Film and Everyday Eco-disasters Robin L. Murray, Joseph K. Heumann, 2014-06-01 Eco disasters such as coal mining accidents oil spills and food borne diseases appear regularly in the news making them seem nearly commonplace These ecological crises highlight the continual tensions between human needs and the environmental impact these needs produce Contemporary documentaries and feature films explore environmental human conflicts by depicting the consequences of our overconsumption and dependence on nonrenewable energy Film and Everyday Eco disasters examines changing perspectives toward everyday eco disasters as reflected in the work of filmmakers from the silent era forward with an emphasis on recent films such as Dead Ahead an HBO dramatization of the Exxon Valdez disaster Total Recall a science fiction action film highlighting oxygen as a commodity The Devil Wears Prada a comment on the fashion industry and Food Inc a documentary interrogation of the food industry The authors evaluate not only the success of these films as rhetorical arguments but also their rhetorical strategies This interdisciplinary approach to film studies fuses cultural economic and literary critiques in articulating an approach to ecology that points to sustainable development as an alternative to resource exploitations and their associated everyday eco disasters

Teaching Villainification in Social Studies Cathryn van Kessel, Kimberly Edmondson, 2024 In this collection scholars from the United States Canada and Australia examine the concepts of villainification and anti villainification in social studies curriculum popular culture as well as within sociocultural contexts and their implications Villainification is the process of identifying an individual or a small group of individuals as the sole source of a larger evil Anti villainification considers the messy space in between individual and group culpability in order to help students develop a sense of responsibility to each other as humans in communities on this planet Chapter authors examine topics related to U S politics financial education Holocaust education difficult histories apocalypse fiction the Marvel Cinematic Universe technology use LGBTQ school experiences rape culture geographies of invasion and the female body Taken together these inquiries into villainification offer thoughtful and powerful insights for teaching about historical wrongdoing in more nuanced ways addressing the responsibility we all have to create a better world Contributors Heather P Abrahamson Danelle Adeniji Erin C Adams Rebecca C Christ Brandon Haas Keri Helgren Brittany L Jones Wayne Journell Daniel G Krutka Melissa McQueen Bryan Smith Ryan M Smits Oren Baruch Stier Amanda Thomson Andrew Thomson Bretton A Varga Book Features Pushes the field of social studies to develop a more nuanced understanding of the villains of the past and present Invites educators to become more thoughtful about not only curriculum but also the world around us Helps readers to more deeply understand how easily forms of banal evil can touch our lives within and beyond the classroom and what we might do about it Examines how systemic forces can influence average individuals to cause or contribute to great societal harm Includes teacher friendly engagements with theory using examples from middle and high school classrooms
