History Beyond Trauma:

History Beyond Trauma Francoise Davoine, Jean-Max Gaudilliere, 2013-03-26 In the course of nearly thirty years of work with patients in psychiatric hospitals and private practice Francoise Davoine and Jean Max Gaudilliere have uncovered the ways in which transference and countertransference are affected by the experience of social catastrophe Handed down from one generation to the next the unspoken horrors of war betrayal dissociation and disaster in the families of patient and analyst alike are not only revived in the therapeutic relationship but when understood actually provide the keys to the healing process The authors present vivid examples of clinical work with severely traumatized patients reaching inward to their own intimate family histories as shaped by the Second World War and outward toward an exceptionally broad range of cultural references to literature philosophy political theory and anthropology Using examples from medieval carnivals and Japanese No theater to Wittgenstein and Hannah Arendt to Sioux rituals in North Dakota they reveal the ways in which psychological damage is done and undone With a special focus on the relationship between psychoanalysis and the neurosciences Davoine and Gaudilliere show how the patient analyst relationship opens pathways of investigation into the nature of madness whether on the scale of History world wars Vietnam or on the scale of Story the silencing of horror within an individual family In order to show how the therapeutic approach to trauma was developed on the basis of war psychiatry the authors ground their clinical theory in the work of Thomas Salmon an American doctor from the time of the First World War In their case studies they illustrate how three of the four Salmon principles proximity immediacy and expectancy affect the handling of the transference countertransference relationship The fourth principle simplicity shapes the style in which the authors address their readers that is with the same clarity and directness with which they speak to their patients

Trauma in Contemporary Literature Marita Nadal, Mónica Calvo, 2014-03-26 Trauma in Contemporary Literature analyzes contemporary narrative texts in English in the light of trauma theory including essays by scholars of different countries who approach trauma from a variety of perspectives The book analyzes and applies the most relevant concepts and themes discussed in trauma theory such as the relationship between individual and collective trauma historical trauma absence vs loss the roles of perpetrator and victim dissociation nachträglichkeit transgenerational trauma the process of acting out and working through introjection and incorporation mourning and melancholia the phantom and the crypt postmemory and multidirectional memory shame and the affects and the power of resilience to overcome trauma Significantly the essays not only focus on the phenomenon of trauma and its diverse manifestations but above all consider the elements that challenge the aporias of trauma the traps of stasis and repetition in order to reach beyond the confines of the traumatic condition and explore the possibilities of survival healing and recovery Trauma's Labyrinth: Reflections of a Wounded Healer Laura K. Kerr, 2022-03-28 2022 Bronze Living Now Book Award 2022 Foreword INDIES Book of the Year Award Trauma can feel like a labyrinth twisting on itself like a maze of despair without end or exit This seems particularly true in today's chaotic world of pandemics climate change social conflict and systemic violence Increasingly the conditions of the larger world aggravate if not cause the traumas in our individual lives However as Laura K Kerr explores in this wide ranging collection of essays not only can we heal from trauma but we can use it as an opportunity for growth and transformation changing ourselves and the world for the better Drawing from her experiences as researcher trauma survivor and psychotherapist she examines various causes of trauma details how to understand and treat trauma's effects and explores the role society plays in activating traumatic defenses Despite the weightiness of the topic Dr Kerr brings hope for lasting positive change As Dr Kerr shows the key lies in removing rigid divides like those between wounded and healer self and society When they are integrated healing becomes transformative and enduring not only for ourselves but for the increasingly traumatized world in which we live Radical Justice Luis Martín-Cabrera, 2011-08-16 Radical Justice investigates the convoluted relationship between memory and justice as it is portrayed in political documentaries and detective fiction from Spain and the Southern Cone It argues that the possibility of achieving justice in these regions lies beyond market and state and is yet to come Rather than focusing on high literature Radical Justice uses popular culture as a site from which to question both the inability of the State and the transnational market to come to terms with the dictatorial past and to deliver justice This book will interest a wide range of scholars from national literature and film specialists of Argentina Chile and Spain to philosophers and students of ethics human rights and questions of justice Trauma and Literature in an Age of Globalization Jennifer Ballengee, David Kelman, 2021-01-28 While globalization is often associated with economic and social progress it has also brought new forms of terrorism permanent states of emergency demographic displacement climate change and other natural disasters Given these contemporary concerns one might also view the current time as an age of traumatism Yet what or how does the traumatic event mean in an age of global catastrophe This volume explores trauma theory in an age of globalization by means of the practice of comparative literature The essays and interviews in this volume ask how literary studies and the literary anticipate imagine or theorize the current global climate especially in an age when the links between violence amorphous traumatic events and economic concerns are felt increasingly in everyday experience Trauma and Literature in an Age of Globalization turns a literary perspective upon the most urgent issues of globalization problems of borders language inequality and institutionalized violence and considers from a variety of perspectives how such events impact our lived experience and its representation in language and literature

Traumatic Pasts in Asia Mark S. Micale, Hans Pols, 2021-09-17 In the early twenty first century trauma is seemingly everywhere whether as experience diagnosis concept or buzzword Yet even as many scholars consider trauma to be constitutive of psychological modernity or the post Enlightenment human condition historical research on the topic has overwhelmingly focused on cases such as World War I or the Holocaust in which Western experiences and actors are foregrounded There remains an urgent need to incorporate the methods and insights of recent historical trauma research into a truly global perspective The chapters in Traumatic Pasts in Asia make just such an intervention extending Euro American paradigms of traumatic experience to new sites of world historical suffering and in the process exploring how these new domains of research inform and enrich earlier scholarship Gender, Work and Community After De-Industrialisation V. Walkerdine, L. Jimenez, 2012-01-17 How does an industrial community cope when they are told that closure is inevitable What if this is only the last in a 200 year long line of threats insecurities and closure How did people weather the storms and how do they face the future now While attempts to regenerate communities are everywhere we do not often hear from the people themselves just how they managed to create safe collective spaces or how the fall of the whole house of cards brought with it effects which can be felt by young people who never knew the town when it was an industrial heartland We hear the story of how men and women tried to cope and still want to retain their community in the face of its destruction What can they and will they have to pass to the next generation and where will that leave the young people themselves who have nothing to stay for but are unable to leave This book examines these crucial questions facing post industrial societies

The Consulting Room and Beyond Therese Ragen, 2010-04-15 The Consulting Room and Beyond is not a typical example of clinical writing in the field of psychoanalysis Therese Ragen pushing the boundaries of the genre thoughtfully explores in a very immediate way the intersubjective nature of psychoanalysis particularly looking at the role of the psychoanalyst's subjectivity both how it influences and is influenced by the psychoanalytic relationship The profound ways in which analyst and patient affect each other are captured as the author moves from a moment with a patient to one of her own memories to a dream to a professional consultation and back to the session with the patient Ragen's detailed descriptions of her subjective experiences and clinical skill help to weave the anecdotes into a compelling narrative worthy of the attention of theorists academics and clinicians alike

History, Literature, Critical Theory Dominick LaCapra, 2013-04-12 In History Literature Critical Theory Dominick LaCapra continues his exploration of the complex relations between history and literature here considering history as both process and representation A trio of chapters at the center of the volume concern the ways in which history and literature particularly the novel impact and question each other In one of the chapters LaCapra revisits Gustave Flaubert pairing him with Joseph Conrad Other chapters pair J M Coetzee and W G Sebald Jonathan Littell's novel The Kindly Ones and Saul Friedlander's two volume prizewinning history Nazi Germany and the Jews A recurrent motif of the book is the role of the sacred its problematic status in sacrifice its virulent manifestation in social and political violence notably the Nazi genocide its role or transformations in literature and art and its multivalent expressions in postsecular hopes anxieties and quests LaCapra concludes the volume with an essay on the place of violence in the thought of Slavoj Žižek In LaCapra's view Žižek's provocative thought at times has uncanny echoes of earlier reflections on or apologies for political and seemingly regenerative even sacralized violence

History and Its Limits Dominick LaCapra, 2011-02-23 Dominick LaCapra's History and Its Limits articulates the relations among intellectual history cultural history and critical theory examining the recent rise of Practice Theory and probing the limitations of prevalent forms of humanism LaCapra focuses on the problem of understanding extreme cases specifically events and experiences involving violence and victimization He asks how historians treat and are simultaneously implicated in the traumatic processes they attempt to represent In addressing these questions he also investigates violence s impact on various types of writing and establishes a distinctive role for critical theory in the face of an insufficiently discriminating aesthetic of the sublime often unreflectively amalgamated with the uncanny In History and Its Limits LaCapra inquires into the related phenomenon of a turn to the postsecular even the messianic or the miraculous in recent theoretical discussions of extreme events by such prominent figures as Giorgio Agamben Eric L Santner and Slavoj Žižek In a related vein he discusses Martin Heidegger s evocative if not enchanting understanding of The Origin of the Work of Art LaCapra subjects to critical scrutiny the sometimes internally divided way in which violence has been valorized in sacrificial regenerative or redemptive terms by a series of important modern intellectuals on both the far right and the far left including Georges Sorel the early Walter Benjamin Georges Bataille Frantz Fanon and Ernst J nger Violence and victimization are prominent in the relation between the human and the animal LaCapra questions prevalent anthropocentrism evident even in theorists of the posthuman and the long standing quest for a decisive criterion separating or dividing the human from the animal LaCapra regards this attempt to fix the difference as misguided and potentially dangerous because it renders insufficiently problematic the manner in which humans treat other animals and interact with the environment In raising the issue of desirable transformations in modernity History and Its Limits examines the legitimacy of normative limits necessary for life in common and explores the disconcerting role of transgressive initiatives beyond limits including limits blocking the recognition that humans are themselves animals
