J.M. Coetzee's Austerities Graham Bradshaw, Michael Neill, 2010 J.M. Coetzee's Austerities Graham Bradshaw, Michael Neill, 2016-05-06 Representing a wide range of critical and theoretical perspectives this volume examines J M Coetzee's novels from Dusklands to Diary of a Bad Year The choice of essays reflects three broad goals aligning the South African dimension of Coetzee's writing with his late modernist aesthetic exploring the relationship between Coetzee's novels and his essays on linguistics and paying particular attention to his more recent fictional experiments These objectives are realized in essays focusing on among other matters the function of names and etymology in Coetzee's fiction the vexed relationship between art and politics in apartheid South Africa the importance of film in Coetzee's literary sensibility Coetzee's reworkings of Defoe the paradoxes inherent in confessional narratives ethics and the controversial politics of reading Disgrace intertextuality and the fictional self-consciousness of Slow Man Through its pronounced emphasis on the novelist's later work the collection points towards a narratological and linguistic reassessment of the Coetzee canon The Shakespearean International Yearbook Jonathan Gil Harris, 2017-05-15 This eighth volume of The Shakespearean International Yearbook presents a special section on European Shakespeares proceeding from the claim that Shakespeare's literary craft was not just native English or British but was filtered and fashioned through a Renaissance awareness that needs to be recognized as European and that has had effects and afterlives across the Continent Guest editors Ton Hoenselaars and Clara Calvo have constructed this section to highlight both how the spread of Shakespeare throughout Europe has brought together the energies of a wide variety of European cultures across several centuries and how the inclusion of Shakespeare in European culture has been not only a European but also a world affair The Shakespearean International Yearbook continues to provide an annual survey of important issues and developments in contemporary Shakespeare studies Contributors to this issue come from the US and the UK Spain Switzerland and South Africa Canada The Netherlands India Portugal Greece France and Hungary In addition to the section on European Shakespeares this volume includes essays on the genre of romance issues of character and other topics J. M. Coetzee and Neoliberal Culture Andrew Gibson, 2022 Reads the writings of J M Coetzee against the democratic culture of neoliberalism and examines how by aesthetic means he enters a range of nuanced subtly inflected differences with the dominant culture and how his readers can enter them via attention to his work J.M. Coetzee and the Ethics of Power Emanuela Tegla, 2016-01-12 For I was not as I liked to believe the indulgent pleasure loving opposite of the cold rigid Colonel I was the lie that Empire tells itself when times are easy he the truth that Empire tells when harsh winds blow Thus the Magistrate confesses in Coetzee's 1980 novel Waiting for the Barbarians The present study looks closely into the unsettling effects Coetzee's novels have on the reader and explores the interconnectedness between stylistic choices and moral insights Its overall aim is to disclose the effectiveness of Coetzee's narrative strategies to prompt the reader to engage in self-questioning and radical revisions of personal and social moral assumptions This is an original and ground breaking study of Coetzee s work Dr Tegla s insightful close readings highlight the ways in which Coetzee fictionalizes a variety of moral dilemmas In particular she shows how he turns narrative into an instrument for moral discernment Her narratological approach advances our understanding of his achievements and I can state without reservation that this book will be referred to as a landmark in Coetzee criticism Richard Bradford Research Professor and Senior Distinguished Research Fellow University of Ulster

J.M. Coetzee and the Archive Marc Farrant, Kai Easton, Hermann Wittenberg, 2021-03-25 Making extensive use of the rich archival material contained within the Coetzee collections in Texas and South Africa from the earliest drafts and notebooks to the research notes and digital records that document his later career as both writer and academic this volume investigates the historical cultural and aesthetic contexts of Coetzee s oeuvre Cutting edge and interdisciplinary in approach the book looks both at the prolific archival traces of Coetzee s early and middle work as well as examines his more recent work which has yet to be archived and a wide range of materials beyond the manuscripts including family albums school notebooks and correspondence Navigating Coetzee s interests in areas as diverse as literature photography autobiography philosophy animals and embodied life this is also an exploration of the archive as both theory and practice It raises questions about the tensions contradictions and discoveries of archival research and suggests that a literary engagement with the past is crucial to a recovery of culture in the present

Secretary of the Invisible Mike Marais, 2009-01-01 How do individuals who are part of a community respond to the stranger as a stranger i e without simply positioning this outsider in opposition to the community in which they are located How may individuals receive something unknown and therefore surprising into their world without compromising it by identifying it in the terms of that world In this study Mike Marais traces the various ways in which Coetzee s fiction from Dusklands through to Slow Man repeatedly poses such questions of hospitality It is shown that the form of ethical action staged in Coetzee s writing is grounded not in the individual s willed and rational achievement but in his or her invasion and possession by the strangeness of the stranger This ethic of hospitality Marais argues has a strong aesthetic dimension for Coetzee the writer is inspired to write by being acted upon by a force from beyond the phenomenal world The writer is a secretary of the invisible She or he is responsible to and for the invisible Marais maintains that this understanding of writing as an involuntary response to that which exceeds history is evident from the first in Coetzee s fiction In readings of the novels of the apartheid era he traces this writer s rueful ironic awareness of the limited even incidental form of political engagement that may emanate from such an aesthetic He then goes on to argue that if it is the writer s obligation to render visible the invisible writing must be a task that can never be completed What is more such writing is thus bound to be iterative in form With this in mind he traces the structural similarities between Coetzee s writing of the apartheid period and his post apartheid and Australian writing arguing that the later texts are self reflexively aware of their endlessly repetitive nature These contentions are developed incrementally through close readings of the individual novels that focus on recurring metaphors of hospitality visitor the stranger the house the castaway the invisible the dream and the child The Slow Philosophy of J. M. Coetzee Jan Wilm,2016-06-16 In The Slow Philosophy of J M Coetzee Jan Wilm analyses Coetzee s singular aesthetic style which he argues provokes the reader to read his works slowly The effected slow reading is developed into a method specifically geared to analyzing Coetzee s singular oeuvre and it is shown that his works productively decelerate the reading process only to dynamize the reader s reflexion in a way that may be termed philosophical Drawing on fresh archival material this is the first study of its kind to explore Coetzee s writing process as already slow as a program of seemingly relentless revision which brings forth his uniquely dense and crystalline style Through the incorporation of material from drafts and notebooks this study is also the first to combine an exploration of the writer s stylistic choices with a rigorous analysis of the reader s responses The book includes close readings of Coetzee s popular and lesser known work including Disgrace Waiting for the Barbarians Elizabeth Costello Life and Times of Michael K and Slow Man The Body, Desire and Storytelling in Novels by J. M. Coetzee Olfa Belgacem,2018-10-26 Asserting that Coetzee s representation of the body as subject to dismemberment counters the colonial representation of the other s body as exotic and erotically charged this study inspects the ambivalence pertaining to Coetzee s embodied representation of the other and reveals the risks that come with such contrapuntal reiteration Through the study of the narrative identity of the colonial other and her his body s representation the book also unveils the author s own authorial identity exposed through the repetitive narrative patterns and characterization choices Racial and Ethnic Identities in the Media Eleftheria Arapoglou,Yiorgos Kalogeras,Jopi Nyman,2016-07-30 This volume examines the role and representation of race and ethnicity in the media with particular emphasis on the United States It highlights contemporary work that focuses on changing meanings of racial and ethnic identity as they are represented in the media television and film digital and print media are under examination Through fourteen innovative and interdisciplinary case studies written by a team of internationally based contributors the volume identifies ways in which ethnic racial and national identities have been produced reproduced stereotyped and contested It showcases new emerging theoretical approaches in the field and pays particular attention to the role of race ethnicity and national identity along with communal and transnational allegiances in the making of identities in the media The topics of the chapters range from immigrant newspapers and gangster cinema to ethnic stand up comedy and the use of race in advertising Critical Modesty in Contemporary Fiction Thom Dancer,2021-09-09 From climate catastrophe to pandemics and economic crises the problems facing humanity can feel impossible to solve Critical Modesty in Contemporary Fiction argues that contemporary fiction helps those who may feel despair at the enormity of such problems not as usually assumed through the ambitious search for grand solutions but rather by cultivating a temperament of modesty This new temperament of critical modesty locates the fight for freedom and human dignity within the limited and compromised conditions in which we find ourselves Through readings of Ian McEwan Zadie Smith J M Coetzee and David Mitchell Critical

Modesty in Contemporary Fiction advances a claim for the value of temperament in general as a crucial analytic for understanding contemporary experience as well as for a particular temperament of critical modesty as crucial in negotiating the limits of critical and human agency that constitute our daily lives Exploring modest forms of entangled human agency that represent an alternative to the novel of the large scale that have been most closely associated with the Anthropocene this volume makes the surprising case that by adopting a modest stance the novel has the potential to play a more important socio cultural role than it has done In doing so it offers an engaging response to the debate over critical and surface readings bringing novels themselves into the conversation and arguing for a fictional mode that is both critical and modest reminding us how much we are already engaged with the world implicated and compromised before we start developing theories writing stories or acting within it

Toxic Belonging? Identity and Ecology in Southern Africa Dan Wylie, 2009-03-26 Southern Africa s literatures brim with references to the natural world its landscapes and its animals Both fictional and non fictional works express ongoing debates often highly politicised concerning its various groups senses of identity and belonging in relation to the land and its denizens This often involves a pervasive tension between Western settler societies conceptions of modernity and indigenous world views each complicating the often simplistic binarisms drawn between them In this selection of papers from the 2006 Literature and Ecology Colloquium held in Grahamstown South Africa the complexities of forging imaginative and pragmatic senses of belonging in Southern Africa are explored from a variety of disciplinary perspectives philosophical historical botanical and anthropological as well as literary Their subject matter ranges widely from Bushmen testimonies to Berlin missionaries from prehistoric cave dwellers to Schopenhauer from white Batswana to lion tamers but find themselves echoing one another in intriguing and illuminating ways These are highly localised meditations on age old questions What does it mean to be human within a natural environment Why do we appear to be so damaging to the ecology that sustains us Is our presence inevitably toxic to our planetary fellow travellers How do we forge an ecologically sound sense of belonging in this post colonial post apartheid post modern era If this collection has a single most prominent question binding it together it is this What are the limits and potentialities of human compassion towards the natural world

Guest editors Ton Hoenselaars and Clara Calvo have constructed this section to highlight both how the spread of Shakespeare throughout Europe has brought together the energies of a wide variety of European cultures across several centuries and how the inclusion of Shakespeare in European culture has been not only a European but also a world affair. Literature, Pedagogy, and Climate Change Roman Bartosch, 2019-11-21. Literature Pedagogy and Climate Change: Text Models for a Transcultural Ecology asks two questions: How do we read in the Anthropocene? And what can reading teach us? To answer these questions, the book develops a concept of transcultural ecology that understands fiction and interpretation as text models that help address the various and incommensurable scales inherent to climate change. Focussing on text composition, reception, storyworlds, and narrative framing in world literature and elsewhere, each chapter elaborates on central educational objectives through the close reading of texts by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, Teju Cole, and J. M. Coetzee, as well as films, picture books, and new digital media and their aesthetic affordances. At the end of each chapter, these objectives are summarised in sections on the general implications for studying and teaching GIST, and together offer a new concept of transcultural competence in conversation with current debates in literature pedagogy and educational philosophy.
