Food and Cooking Skills Education Anita Tull, 2018-01-29 Food and Cooking Skills Education FCSE is a complex mix of policy and practicality educational theory and pedagogy classroom and government policy This book shows how FCSE has been at the centre of a tussle between education and policy for decades It reviews how FCSE has grappled with various significant issues of concern that threaten to marginalise it and pose problems for educational practicalities as expectations are increased but resources are squeezed It assesses the debate about the significance and importance of acquiring practical food and cooking skills in a society where the purchase of ready made food has become commonplace and public knowledge of where our food comes from is noticeably lacking This has contributed to the escalating incidence of diet related diseases and the attendant cost to society and threatened environmental sustainability In turn governments have reacted by proposals to make practical cooking skills a statutory National Curriculum subject as part of the armoury for tackling such costs Based on detailed research conducted across England and Wales as well as comparisons with thirty five other countries or states the author makes recommendations for policy to manage this challenge facing contemporary society

Head Start Nutrition Education Curriculum ,1989 Healthy

Kids, Smart Kids Yvonne Sanders-Butler, 2005 The creator of the Achieving Academic Excellence Through Nutrition program offers parents a practical handbook on how to promote a child's attention and energy levels, reduce disciplinary problems and enhance health through a nutritional approach with tips on developing a healthy kitchen, battling peer pressure and junk food and more Original Cooking with Kids, 1998 The Road to a Hunger-Free America Mark Winne, 2025-09-18 Curated from hundreds of Mark Winne's articles, blog posts and speeches, this book documents 20 years of progress against the rampages of the industrial food system. Beginning in the 1960s, the United States slowly awakened to an entirely new way of thinking about its most life-sustaining ingredient: food. Understanding the link between health and diet drove millions to a greater consciousness about their eating. Learning that the American food system had been captured by large corporations that practiced industrial forms of agriculture and food manufacturing spawned the organic farming movement, farmers' markets and an intense pursuit of locally grown food. The revelation that tens of millions of Americans were hungry and malnourished evoked public outrage and cast the spotlight on how racism and poverty bitterly shaped the lives of so many. Mark Winne has not only borne witness to these events but also actively worked to find solutions to the many failures that have wracked the system. Each of the essays in this book is about one or more facets of the American food system, including hunger and food insecurity, diet and health, race and justice, farming, climate change and sustainability. Organized by people, places and actions that have had noteworthy impact on the food movement over the past two decades, these pieces demonstrate and encourage positive and effective responses to a growing list of challenges to food security, sustainability and health. Parenting Without Borders Christine Gross-Loh Ph.D., 2014-07-01 An eye-opening guide to the world's best parenting strategies. Research reveals that American kids lag behind in academic achievement, happiness and wellness. Christine Gross-Loh exposes culturally determined norms we have about good parenting and asks: Are there parenting strategies other countries are getting right that we are not? This book takes us across the globe and examines how parents successfully foster resilience, creativity, independence and academic excellence in their children. Illuminating the surprising ways in which culture shapes our parenting practices, Gross-Loh offers objective research-based insight such as: Co-sleeping may promote independence in kids. Hoverparenting can damage a child's resilience. Finnish children, who rank among the highest academic achievers, enjoy multiple recesses a day. Our obsession with self-esteem may limit a child's potential. Hesitant to Homeschool? Jessica Solis Carpinelli, Mandi McArthur, 2024-10-01 Answers to common questions and concerns for anyone considering homeschooling.
