Disney Channel's Extraordinary Girls Christina H. Hodel, 2024-03-12 Between 2001 2011 Disney Channel produced several sitcoms aimed at tweens that featured female protagonists with extraordinary abilities e.g. celebrity and super magical powers In this book Christina H Hodel argues that while male counterparts in similar programs openly displayed their extraordinariness the female characters in these programs were often forced into hiding and secrecy which significantly diminished their agency She analyzes sitcom episodes commentary in magazine articles and web based discussions of these series to examine how they portrayed female youths and the impact it had on its adolescent viewers Combining close readings of dialogue and action with socioeconomic and historical contextual insights Hodel sheds new light on the attitudes of the creators of these programs mostly white middle aged Western heterosexual males and the long term impact on women today Ultimately her analysis shows these blockbuster sitcoms reveal that despite Disney's progress toward creating empowered girls the network was and still is locked into tradition This book is of interest to scholars of Disney studies cultural studies television studies and gender studies

Tween Girls' Dressing and Young Femininity in Singapore Bernice Loh, 2022-04-19 This book provides an insight into girls cultural identities and young femininities through an understanding of tween girls dressing in Singapore The book adopts a girl centred approach to shed light on the narratives and experiences of young Singaporean girls that have often been overlooked It draws on the conversations with young Singaporean girls aged 8 to 12 to understand how they wanted to dress from where they gained their inspiration and what the social factors were that influenced their dressing Through understanding how girls want to fashion themselves the book shows that it is imprecise to discuss issues based on the assumption that there is one dominant correct way to grow up as a young person in Singapore This book unpacks how young Singaporean girls negotiate their cultural identities through clothing that do not simply conform to or reflect their roles as students It also shows how girlhood in Singapore is multi faceted and the values and meanings that tween girls attach to their dressing intersect at the personal social and cultural level The book offers new ways of approaching and looking at girls adult like dressing that move beyond the discourse of sexualisation In establishing a space for young Singaporean girls voices in an area that has been dominated by studies from the West this book also shows how the focus on tween girls in Asia can contribute to and advance the current state of girls studies
