well in school In contrast children who miss school are more likely to display disruptive behaviors in class miss homework frequently exhibit violent behaviors on the playground fail subjects be retained and if the behaviors persist quit school Moreover engagement should also be considered as an important school outcome eliciting more or less supportive reactions from educators For example children who display school engaged behaviors are likely to receive motivational and instructional support from their teachers The opposite may also be true But what makes student engage more or less The relevant literature indicates that personal variables e g sensory motor neurodevelopmental cognitive motivational emotional behavior problems learning difficulties addictions social and or cultural variables e g negative family conditions child abuse cultural deprivation ethnic conditions immigration or school variables e g coexistence at school bullying cyberbullying may concurrently hinder engagement preventing the student from acquiring the learnings in the same conditions as the rest of the classmates      The Road to Success with MTSS Tom Hierck, Chris Weber, 2022-09-09 This is the roadmap educators need to create a customized intervention system for their unique circumstances Packed with research based strategies The Road to Success With MTSS is an exceptional tool for educators beginning their school s multitiered system of supports MTSS journey and those who have already come so far and are looking to reflect and reset for success Educational leaders and teachers will Embrace the multifaceted approach of MTSS which includes academic social emotional and behavioral needs Understand and anticipate obstacles to MTSS implementation while also learning how to overcome them Better assess student learning and growth Use a wide variety of tools to customize their MTSS journey Read case studies drawn from the authors and their colleagues experiences as well as from research and literature in the MTSS field Contents Introduction Chapter 1 What Practices and Elements Make Up Tier 1 Chapter 2 What Practices Make Up Tier 2 and Tier 3 Chapter 3 Where Are We and What Are the Next Steps Chapter 4 What Is the Implementation Process Chapter 5 What Does Student Evidence Reveal Epilogue Appendix Case Studies References
