The Engineer ,1985 OBC, Leadership for the Airland Battle ,1985 Infantry ,1988 PS, the Preventive Maintenance Monthly ,1958 The Preventive Maintenance Monthly is an official publication of the Army providing information for all soldiers assigned to combat and combat duties The magazine covers issues concerning maintenance maintenance procedures and supply problems Brown Waters of Africa John P. Cann,2013-12-19 During World War II Portugal played its cards uncommonly well as a neutral and subsequently became a member of NATO This membership resulted in a modernizing of its navy and its integration into the Atlantic Alliance By 1960 when other colonial powers were abandoning their empires Portugal made the decision to cling to its possessions as they had been Portuguese for over 400 years Without them Portugal saw itself as only a small European country whereas with them it would be a great nation Portugal ultimately would fight a 13 year debilitating war against various nationalist movements in Africa to retain its possessions By the mid 1950s it became apparent to the Portuguese Navy that it would fight in Africa and it began to make preparations Ultimately it would perform a near wholesale conversion from the blue water or oceanic navy that supported NATO to a brown water or riverine one to fight in Africa This is the story of that conversion and the great battle of the rivers in Africa This naval reorientation was a remarkable achievement in that Portugal not only learned to fight a new kind of war it built a navy to accomplish this and did so while shouldering its NATO commitments The Portuguese Navy in developing a specialized naval force clearly foresaw the paramount economic military and psychological importance of controlling the interior waterways of Africa for the infrastructure there was universally primitive While there was generally a road network radiating from the colonial capital the primary routes used clandestinely by insurgents were chiefly the waterways The job of the navy was to foreclose enemy use of these lines of communication and this it did with great success The lessons from this experience tend to be forgotten as this war was overshadowed by the U S conflict in Vietnam Today however riverine operations are experiencing a renaissance in reaction to the war of the weak While modern boats are more technologically advanced and their crews use newer and better equipment and weapons the problems and their solutions remain largely the same The operating environment remains the rivers bayous salt pans canals lakes and deltas extending inland from the coast The population remains a vulnerable target and the need to establish a permissive environment continues as the primary goal Clearly the legacy of the Portuguese brown water navy remains relevant today Armor ,1978 Engineers of the Southwest Pacific, 1941-45 United States. who always walked the walk especially when times got tough In a skeptical world that gave them more credibility than even the best possible speeches Deutschman also shows the devastating consequences of not walking the walk even on seemingly minor matters Consider how the CEOs of GM and Chrysler hurt their chances of a government bailout by flying their private jets to Washington The eye opening examples in Walk the Walk will inspire leaders at all levels United States Army Combat Forces Journal ,1954 Soldiers ,1974 United States Army Aviation Digest ,1970 Index of Doctrinal, Training, and Organizational Publications United States.
