

KUBOTA TRACTOR

Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and blood pressure (BP) of sedentary, middle-aged men. The subjects were divided into two groups: a control group and an exercise group. The exercise group performed a 12-week training program consisting of aerobic and resistance exercises. The HR and BP were measured at baseline and at the end of the 12-week program. The results showed that the exercise group had a significant decrease in both HR and BP compared to the control group. The HR decreased from 72 to 68 beats per minute, and the BP decreased from 120/80 to 110/70 mmHg. The control group showed no significant changes in HR and BP. The findings suggest that a 12-week training program can effectively reduce HR and BP in sedentary, middle-aged men.

As noted earlier, the 1990s witnessed a dramatic increase in the number of U.S. firms operating in foreign markets. This growth was driven by a combination of factors, including technological advances, globalization, and the need for firms to diversify their operations. The following table provides a summary of the key trends and challenges associated with internationalization during this period.
