Perspectives on Early Keyboard Music and Revival in the Twentieth Century Rachelle Taylor, Hank Knox, 2017-12-15. The twentieth-century revival of early music unfolded in two successive movements rooted respectively in nineteenth-century antiquarianism and in rediscovery of the value of original instruments. The present volume is a collection of insights reflecting the principal concerns of the second of those revivals, focusing on early keyboards and beginning in the 1950s. The volume and its authors acknowledge Canadian harpsichordist Kenneth Gilbert (b. 1931) as one of this revival's leaders. The content reflects international research on early keyboard music: sources, instruments, theory, editing, and discography. Considerations that echo throughout the book are the problematics of source attributions, progressive institutionalization of early music, historical instruments as agents of artistic change, and education, antecedents, and networks of the revival seen as a social phenomenon, the impact of historical performance, and the quest for understanding style and genre. The chapters cover historical performance practice, source studies, edition, theory and form, and instrument curating and building. Among their authors are prominent figures in performance music history, editing, instrument building and restoration, and theory, some of whom engaged with the early keyboard revival as it was happening.

Traffic Safety and Human Behavior David Shinar, 2017-06-22. This comprehensive 2nd edition covers the key issues that relate human behavior to traffic safety. In particular, it covers the increasing roles that pedestrians and cyclists have in the traffic system, the role of infotainment in driver distraction, and the increasing role of driver assistance systems in changing the driver-vehicle interaction.

Translation, interpreting, cognition Tra & Co Group, 2021. Cognitive aspects of the translation process have become central in Translation and Interpreting Studies in recent years, further establishing the field of Cognitive Translatology. Empirical and interdisciplinary studies investigating translation and interpreting processes promise a hitherto unprecedented predictive and explanatory power. This collection contains such studies which observe behaviour during translation and interpreting. The contributions cover a vast area and investigate behaviour during translation and interpreting with a focus on training of future professionals on language processing, more generally on the role of technology in the practice of translation and interpreting, on translation of multimodal media texts, on aspects of ergonomics and usability, on emotions, self concept and psychological factors and finally also on revision and post editing For the present publication we selected a number of contributions presented at the Second International Congress on Translation Interpreting and Cognition hosted by the Tra Co Lab at the Johannes Gutenberg University of Mainz
