Cultural Encounters and Emergent Practices in Conflict Resolution

Capacity-Building Tamra Pearson d'Estrée, Ruth J. Parsons, 2018-05-31 Undoubtedly the most comprehensive analysis of the role of culture and emergent practices in capacity building currently at hand d'Estrée and Parsons have produced a commendable amalgamation and scrutiny of local cultural and Indigenous mediation practices in a number of contexts that empower local people while interacting and integrating with Western mediation models in a blend of hybridity The book is beautifully structured and will attract a wide readership including graduate and undergraduate students Sean Byrne Director

Arthur V Mauro Centre for Peace Justice and Professor Peace Conflict Studies University of Manitoba Canada Since late 1990s conflict resolution field has recognized the need to integrate culture in its processes This book goes beyond such theoretical recognition and provides empirical evidence and solid concrete cases on how local actors from a wide range of cultural contexts integrated their cultural analysis and tools in their own sustainable conflict resolution processes It also offers an effective set of guidelines and lessons learned for policy makers and peacebuilding practitioners on the need to deepen their reliance on local cultural practices of peace Mohammed Abu Nimer Professor of International Peace and Conflict Resolution School of International Service American University and Founder and Director of the Salam Peacebuilding and Justice Institute in Washington DC USA The evolving identities of communities impacted by deep historical divisions and population migration in the context of life threatening resource shortages present opportunities and challenges for conflict transformation professionals at every level d Estr e and Parsons respond to this challenge with a remarkable collection of stories from around the world that amplify the innovation in the field while capturing its history and complexity It serves as the bridge between mediation and peacebuilding that is so necessary today Prabha Sankaranarayan CEO Mediators Beyond Borders International In this excellent book Tamra Pearson d Estr e and Ruth Parsons and their impressive collection of case study authors have analysed four generations of conflict resolution transformation theory and practice They highlight the diverse ways in which the burgeoning field of conflict resolution theorists and practitioners mirrored the ascendance and now decline of the neo liberal western project First and second generation efforts were based on notions of possessive individualism rational choice theory and a general acceptance of the status quo Culture was ignored or eliminated as were deeper questions of political and social inequality But more importantly there was an unwillingness to consider the power and the wisdom that resided in locality Third and fourth generation conflict transformers on the other hand have engaged these deeper questions and focused more attention on emancipatory creative partnerships social and economic justice co learning and hybridised models flowing from external engagement with local wisdom This is a book that needs to be read by anyone interested in the transformative power of conflict resolution and long term social and political change Kevin P Clements Professor Chair and Foundation Director The National Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies University of Otago New Zealand While waves of scholarship have focused either on the value of presumed universal models or of traditional practices of conflict resolution curiously missing has been the recognition and analysis of the actual intermingling and interacting of western and local cultural practices that have produced new and emergent practices in our global community In this compilation of case studies the authors describe partnerships forged between local practice expertise and bearers of western institutional models to build innovative approaches to mediation and conflict resolution Including stories of these experiences and the resulting hybrid models that emerged the book explores central questions of cultural variation and integration such as the perception of purpose and function of resolution processes attitudes toward conflict arenas and timeframes third party roles barriers to process use as well as how to remain true to culture and context It also examines partnership dynamics and lessons learned for modern cross cultural collaboration Moving Toward a Just Peace Jan Marie Fritz, 2013-11-18 Mediation the facilitated discussion of disputes and conflicts is a flexible approach that can be used at all levels of intervention to move us toward a global peace that is both inclusive and fair This volume edited by Jan Marie Fritz brings together mediators scholar practitioners and a veteran diplomat to discuss the life and times of mediation in very different settings The 14 chapters include three essays about culture creativity and models theories approaches And there are ten chapters about practice community mediation mediation by police special education mediation interventions on behalf of widows in Nigeria capacity building work in Burundi mediation in Israel the creative facilitation of meetings community conferencing UN Security Council Resolution 1325 Women and Peace and Security and the role of civil society organizations in peacebuilding This volume discusses the expanding roles from prevention through societal transformation assumed by mediators and the urgent need for mediators working at different intervention levels to learn from each other This volume is a must read for scholars researchers policymakers civil society representatives and practitioners with interests in effective dispute and conflict intervention It particularly is recommended for those managing dispute and conflict intervention processes

Peaceful Intervention in Intra-State Conflicts Chanaka Talpahewa, 2016-03-03 Have we reached an end to the era of peaceful third party intervention in conflict management and resolution In the 1990s with the ending of the Cold War the intervention of third parties as a non violent means of negotiating settlements of intra state conflicts gained prominence but the emphasis in the twenty first century has been increasingly on military responses Peaceful Intervention in Intra State Conflicts Norwegian Involvement in the Sri Lankan Peace Process is an in depth impartial discussion on the background decision making processes and procedures and related actions in the Norwegian facilitated peace process in Sri Lanka that gradually shifted towards a military solution It provides the reader with evidence based comprehensive analysis on the attempts of peaceful third party intervention in a complex ethno separatist intra state conflict
