Classical Literature and Posthumanism Giulia Maria Chesi, Francesca Spiegel, 2019-11-14 The subject of the posthuman of what it means to be or to cease to be human is emerging as a shared point of debate at large in the natural and social sciences and the humanities This volume asks what classical learning can bring to the table of posthuman studies assembling chapters that explore how exactly the human self of Greek and Latin literature understands its own relation to animals monsters objects cyborgs and robotic devices With its widely diverse habitat of heterogeneous bodies minds and selves classical literature again and again blurs the boundaries between the human and the non human not to equate and confound

the human with its other but playfully to highlight difference and hybridity as an invitation to appraise the animal monstrous or mechanical machinic parts lodged within humans This comprehensive collection unites contributors from across the globe each delving into a different classical text or narrative and its configuration of human subjectivity how human selves relate to other entities around them For students and scholars of classical literature and the posthuman this book is a first point of reference
