Godard A Portrait Of The Artist At Seventy:

Godard Colin MacCabe, 2004 Jean Luc Godard's early films revolutionized the language of cinema. Hugely prolific in his first decade, Breathless, Contempt, Pierrot le Fou and Alphaville are just a handful of the seminal works he directed. Drawing on his own working experience with Godard, MacCabe has written a thrilling account of the French cinema's transformation in his hands.

Godard Colin MacCabe, 2004 Jean Luc Godard's early films revolutionised the language of cinema for everyone from the Superbrats of Hollywood to the political cinema of the Third World. Yet in 1968 he abandoned one of the most brilliant careers in French cinema to pursue his investigations into sound and image on the periphery of the industry he had rejected. Following a protected childhood in Switzerland in the Second World War, the post-war years saw Godard as a troubled adolescent in Paris where the prescribed courses of the Sorbonne were ignored in favour of the extraordinary teaching of Andr  Bazin, the greatest of film critics. In the pages of Cahiers du Cin ma, Godard together with Truffaut, Rohmer, Rivette and Chabrol hammered out an aesthetic that would take the world by storm as the young critics swapped pens for cameras at the end of the 1950s to create the cinema of the nouvelle vague. Hugely prolific in his first 10 years, A Bout de Souffle, Le Petit Soldat, Le M pris, Pierrot Le Fou, Alphaville, Made in USA and many others all appeared in the 1960s. Godard became and remains one of the most adventurous and enigmatic film directors at work in the world today.

Godard : Portrait Of The Artist At Seven Colin, MacCabe, 2007-11

French film directors Douglas Morrey, 2005-10-07 This volume offers a new interpretation of one of the most innovative directors in the history of cinema. It is the first book to cover the whole of Godard's career from the French New Wave to the recent triumphs of Histoire s du cin ma and Eloge de l'amour. Drawing on a wide range of literary, filmic and philosophical texts, the book places Godard's work within its intellectual context, examining how developments in French culture and thought since 1950 have been mirrored in and sometimes anticipated by Godard's films. Numerous sequences from Godard's films are singled out for close analysis, demonstrating how the director's radical approaches to narrative, editing, sound and shot composition have made the cinema into an analytical tool in its own right.

True to the Spirit Colin MacCabe, Rick Warner, Kathleen Murray, 2011 Spanning examples from Shakespeare to Ghost World and addressing such notable directors as Welles, Kubrick, Hawks, Tarkovsky and Oph ls, the contributors to this volume write against the grain of recent adaption studies by investigating the question of what fidelity might mean in its broadest and truest sense and what it might reveal of the adaptive process.

Performing Authorship Cecilia Sayad, 2013-09-17 The figure of the auteur continues to haunt the study of film, resisting both the poststructuralist charges that pointed to its absence and the histories of production that have described its pitfalls. In an era defined by the instability of identities and the recycling of works, Performing Authorship offers a refreshingly new take on the cinematic auteur, proposing that the challenges that once accelerated this figure's critical demise should instead pump new life into it. This book is about the drama of creative processes in essay, documentary and fiction films, with particular emphasis on the effects that the filmmaker's body exerts on our sense of an authorial presence. It is an illuminating analysis of films by Jean-Luc Godard, Woody Allen, Agnès Varda, Orson Welles, Jean Rouch, Eduardo Coutinho, and Sarah Turner that shows directors shifting between opposite movements towards exposure and masking, oscillating between the assertion and divestiture of their authorial control. In the process, Cecilia Sayad argues, the film author is not necessarily at the work's origin nor does it constitute the end product. What this new concept of performing authorship describes is the making and unmaking of a subject.

The Cinema Book Bloomsbury Publishing, 2019-07-25. The Cinema Book is widely recognised as the ultimate guide to cinema. Authoritative and comprehensive, the third edition has been extensively revised, updated, and expanded in response to developments in cinema and cinema studies. Lavishly illustrated in colour, this edition features a wealth of exciting new sections and in-depth case studies. Sections address Hollywood and other World Cinema histories, key genres in both fiction and non-fiction film, issues such as stars, technology, and authorship, and major theoretical approaches to understanding film.

Passionate Amateurs Nicholas Ridout, 2013-10-14. A rich, historically grounded exploration of why theater and performance matter in the modern world.

Art Labor, Sex Politics Siona Wilson, 2015-02-01. Contrary to critics who have called it the 'undecade,' the 1970s were a time of risky, innovative art, and nowhere more so than in Britain, where the forces of feminism and labor politics merged in a radical new aesthetic. In Art Labor, Sex Politics, Siona Wilson investigates the charged relationship of sex and labor politics as it played out in the making of feminist art in 1970s Britain. Her sustained exploration of works of experimental film, installation, performance, and photography maps the intersection of feminist and leftist projects in the artistic practices of this heady period. Collective practice, grassroots activism, and iconoclastic challenges to society's sexual norms are all fundamental elements of this theoretically informed history. The book provides fresh assessments of key feminist figures and introduces readers to less widely known artists such as Jo Spence and controversial groups like COUM Transmissions. Wilson's interpretations of two of the best-known and infamous exhibitions of feminist art, Mary Kelly's Post Partum Document and COUM Transmissions' Prostitution, supply a historical context that reveals these works anew. Together, these analyses demonstrate that feminist attention to sexual difference, sex, and psychic formation reconfigures received categories of labor and politics. How, and how much, do sexual politics transform our approach to aesthetic debates? What effect do the tropes of sexual difference and labor have on the very conception of the political within cultural practice? These are the questions that animate Art Labor, Sex Politics as it illuminates an intense and influential decade of intellectual and artistic experimentation.

Guerrilla Networks Michael Goddard, 2025-10-01 The radical youth movements of the 1960s and 70s gave rise to both militant political groups ranging from urban guerrilla groups to autonomist counterculture as well as radical media including radio music film video and television This book is concerned with both of those tendencies considered as bifurcations of radical media ecologies in the 1970s While some of the forms of media creativity and invention mapped here such as militant film and video pirate radio and guerrilla television fit within conventional definitions of media others such as urban guerrilla groups and autonomous movements do not Nevertheless what was at stake in all these ventures was the use of available means of expression in order to produce transformative effects and they were all in different ways responding to ideas and practices of guerrilla struggle and specifically of guerrilla media This book examines these radical media ecologies as guerrilla networks emphasising the proximity and inseparability of radical media and political practices Lights!

Vincendeau analyses Bardot s rise to fame as a highly acclaimed French international film star and fashion icon from her early days as a fashion model and ballet dancer to her period of high stardom between 1956 and 1960 Making Worlds Claudia Breger, 2020-04-14 The twenty first century has witnessed a resurgence of economic inequality racial exclusion and political hatred causing questions of collective identity and belonging to assume new urgency In Making Worlds Claudia Breger argues that contemporary European cinema provides ways of thinking about and feeling collectivity that can challenge these political trends Breger offers nuanced readings of major contemporary films such as Michael Haneke s The White Ribbon Alejandro Gonz lez I rritu s Biutiful Fatih Ak n s The Edge of Heaven Asghar Farhadi s A Separation and Aki Kaurism ki s refugee trilogy as well as works by Jean Luc Godard and Rainer Werner Fassbinder Through a new model of cinematic worldmaking Breger examines the ways in which these works produce unexpected and destabilizing affects that invite viewers to imagine new connections among individuals or groups These films and their depictions of refugees immigrants and communities do not simply counter dominant political imaginaries of hate and fear with calls for empathy or solidarity Instead they produce layered sensibilities that offer the potential for greater openness to others present past and
