The uniqueness of the book lies in its inclusive approach to accommodate a variety of readers including language and literacy teachers practitioners and scholars. It uses two languages namely English and isiXhosa to address some of the critical issues on literacy teaching and learning and to disseminate knowledge to a diverse readership including parents students teachers and other relevant stakeholders who are committed to making a difference in the teaching and learning of literacy in different languages. The aim is to transform and enrich discourse on language and literacy development which is predominantly in English and does not include African languages that are also used as the main languages of learning and teaching in the Foundation Phase Grades R 3. Literacies, Power and Identities in Figured Worlds in Malawi Ahmmardouh Mjaya, 2022-02-24 This book is based on an in depth ethnographic study of the National Adult Literacy Programme NALP in Malawi. It highlights the significance of exploring power and identity in literacy studies. Employing the concept of figured worlds to study literacy as a social practice the book focuses on understanding power relationships and identities in literacy practices. It illustrates how literacy identities and power relationships of some local community members continuously vary from one context to another and in some cases even within the same context Using notions such as agency artefact resistance shame and positioning the book demonstrates the potential of the concept of figured worlds to address some of the questions raised within the New Literacy Studies especially those concerning power and identity The book also illustrates the value of an ethnographic approach in adult literacy studies by exploring the challenges faced by the researcher in gaining access to community members activities and the opportunity to experience first hand what instructors go through in facilitating adult literacy lessons Learning from Emergent Bilingual Latinx Learners in K-12 Pablo Ramirez,Christian Faltis,Ester De Jong,2017-11-03 In this volume scholars researchers and teacher educators from across the United States present their latest findings regarding teacher education to develop meaningful learning experiences and meet the sociocultural linguistic and academic needs of Latino ELLs The book documents how teacher education programs guide teachers to engage in culturally and linguistically diverse academic contexts and sheds light on the variety of research based theoretical frameworks that inform teaching practices A unique contribution to the field Learning from Emergent Bilingual Latinx Learners in K 12 provides innovative approaches for linking Latino school communities with teachers at a time when demographic shifts are considerably altering population trends in the K 12 educational system
