Rejection? N/A Pritchard, 1995-10-16 Suicide The Ultimate Rejection is an interdisciplinary text based on Colin Pritchard's first hand experience both as a practising psychiatric social worker and social researcher. It provides an analysis of current research on suicide exploring possible causes and how best to intervene and makes the case for a science based practice art. International rates of suicide are examined as the author looks at suicide in a cross cultural context showing how it is differently understood in different ethnic groups reflecting various degrees of stigma. He argues for greater recognition of these key differences between cultures and ethnic groups and shows how important they can be to our understanding and intervention. Suicide The Ultimate Rejection explores the concepts of prediction and prevention and asks how the current health and community services might work to reduce the number of suicides in line with the targets set by the government's Health of the Nation. Different approaches to intervention and treatment are considered with emphasis on those which research has shown to be the most promising. Special attention is given to the families of the victim and in the final pages a wider view of suicide which includes euthanasia is explored. Using new research Colin Pritchard examines the practical and moral issues raised by euthanasia. Suicide will be of interest to students of social work, psychiatric nursing, health visiting and medicine as well as health professionals and counsellors.
