Science Fiction and the Historical Novel Ian P. MacDonald, Kate Polak, 2024-09-16 If you woke to realize that you could rewrite your yesterday without knowing the kind of tomorrow it would grant you would you do it Are the authors of our destiny working with an outline or spit balling confusing plotlines Since the past changes possible futures to what alighting butterfly should we pay the most heed This book explores the liminal space between speculative fiction and the historical novel Staged as a transnational multicultural conversation it takes up a call originally made by Fredric Jameson in Archaeologies of the

Future wherein he describes that flashpoint between speculative and historical genres as the symptom of a mutation in our relationship to historical time itself Drawing together postcolonial feminist cultural Indigenous and cognitive approaches Science Fiction and the Historical Novel asks what the past can offer a future oriented world and how the future can be imagined in relation to a past that seeks narratives of inevitability rather than possibility Engaged with the idea of the past as a model for the future authors in this volume probe the extent to which historical scripts delimit possibilities and how authors engaged with the practice of alternative pasts rewrite potentialities in the present

Political Anxiety in Golden Age Children's Classics and Their Contemporary Adaptations Jasmin Sültemeyer, 2021-07-05 As striking counter intuitive and distasteful as the combination of children and anxiety may seem some of the most popular children s classics abound in depictions of traumatic relationships bloody wars and helpless heroes This book draws on Freudian and Lacanian anxiety models to investigate the psychological and political significance of this curious juxtaposition as it stands out in Golden Age novels from both sides of the Atlantic and their present day adaptations The stories discussed in detail so the argument goes identify specific anxieties and forms of anxiety management as integral elements of hegemonial middle class identity Apart from its audacious link between psychoanalysis and Marxist feminist as well as postcolonial ideology criticism this study provides a nuanced analysis of the ways in which allegedly trivial texts negotiate questions of individual and trans national identities In doing so it offers a fresh look at beloved tales like Alice s Adventures in Wonderland The Wizard of Oz and Peter Pan contributes to the dynamic field of adaptation studies and highlights the necessity to approach children s entertainment more seriously and more sensitively than it is generally the case

Pink-Slipped Jane M Gaines, 2018-02-23 Women held more positions of power in the silent film era than at any other time in American motion picture history Marion Leonard broke from acting to cofound a feature film company Gene Gauntier the face of Kalem Films also wrote the first script of Ben Hur Helen Holmes choreographed her own breathtaking on camera stunt work Yet they and the other pioneering filmmaking women vanished from memory Using individual careers as a point of departure Jane M Gaines charts how women first fell out of the limelight and then out of the film history itself A more perplexing event cemented their obscurity the failure of 1970s feminist historiography to rediscover them Gaines examines how it happened against a backdrop of feminist theory and her own meditation on the limits that historiography imposes on scholars Pondering how silent era women have become absent in the abstract while present in reality Gaines sees a need for a theory of these artists pasts that relates their aspirations to those of contemporary women A bold journey through history and memory Pink Slipped pursues the still elusive fate of the influential women in the early years of film

Kubrick's Mitteleuropa Nathan Abrams, Jeremi Szaniawski, 2024-10-01 Stanley Kubrick was arguably one of the most influential American directors of the post World War II era and his Central European Jewish heritage though often overlooked greatly influenced his oeuvre Kubrick s Mitteleuropa explores this influence in ways that range from his work with Hungarian and Polish composers Bela Bartok Gy rgy Ligeti and Krzysztof

Penderecki to the visual inspiration of artists such as Egon Schiele Gustav Klimt and other central European Modernists Beyond exploring the Mitteleuropa sensibility in Kubrick's films the contributions in this volume also provide important commentary on the reception of his films in countries across Eastern Europe

The Cambridge Companion to Literature on Screen Deborah Cartmell, Imelda Whelehan, 2007-05-10 This Companion offers a multi-disciplinary approach to literature on film and television Writers are drawn from different backgrounds to consider broad topics such as the issue of adaptation from novels and plays to the screen canonical and popular literature fantasy genre and adaptations for children There are also case studies such as Shakespeare Jane Austen the nineteenth century novel and modernism which allow the reader to place adaptations of the work of writers within a wider context An interview with Andrew Davies whose work includes Pride and Prejudice 1995 and Bleak House 2005 reveals the practical choices and challenges that face the professional writer and adaptor The Companion as a whole provides an extensive survey of an increasingly popular field of study
