Young, Bryan Thors Noonan, Kristen Bonanno-Sotiropoulos, 2018-02-06 This book is designed to be a valuable resource for all educators who seek to gain a better understanding of writing development effective writing teaching practices and meeting the instructional needs of struggling writers Educators of all levels and career stages will then benefit from the extensive research provided in the book and through its pages they will gain a thorough understanding of how to go about the process of developing proficient writers in their classrooms Selected Papers from the 1982 Conference, "New York Writes, Kindergarten Through College", 1983 Write This Way from the Start Kelly Boswell, 2017-09-29 As teachers the beginning of each school year presents us with fresh starts and opportunities How will we build community and create a culture that values thinking learning and risk taking How can we create a safe environment where all learners feel welcome and valued As writing teachers it is of utmost importance that we launch our students into the world of writing in a way that engages them and helps to build their confidence In this book Kelly Boswell shares a variety of ways to kick start the school year and invite students to engage in meaningful purposeful and joyful writing experiences Life Lessons from Working with Great Teachers Rick Ackerly, 2020-09-16 As David Brooks says Children learn from people they love If you have all the competence and training in best methods and have not love you will fail If you persist in love you will learn to master your foibles and failings and even transcend them and be a great educator Perhaps love isn't all that really matters but it is the sine qua non of the work of an educator Not only are relationships essential in education but they are also the key to a long happy and productive life When we build relationships we build community The culture of that group of people is where happiness lies

Managing the New Tools in K-12 Teaching and Learning Jerome A. Schulz, 2018-02-02 Managing the New Tools in K 12 Teaching and Learning How Technology Can Enable School Improvement is about how to manage technology for learning at the district and school levels It provides an overview of the components of learning technology these include student devices networking software productivity toolkits electronic curricula and resources and data system infrastructure And it discusses how we can manage our technology efforts more effectively to help our students attain the benefits of this technology The book concludes with case studies of how this is being done at pioneering districts We are now at a tipping point in implementing learning technology on a larger scale This is happening very quickly Historically learning technology was driven by a strategy of technology integration where we called on individual teachers to each determine how to use technology in their classes and make changes in their own ways of working But to successfully implement technology on the scale we need requires top down as well as bottom up efforts Managing the New Tools in K 12 Teaching and Learning focuses on how districts and schools can now use technology to bring about the big improvements in learning we are all striving for

Lucy Calkins has written a book with the goal of creating lifelong readers. The Art of Teaching Reading offers educators a multifaceted reading program supported by word study, guided reading, book talks, and other ongoing structures to produce impassioned readers. Through years of research, the author provides a myriad of ideas to help young readers discover their own joy of reading and love of books. This text focuses on the big picture of reading instruction and explores the goals of reading programs. It also provides information on comprehending and responding to text through synthesis, critique, writing, and other effective strategies for understanding. For teachers or future teachers or educators. Balanced Literacy Instruction Kathryn H. Au, Jacquelin H. Carroll, Judith A. Scheu, 1997 Sense-Making and Shared Meaning in Language and Literacy Education Sharon Murphy, 2020-07-15 This textbook provides a framework for teaching children's language and literacy and introduces research-based tactics for teachers to use in designing their literacy programs for children. Exploring how sense making occurs in contemporary literacy practice, Murphy comprehensively covers major topics in literacy, including contemporary multimodal literacy practices, classroom discourse, literacy assessment, language and culture, and teacher knowledge. Organized around themes, talk, reading, and composing, representation, this book comprehensively invites educators to make sense of their own teaching practices while demonstrating the complexities of how children make sense of and represent meaning in today's world. Grounded in research, this text features a wealth of real-world multimodal examples, effective strategies, and teaching tactics to apply to any classroom context. Ideal for literacy courses, preservice teachers, teacher educators, and literacy scholars, this book illustrates how children become literate in contemporary society and how teachers can create the conditions for children to broaden and deepen their sense making and expressive efforts.
