status in the life cycle Parents protect nurture and teach their progeny even if human development is more dynamic than can be determined by parental caregiving alone Volume 1 of the Handbook of Parenting begins with chapters concerned with how children influence parenting Notable are their more obvious characteristics like child age or developmental stage but subtler ones like child gender physical state temperament mental ability and other individual differences factors are also instrumental The chapters in Part I on Parenting across the Lifespan discuss the unique rewards and special demands of parenting children of different ages and stages infants toddlers youngsters in middle childhood and adolescents as well as the modern notion of parent child relationships in emerging adulthood adulthood and old age The chapters in Part II on Parenting Children of Varying Status discuss common issues associated with parenting children of different genders and temperaments as well as unique situations of parenting adopted and foster children and children with a variety of special needs such as those with extreme talent born preterm who are socially withdrawn or aggressive or who fall on the autistic spectrum manifest intellectual disabilities or suffer a chronic health condition

Handbook of Parenting Marc H. Bornstein, 2012-08-01 Completely revised and expanded from four to five volumes this new edition of the Handbook of Parenting appears at a time that is momentous in the history of parenting Parenting and the family are today in a greater state of flux question and redefinition than perhaps ever before We are witnessing the emergence of striking permutations on the theme of parenting blended families lesbian and gay parents and teen versus fifties first time moms and dads One cannot but be awed on the biological front by technology that now not only renders postmenopausal women capable of childbearing but also presents us with the possibility of designing babies Similarly on the sociological front single parenthood is a modern day fact of life adult child dependency is on the rise and parents are ever less certain of their own roles even in the face of rising environmental and institutional demands that they take increasing responsibility for their offspring The Handbook of Parenting concerns itself with different types of parents mothers and fathers single adolescent and adoptive parents basic characteristics of parenting behaviors knowledge beliefs and expectations about parenting forces that shape parenting evolution genetics biology employment social class culture environment and history problems faced by parents handicap marital difficulties drug addiction and practical concerns of parenting how to promote children's health foster social adjustment and cognitive competence and interact with school legal and public officials Contributors to the Handbook of Parenting have worked in different ways toward understanding all these diverse aspects of parenting and all look to the most recent research and thinking in the field to shed light on many topics every parent wonders about Each chapter addresses a different but central topic in parenting each is rooted in current thinking and theory as well as classical and modern research in that topic each has been written to be read and absorbed in a single sitting In addition each chapter follows a standard organization including an introduction to the chapter as a whole followed by historical considerations of the topic a discussion of central issues and theory a review of classical and modern research forecasts of future directions of theory and research and a set of conclusions Of course contributors own convictions and research are considered but contributions to this new edition present all major points of view and central lines of inquiry and interpret them broadly The Handbook of Parenting is intended to be both comprehensive and state of the art As the expanded scope of this second edition amply shows parenting is naturally and closely allied with many other fields Handbook of Parenting Marc H.
