Drug Effects Lisa Gezon, 2016-06-16 Khat marijuana peyote are these dangerous drugs or vilified plants with rich cultural and medical values In this book Lisa Gezon brings the drug debate into the 21st century proposing criteria for evaluating psychotropic substances Focusing on khat whose bushy leaves are an increasingly popular stimulant and the target of vehement anti drug campaigns she explores biocultural and socioeconomic contexts on local national and global levels Gezon provides a multidisciplinary examination of the plant s direct physical and psychological effects as well as indirect social and structural effects on income and labor productivity identity gendered relationships global drug discourses and food security This sophisticated multi leveled analysis cuts through the traditional battle lines of the drug debate and is a model for understanding and evaluating psychotropic substances around the world

Political Ecology Across Spaces, Scales, and Social Groups Susan Paulson, Lisa L. Gezon, 2005 Environmental issues have become increasingly prominent in local struggles national debates and international policies In response scholars are paying more attention to conventional politics and to more broadly defined relations of power and difference in the interactions between human groups and their biophysical environments Such issues are at the heart of the relatively new interdisciplinary field of political ecology forged at the intersection of political economy and cultural ecology This volume provides a toolkit of vital concepts and a set of research models and analytic frameworks for researchers at all levels The two opening chapters trace rich traditions of thought and practice that inform current approaches to political ecology They point to the entangled relationship between humans politics economies and environments at the dawn of the twenty first century and address challenges that scholars face in navigating the blurring boundaries among relevant fields of enquiry The twelve case studies that follow demonstrate ways that culture and politics serve to mediate human environmental relationships in specific ecological and geographical contexts Taken together they describe uses of and conflicts over resources including land water soil trees biodiversity money knowledge and information they exemplify wide ranging ecological settings including deserts coasts rainforests high mountains and modern cities and they explore sites located around the world from Canada to Tonga and cyberspace
