Histologic Preparations:

The Art of Examining and Interpreting Histologic Preparations William J. Krause, 2004-05 The examination and interpretation of tissue sections seen under the light microscope in a laboratory setting is an example of student directed independent problem solving The proper reading of a histologic section is an acquired art that can only be developed through practice close observation and repetition This laboratory manual was designed as a guide for students to aid them in this endeavor The laboratory study guide manual was designed to be used as a supplement to any current textbook and or atlas of Histology Learning objectives provide the overall goals for each chapter The narrative of the study guide explains how to systematically breakdown examine and interpret each tissue and or organ encountered without regard to a given histologic slide from a specific slide collection Thus this systematic method can be used to examine and interpret histologic preparations from any collection or of any species The student is encouraged to sketch label and create a personalized atlas while using this laboratory manual as a guide The vocabulary that should be developed and used during the laboratory can be found quickly by going to the bold face type in the appropriate segment of the text Each chapter contains one or more tables in which key structures used in the identification of a tissue organ are presented offering the briefest possible summary of important histologic features As a final short review an appendix provides summary tables that compare and contrasts the basic differences of several structures that are somewhat similar in general architecture

Histologic Preparations Richard W. Brown, 2009-01-01 Histologic Preparations Common Problems and Their Solutions developed by the College of American Pathologists Histotechnology Committee in conjunction with the National Society for Histotechnology is a how to guide to good slide preparation Building on data and images from the NSH CAP HistoQIP program the book presents photographic examples of well prepared slides followed by numerous examples of associated problems and their solutions Histologic Preparations is both a reference text and as a teaching tool Written for pathologists pathology residents histotechnologists histotechnicians and histology students it contains troubleshooting techniques for the most common artifacts and problems incurred in routine histologic preparations

Current Topics in Medical Mycology Michael R. McGinnis, 2012-12-06 Journal of the American Medical Association, 1914 Differential Diagnosis in Cytopathology Book and Online Bundle Paolo Gattuso, Vijaya B. Reddy, Shahla Masood, 2014-12-04 This updated edition remains the essential text for pathologists seeking to make accurate diagnoses from the vast number of differentials Diagnostic Neuropathology Julio H. Garcia, Julio Escalona-Zapata, Uriel Sandbank, 2013-11-11

From the preface Pathologists are responsible for the interpretation of tissue samples removed for the purpose of establishing a diagnosis This textbook has been conceived and arranged in a manner that facilitates the task of arriving at a diagnosis through the evaluation of tissues removed from patients afflicted with neurological complaints The portion of the diagnostic work up that is purely clinical such as the history of the disease and the results of the physical examination are entirely beyond the scope of this textbook Extensive descriptions of disease processes which are available in most of the references cited have been omitted in favor of relatively detailed descriptions and abundant illustrations of the histologic abnormalities that as a group constitute a diagnostic entity Morphometry of the Human Lung Ewald R.

Weibel, 2013-10-22 Morphometry of the Human Lung considers the developments in understanding the quantitative anatomy of the lung and in the correlation of anatomy with physiology This book is composed of 11 chapters and begins with an overview of a systematic approach to a quantitative morphologic analysis of the architecture of the human lung followed by a presentation of general problems of methodology and the derivation of reliable dimensional models of this organ The subsequent chapters describe the methods of preparation of tissues methods of random sampling and adaptation of methodologies from other fields of science These topics are followed by discussions the mathematical formulations for the translation of the data into the desired geometric forms and a technique of counting The final chapters look into the mode of distribution and geometric forms that should eventually facilitate mathematical and physical considerations regarding the function of the lungs These chapters also consider the application of these quantitative methods to the study of pathologic specimens providing a most timely renovation of morphologic pathology This book will be of value to pulmonologists physiologists and researchers who are interested in lung morphometry
