The Wellness Workbook, 3rd ed John W. Travis, Regina Sara Ryan, 2004-04-01 For more than thirty years John W. Travis M.D. and Regina Sara Ryan have taught hundreds of thousands of people a practical whole self approach to wellness and healthy living. Each chapter of the comprehensive WELLNESS WORKBOOK explores one of the twelve interconnected forms of energy that contribute to your overall health and vitality: Self Responsibility and Love, Breathing, Sensing, Eating, Moving, Feeling, Thinking, Playing, and Working, Communicating, Sex Finding, Meaning, Transcending. From how you breathe to how you view the world, these twelve areas affect all aspects of your life: your disposition toward injury and illness, your relationships, your general level of happiness, and beyond. In an optimal state of wellness, all of your energies are in balance, and you are less prone to disease, stress, and other life-depleting factors. Using a self-assessment tool known as the Wellness Index, you'll develop a clear picture of what areas in your life need attention. Now in its third edition, the thoroughly updated and streamlined WELLNESS WORKBOOK provides hundreds of exercises and ideas to help you take control of your health and happiness. A classic text in the wellness field, thoroughly revised and updated and streamlined for a more simple and practical presentation. Chapters cover self-responsibility and love, breathing, sensing, eating, moving, feeling, thinking, playing, and working, communicating, sex finding, meaning, and transcending. Previous editions have sold more than 200,000 copies.

Rhetorical Listening in Action Krista Ratcliffe, Kyle Jensen, 2022-06-06
Rhetorical Listening in Action: A Concept/Tactic Approach aims to cultivate writers who can listen across differences in preparation for thinking critically, communicating and acting across those differences. Krista Ratcliffe and Kyle Jensen offer a rhetorical education centered on rhetorical listening as it inflects other rhetorical concepts such as agency, rhetorical situation, identification, myth, and rhetorical devices. Rhetorical Listening in Action spans classical and contemporary rhetoric, reading key concepts through rhetorical listening and supported by scholarship in rhetoric and composition, feminist studies, critical race studies, and intersectionality theory. The book expands on how we think about and negotiate difference and the factors that mediate social relations and competing cultural logics. Along the way, Ratcliffe and Jensen associate creative and heuristic tactics with clearly defined concepts to give all writers methods for listening rhetorically to and understanding alternative viewpoints. For writers new to the concepts of rhetorical listening, four appendices show how these concepts illuminate rhetoric, language, discourse, argument, writing processes, research, and style.

This Handbook with 45 chapters written by the world's leading scholars in second language acquisition, SLA, and language testing dives into the important interface between SLA and language testing, shared ground where researchers seek to measure second language performance to better understand how people learn their second languages. The Handbook also reviews how to best measure and evaluate the second language L2 learners' personal characteristics, backgrounds, and learning contexts to better understand their L2 learning trajectories. Taking a transdisciplinary approach to research, the book builds upon recent theorizing and measurement principles from the fields of applied linguistics, cognitive science, psychology, psycholinguistics, psychometrics, educational measurement, and social psychology. The Handbook is divided into six key sections: 1. Assessment concepts for SLA researchers; 2. Building instruments for SLA research; 3. Measuring individual differences; 4. Measuring language development; 5. Testing specific populations; and 6. Measurement principles for SLA researchers.
