

House- Tree- Person Technique

- Developed by John Buck in 1948
- Child is asked to draw a house, tree and person on three separate sheets of paper
- The tree is meant to evoke their strengths and weaknesses
- The house is meant to raise feelings of family
- The person reveals their self- concept
- Family Drawings are a way to elicit feelings for children in a non-threatening way

Drawings in Assessment and Psychotherapy Leonard Handler, Antoinette D. Thomas, 2013-11-20 Drawing is a language projected by children and adults reflecting their joy and pain It is used extensively by clinical psychologists art therapists social workers and other mental health professionals in the assessment and treatment of children adolescents adults and couples This book brings together a renowned group of professionals to analyze the research and application of the most popular assessment and treatment tools Tests discussed include the Draw a Person Test the House Tree Person Test the Kinetic Family Drawing Test the Art Therapy Projective Imagery Assessment and the Wartegg Drawing Completion Test Working with sexually and physically abused children assessing clients with anorexia nervosa and the influence of osteopathic treatment on drawings are some of the special topics considered Numerous case studies are also included

Interpreting Projective Drawings Marvin Leibowitz, 2013-06-17 The use of drawings to discover emotions attitudes and personality traits not verbally stated by a client is a valuable and widely used technique in psychoanalysis and psychotherapy In this book the author offers a highly practical introduction to the use and interpretation of projective drawings Grounding his approach in self psychology Dr Leibowitz provides detailed information on how to interpret house tree man woman and animal drawings By pairing clinical case examples with general interpretation guidelines the book offers a thorough examination of projective drawings making it a valuable text for beginners and an important reference source for the seasoned clinician Interpreting Projective Drawings contains an impressive array of drawings with over 175 total illustrations Almost half of these drawings are from comprehensive case studies that follow adult patients from the beginning phase of treatment to their one year or more status These include over 30 chromatic illustrations that clearly demonstrate the importance of color in projective drawing interpretation In addition to detailed information on how to interpret these five types of achromatic and chromatic drawings the book also contains an appendix that offers examiner instructions instructions for self administration and adjective lists to aid in interpretation Together these components make Interpreting Projective Drawings an essential resource for any mental health professional interested in using drawings to their fullest effect in their practice

The Projective Use Of Mother-And- Child Drawings: A Manual Jacquelyn Gillespie, 2013-08-21 A unique and powerful new projective technique is now available to mental health professionals Based on the most primary of human relationships that between mother and child this technique is able to foster projections and identify perceptions of self and others that carry an unusually strong component of unconscious material Strikingly clear and accessible The Projective Use of Mother and Child Drawings is one of the few books on projective techniques to provide a consistent theoretical outlook and to address the very significant issues of transference and countertransference as they relate to this technique While firmly grounded in a psychodynamic view of personality development the volume also conveys a clinical outlook with applications suitable to a variety of theoretical paradigms The author comprehensively considers the theoretical and practical aspects of mother and child drawings and how to both use and assess them to gain insight into the most fundamental reaches of the self She consistently cautions against overly simplified interpretations of the drawings and stresses the importance of using conclusions drawn from them only as indications for further assessment confirmation or rejection The book is replete with examples of mother and child drawings from all age groups in both average populations and those with both mental and physical pathologies The volume opens with a careful discussion of the theoretical considerations behind mother and child drawings as well as the development and validation of projective drawing techniques in general The next section on research issues discourages diagnostic labeling in favor of making optimum use of the highly personal and idiosyncratic nature of these drawings This chapter features an interesting attempt to classify mother and child drawings in relation to size of the figures A particularly fascinating chapter on the impact of art on the therapist focuses on artwork done by professional artists who have addressed the mother and child theme The author explores and analyzes several thematic works of art from varying time periods and cultures It is her intent to help mental health professionals to explore their responses to pictorial art as individuals and thereby gain new understandings of related transference and countertransference issues with clients Chapter four provides clear instructions for administering mother and child drawings as a projective technique and guidelines for their interpretation This section provides samples and analyses of age typical drawings from the general population They vary greatly in style and artistic proficiency and are included to provide an idea of the usual developmental sequence of drawing characteristics from early childhood through the adult years Drawings of groups with demonstrated psychological pathologies or physical and developmental abnormalities comprise the final chapter This section approaches the interpretation of drawings by asking questions about how they communicate basic self and object relations issues This commanding volume of interest to students and professionals alike will provide art therapists school psychologists and mental health practitioners of all stripes with a powerful new projective technique to add to their professional armamentarium

Bonvillian, Nicole Kissane Lee, Tracy T. Dooley, Filip T. Loncke, 2020-07-30 Simplified Signs presents a system of manual sign communication intended for special populations who have had limited success mastering spoken or full sign languages. It is the culmination of over twenty years of research and development by the authors. The Simplified Sign System has been developed and tested for ease of sign comprehension, memorization, and formation by limiting the complexity of the motor skills required to form each sign and by ensuring that each sign visually resembles the meaning it conveys. Volume 1 outlines the research underpinning and informing the project and places the Simplified Sign System in a wider context of sign usage historically and by different populations. Volume 2 presents the lexicon of signs totalling approximately 1000 signs, each with a clear illustration and a written description of how the sign is formed, as well as a memory aid that connects the sign visually to the meaning that it conveys. While the Simplified Sign System originally was developed to meet the needs of persons with intellectual disabilities, cerebral palsy, autism, or aphasia, it may also assist the communication needs of a wider audience, such as healthcare professionals, aid workers, military personnel, travellers, or parents and children who have not yet mastered spoken language. The system also has been shown to enhance learning for individuals studying a foreign language. Lucid and comprehensive, this work constitutes a valuable resource that will enhance the communicative interactions of many different people and will be of great interest to researchers and educators alike.

The Nature of Consciousness Ned Block, Owen Flanagan, Guven Guzeldere, 1997-09-10. Intended for anyone attempting to find their way through the large and confusingly interwoven philosophical literature on consciousness, this reader brings together most of the principal texts in philosophy and a small set of related key works in neuropsychology on consciousness through 1997 and includes some forthcoming articles. Its extensive coverage strikes a balance between seminal works of the past few decades and the leading edge of philosophical research on consciousness. As no other anthology currently does, The Nature of Consciousness provides a substantial introduction to the field and imposes structure on a vast and complicated literature with sections covering stream of consciousness, theoretical issues, consciousness and representation, the function of consciousness, subjectivity, and the explanatory gap, the knowledge argument, qualia, and monitoring conceptions of consciousness. Of the 49 contributions, 18 are either new or have been adapted from a previous publication.

A Session by Session Guide to Life Story Work Gillian Shotton, 2020-10-12. Life story work is a term often used to describe an approach that helps looked after and adopted children to talk and learn about their life experiences with the help of a trusted adult. This book is an essential step by step guide for carers and professionals seeking to carry out life story work with a traumatised or vulnerable child in their care. Underpinned by positive psychology and drawing on up to date research and real life practice, the book offers a sound theoretical understanding of life story work as well as a practical and easy to use programme of sessions. Each session covers the equipment and information needed, a consideration of who is best placed to carry out the work, and answers to commonly raised questions. Also discussed are age appropriate approaches and ideas for extending each session into other activities and methods to make it more feasible for life story work to be a shared activity between two or three adults who know the child well This book gives professionals and carers the confidence to carry out life story work in a way that is sensitive to the child's needs and positive for their self perception and relationships
