M Hannah Brooks Motl:

M Hannah Brooks-Motl, 2015 Poetry Swinging between examination and revelation Hannah Brooks Motl's second collection of poems M holds a unique place in contemporary poetry written almost as a document to chart the act of a writer reading By transposing lines directly from the essays of Michel de Montaigne with her own she creates a shimmering mirage that enables two distinct voices to blend with confidence and to question the steps we take to make sense of the world That degree of ambition requires great care and thoroughness the ability to see the past clearly in order to invent a skillfully considered and electric present Blowing hot and cold with the same mouth The weapon of memory shattered the sun Lift your eyes to it In the venerable tradition of mining Hannah Brooks Motl engages the poetics of excavation taking Montaigne's Essays as substrate The M of the title may be far removed but his and her spirit holds sway via the burning light of the past in the little way of adjacency Montaigne's very limits of the possible lead onto a quiet exuberance in a poem for example where Invention got big in the world and bigger I made it Wild with making this on imagination If Brooks Motl's subtleties sometimes defy a quick get they also persist in their nested reference like an infant wall of belief Climbing with ivy at night This is the great fond wager of a rich and mysterious work Jean Day M may be for Montaigne the sixteenth century essayist whose humanist imagination gives Brooks Motl permission to look elsewhere into the past for her poetic material but M is also for mind a place these poems love to dwell As readers we get to dwell there too trusting Brooks Motl to sculpt with care and patience in order to offer a world that blooms and moves more generously These ambitious and gorgeous poems are continuously surprising pushing language into a secret landscape or a secret history of the intellect Every turn of phrase every figure and gesture flickers open making manifest the intimate and precipitous experience of reading into and with the past alongside its fragments and tendencies Juliana Leslie

Earth Hannah Brooks-Motl, 2019-09 Poetry With patience and precision Hannah Brooks Motl's third collection of poems EARTH explores the grand themes of love family economy and home with the skill of a true craftsman As the measured compositions of these poems shift so do their near sculptural forms and a feeling both classical and contemporary develops At times a paean to poetry other times a critique of it EARTH is a breakthrough collection by a poet whose ceaselessly sharp intellect continues to use poetry to gain insight into not only her own wants and needs but ours and those of poetry itself

Studies Into Darkness Carin Kuoni, 2022-10-03 There have been few times in US American history when the very concept of freedom of speech its promise and its contradictions has been under greater scrutiny Guided by acclaimed artist filmmaker and activist Amar Kanwar the Vera List Center for Art and Politics at The New School convened a series of public seminars on freedom of speech with the participation of some of the most original thinkers and artists on the topic Structured as an open curriculum each seminar examined a particular aspect of freedom of speech reflecting on and informed by recent debates around hate speech censorship sexism and racism in the US and elsewhere Studies into Darkness emerges from these seminars as a collection of newly commissioned texts artist projects and resources that delve into the intricacies of free speech Providing a practical and historical guide to free speech discourse and in depth investigations that extend far beyond the current moment and featuring poetic responses to the crises present in contemporary culture and society around expression this publication provocatively questions whether true communication is ever attainable Contributions by Zach Blas Mark Bray Natalie Diaz Aruna D Souza Silvia Federici and Gabriela Lopez Dena Jeanne van Heeswijk Shawn Michaela In Holloway Prathibha Kanakamedala and Obden Mond Sir Amar Kanwar Carin Kuoni Lyndon Debora and Abou Svetlana Mintcheva Mendi Keith Obadike Vanessa Place Laura Raicovich Michael Rakowitz Kameelah Janan Rasheed and Nabiha Syed In the Air Anthony Caleshu, 2017-12-05 This first critical book of essays on the poetry of Peter Gizzi shows how his work extends the traditions of nineteenth and twentieth century modernism while also reclaiming the living presence of the lyric in its capacity to sing of the human predicament Gizzi is author of seven critically acclaimed books of poetry including most recently Threshold Songs and Archeophonics a finalist for the National Book Award in 2016 Lauded contributors including Ben Lerner Michael Snediker Marjorie Perloff and Charles Altieri explore Gizzi's poetry for its embodiment of an American tradition extending the poetics of Whitman Dickinson and Stevens amongst others while also exhibiting a twenty first century sensibility perpetuating a new grammar and syntax to capture our place in the world today Each essayist in turn works through close readings of some of the most important poems of our times enriching our understanding of a poetry of the mind which never loses track of what it means to feel Hardcover is unjacketed Women Making History Julia M. Allen, Jocelyn H. Cohen, 2023-10-16 Tells the story of Helaine Victoria Press the first publisher of women's history postcards Expressive Networks Matthew Kilbane, 2025-06-10 Expressive Networks convenes an urgent conversation on digital media and the social life of contemporary poetry Tracing how poems circulate through online spaces and how capitalized platforms have come to pattern the reading and writing of poetry contributors emphasize both the expressivist cast of digital literary culture and the deep running ambivalence that characterizes aesthetic and critical responses to platformed cultural production The volume features chapters on Pan African spoken word programs Singaporean Facebook groups decolonial hemispheric networks and Japanese media critical poetics as well as platforms such as Twitter X Instagram and Amazon Though contributors write from a variety of methodological positions and address themselves to a range of archives they share the primary conviction that the impact of Web 2.0 on literary practice is far reaching far from self evident and far more variegated and unpredictable than easy summations of social media's influence suggest Expressive Networks asks after poetry's present and future by examining what poems themselves express about the social make up of networked platforms Edited by Matthew Kilbane with contributions from Cameron Awkward Rich Micah Bateman Andrew Campana Sumita Chakraborty Scott Challener C. R. Grimmer Tess McNulty Michael Nardone Seth Perlow Anna Preus Susanna Sacks Carly Schnitzler Melanie Walsh and Samuel Caleb Wee The Routledge Companion to Queer Literary Studies Melissa E. dividing line The book's title refers also to a mineral found in azurite and malachite a color medium that had an impact on art during the first phase of globalization the ensuing colonial enterprise and its systems of extraction Carbonate of copper was less desirable than the deeper ultramarine made from ground lapis lazuli but Renaissance artists and patrons nonetheless coveted it and prompted a market for the blue derivative used in tempera and oil pigment The blue powder pigment serves too as a form of sorcery one that would ward off those who deal in injury of the already dispossessed Turning his attention to the forced relocation of peoples the COVID 19 death toll the encroaching dangers of illiberal rule the meanings of home and eviction the power of cultural memory as well as his artistic forebears Tejada accounts for the uncounted and those excluded from belonging in voices that tell the cruel fortunes and joyful vitality of human and non human life forms Political Civility in the Middle East Frederic Volpi, 2014-06-11 Contemporary debates about civility are shaped by the dominant liberal and secular narratives of a peaceful world of sovereign nation states For contemporary scholars and policy makers the challenge is to insert meaningfully the political evolution of the Middle East in the dominant liberal democratic discourse about the current international order without invoking ill conceived notions of Islamic exceptionalism The analyses gathered in this book challenge conventional western perspectives on civility as an expression of state guaranteed free association in a non violent space of discourse and behaviour Considering the articulation of civil and civilized state society relations in contemporary Middle Eastern polities this book proposes both conceptual and empirical insights into the dynamics of the local national and trans national formation of civility and of the civil sphere Bypassing traditional oppositions between the western and Islamic modernity it provides an account of the communicative clusters of civility that represent the everyday formations of Islamic and secular subjects in settings organized by authoritarian inclined state institutions and practices It examines how the grassroots formation of new religious and secular identities subjectivities and their relations with the Other underpin as well as challenge and transform the state led processes of political ordering of a national and regional community This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

The Etymological Poetry of W. H. Auden, J. H. Prynne, and Paul Muldoon Mia Gaudern, 2020-07-10 This book defines analyses and theorises a late modern etymological poetry that is alive to the past lives of its words and probes the possible significance of them both explicitly and implicitly Close readings of poetry and criticism by Auden Prynne and Muldoon investigate the implications of their etymological perspectives for the way their language establishes relationships between people and between people and the world These twin functions of communication and representation are shown to be central to the critical reception of etymological poetry which is a category of difficult poetry However resonant poetic etymologising may be critics warn that it shows the poet's natural interest in language degenerating into an unhealthy obsession with the dictionary It is unavoidably pedantic in the post Saussurean era to entertain the idea that a word's history might have any relevance to its current use As such etymological poetry elicits the closest of close readings thus encouraging readers to reflect not only on its own pedantry obscurity and virtuosity but also on how these qualities function in criticism As well as presenting a new way of reading three very different late modern poet critics this book addresses an understudied aspect of the relationship between poetry and criticism Its findings are situated in the context of literary debates about difficulty and diction and in larger cultural conversations about the workings of language as a historical event Montaigne in Barn Boots Michael Perry, 2017-11-07

The beloved memoirist and bestselling author of Population 485 reflects on the lessons he's learned from his unlikely alter ego French Renaissance philosopher Michel de Montaigne The journey began on a gurney writes Michael Perry describing the debilitating kidney stone that led him to discover the essays of Michel de Montaigne Reading the philosopher in a manner he equates to chickens pecking at scraps including those eye blinking moments when the bird gobbles something too big to swallow Perry attempts to learn what he can good and bad about himself as compared to a long dead French nobleman who began speaking Latin at the age of two went to college instead of kindergarten worked for kings and once had an audience with the Pope Perry matriculated as a barn booted bumpkin who still marks a second place finish in the sixth grade spelling bee as an intellectual pinnacle and once said hello to Merle Haggard on a golf cart Written in a spirit of exploration rather than declaration Montaigne in Barn Boots is a down to earth how do you pronounce that last name look into the ideas of a philosopher ensconced in a castle tower overlooking his vineyard channeled by a midwestern American writing in a room above the garage overlooking a disused pig pen Whether grabbing an electrified fence fighting fires failing to fix a truck or feeding chickens Perry draws on each experience to explore subjects as diverse as faith race sex aromatherapy and Prince But he also champions academics and aesthetics in a book that ultimately emerges as a sincere unflinching look at the vital need to be a better person and citizen Maria Thereza Alves Carin Kuoni, Wilma Lukatsch, 2023-04-25

In an era of climate change extractivist economies and forced mobility who and what belongs Throughout her prolific career Brazilian artist Maria Thereza Alves has focused precisely on this question Perhaps her most iconic generative and expansive work is Seeds of Change a twenty year investigation into the hidden history of ballast flora displaced plant seeds found in the soil used to balance shipping vessels during the colonial period The project examines the influx and significance of imported plants materializing at port cities across several continents Marseille Reposaari Liverpool Exeter and Topsham Dunkerque Bristol Antwerp and most recently New York where it was awarded the Jane Lombard Prize for Art and Social Justice by the Vera List Center for Art and Politics at The New School In each city Seeds of Change has revealed the entangled relationship between alien plant species and the colonial maritime trade of goods and enslaved peoples contrasting their seemingly innocuous beauty with the violent history associated with their arrival By focusing on ballast flora Alves invites us to de border postcolonial historical narratives and consider a borderless history The first monograph of Alves's historic project Seeds of Change is edited by Carin Kuoni and Wilma Lukatsch and features essays by the artist as well as Katayoun Chamany Seth Denizen Jean Fisher Yrj Haila Richard William Hill Heli M Jutila J K haulani Kauanui Lara Khaldi Toma Mastnak Marisa
