David E. Wilhite,2011-06-24 Who was Tertullian and what can we know about him This work explores his social identities focusing on his North African milieu Theories from the discipline of social cultural anthropology including kinship class and ethnicity are accommodated and applied to selections of Tertullian s writings In light of postcolonial concerns this study utilizes the categories of Roman colonizers indigenous Africans and new elites The third category new elites is actually intended to destabilize the other two denying any essential Roman or African identity Thereafter samples from Tertullian s writings serve to illustrate comparisons of his own identities and the identities of his rhetorical opponents The overall study finds Tertullian's identities to be manifold complex and discursive. Additionally, his writings are understood to reflect antagonism toward Romans, including Christian Romans, which is significant for his so-called Montanism and Romanized Africans. While Tertullian accommodates much from Graeco-Roman literature, laws, and customs, he nevertheless retains a strongly stated non-Roman-ness and an African-ity, which is highlighted in the present monograph.

The Archaeology of Plural and Changing Identities Eleanor Casella, Chris Fowler, 2005-12-05 As people move through life, they continually shift affiliation from one position to another, dependent on the wider contexts of their interactions. Different forms of material culture may be employed as affiliations shift, and the connotations of any given set of artifacts may change. In this volume, the authors explore these overlapping spheres of social affiliation. Social actors belong to multiple identity groups at any moment in their life. It is possible to deploy one or many potential labels in describing the identities of such an actor. Two main axes exist upon which we can plot experiences of social belonging: the synchronic and the diachronic. Identities can be understood as multiple during one moment or the extended moment of brief interaction over the span of a lifetime or over a specific historical trajectory. From the Introduction: The international contributions each illuminate how the various identifiers of race, ethnicity, sexuality, age, class, gender, personhood, health, and/or religion are part of both material expressions of social affiliations and transient experiences of identity. The Archaeology of Plural and Changing Identities: Beyond Identification will be of great interest to archaeologists, anthropologists, historians, curators, and other social scientists interested in the mutability of identification through material remains.

Anthropology Conrad Phillip Kottak, 2004 The new tenth edition of Kottak's best-selling text for general anthropology continues to offer a holistic introduction to anthropology that approaches the course from a four-field perspective and a book that is good for students and professors. The new tenth edition is a major revision offering many new and exciting features that build on the strengths of this approach. The text has two new themes: Bringing It All Together and Understanding Ourselves. The Bringing it All Together theme emphasizes anthropology's integrated comparative and four-field nature, can be found in new Bringing it All Together essays that show how anthropology's subfields and dimensions combine to interpret and explain a common topic. The Understanding Ourselves theme, helping to explain the relevance of facts and theories to students, can be found in new Understanding Ourselves paragraphs that answer the question, "So What?" A brand new and unique atlas and visual guide will be shrink-wrapped with every copy of the text for free, offering students even more visual material on top of an already outstanding visual arts program in the text. Two new features called Interpreting the World and Atlas and Visual Guide Questions will tie key content in the atlas and visual guide to the text. Two new chapters drawn from an original chapter on cultural and archaeology methods now focus on methods and ethics in all four subfields. This edition will continue to offer revised and updated popular features of previous editions, including chapter opening "In the News" vignettes, many now from 2002, Interesting Issues boxes, Beyond the Classroom boxes, as well as a wealth of learning tools and support.

Link with Nature and Divine Meditations in Asia Bernard Formoso, 1996 Peasant societies in many parts of the world regulate their relationship with the natural environment through earth gods who anchor a group of families not in genealogical terms as in the case of ancestors but in ecological terms The articles in this volume illustrate the role of and the cultural activities surrounding the earth gods in rural communities in Asian societies More specifically they show that within the Asian context it is possible to differentiate between two modes representing the earth gods and the relationship with nature i e one that corresponds to state societies and the other to tribal ones Expressions of Gender in the Altaic World Münevver Tekcan, Oliver Corff, 2021-08-23 This collection of papers explores the facets of gender and sex in history language and society of Altaic cultures reflecting the unique interdisciplinary approach of the PIAC It examines the position of women in contemporary Central Asia at large the expression of gender in linguistic terms in Mongolian Manju Tibetan and Turkic languages and gender aspects presented in historical literary monuments as well as in contemporary sources Kinship, Gender, and Business Failure Christophe Duhamelle, Concepción García-Iglesias, Frances M. B. Lynch, Jean-Pierre Cavaillé, Mark Häberlein, Natacha Coquery, Pegerto Saavedra, René Leboutte, Roberto Di Quirico, 1998 The Avuncular Family, Gender Asymmetry, and Patriline Sonia Gustavson Patten, 1990 Kinship, Gender and Personhood in a Korean Village Hyung-sook Yoon, 1989 American Book Publishing Record, 2005 Reason and Passion Michael G. Peletz, 2023-11-15 This book provides a historical and ethnographic examination of gender relations in Malay society in particular in the well known state of Negeri Sembilan famous for its unusual mixture of Islam and matrilineal descent Peletz analyzes the diverse ways in which the evocative heavily gendered symbols of reason and passion are deployed by Malay Muslims Unlike many studies of gender this book elucidates the cultural and political processes implicated in the constitution of both feminine and masculine identity It also scrutinizes the relationship between gender and kinship and weighs the role of ideology in everyday life Peletz insists on the importance of examining gender systems not as social isolates but in relation to other patterns of hierarchy and social difference His study is historical and comparative it also explores the political economy of contested symbols and meanings More than a treatise on gender and social change in a Malay society this book presents a valuable and deeply interesting model for the analysis of gender and culture by addressing issues of hegemony and cultural domination at the heart of contemporary cultural studies This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1996 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology Simon Coleman, Susan B. Hyatt, Ann Kingsolver, 2016-11-25 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is an invaluable guide and major reference source for students and scholars alike introducing its readers to key contemporary perspectives and approaches within the field Written by an experienced international team of contributors with an interdisciplinary range of essays this collection provides a powerful overview of the transformations currently affecting anthropology The volume both addresses the concerns of the discipline and comments on its construction through texts classroom interactions engagements with various publics and changing relations with other academic subjects Persuasively demonstrating that a number of key contemporary issues can be usefully analyzed through an anthropological lens the contributors cover important topics such as globalization law and politics collaborative archaeology economics religion citizenship and community health and the environment The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is a fascinating examination of this lively and constantly evolving discipline
