The Charisma Machine Morgan G. Ames, 2019-11-19 A fascinating examination of technological utopianism and its complicated consequences In The Charisma Machine Morgan Ames chronicles the life and legacy of the One Laptop per Child project and explains why despite its failures the same utopian visions that inspired OLPC still motivate other projects trying to use technology to disrupt education and development Announced in 2005 by MIT Media Lab cofounder Nicholas Negroponte One Laptop per Child promised to transform the lives of children across the Global South with a small sturdy and cheap laptop computer powered by a hand crank In reality the project fell short in many ways starting with the hand crank which never materialized Yet the project remained charismatic to many who were captivated by its claims of access to educational opportunities previously out of reach Behind its promises OLPC like many technology projects that make similarly grand claims had a fundamentally flawed vision of who the computer was made for and what role technology should play in learning Drawing on fifty years of history and a seven month study of a model OLPC project in Paraguay Ames reveals that the laptops were not only frustrating to use easy to break and hard to repair they were designed for technically precocious boys idealized younger versions of the developers themselves rather than the children who were actually using them The Charisma Machine offers a cautionary tale about the allure of technology hype and the problems that result when utopian dreams drive technology development The CMO's Periodic Table Drew Neisser,2015-11-17 Imagine how much you would learn if you could converse with 64 of the brightest minds in marketing Now imagine if those conversations were focused on all the essential elements that go into being a top notch chief marketing officer and organized into seven logical intuitive categories Now you can stop imagining and start reading The CMO s Periodic Table an essential resource for the modern marketer Over the last five years thanks in large part to his friends at The CMO Club author Drew Neisser has interviewed over 100 marketing leaders at prominent companies such as American Express Audi Belkin Black Duck Software Converse College Humor D B Dow and many more These interviews 64 of which are highlighted in this book reflect the fundamental diversity of challenges and subsequent solution sets deployed by each Though these interviews don t yield a magic formula they offer something a bit more profound and definitely more fundamental a compendium of elements that every marketer has or will need to examine in the very near future Organized into a CMO worthy periodic table modeled on the classic organization of the chemical elements the chapters progress from basic challenges like research and strategy to internal issues like culture change and managing up to advanced highly volatile subjects like risk taking and changing agencies Designing with Type, 5th Edition James Craig,Irene Korol Scala,2012-05-16 The classic Designing with Type has been completely redesigned with an updated format and full color throughout New information and new images make this perennial best seller an even more valuable tool for anyone interested in learning about typography The fifth edition has been integrated with a convenient website www.designingwithtype.com where students and teachers can examine hundreds of design solutions and explore a world of typographic information First published more than thirty five years ago Designing with Type has sold more than 250 000 copies and this fully updated edition with its new online resource will educate and inspire a new generation of designers Empowering Novice Academics for Student Success Dr Johann Hugo,2021-04-26 This book is essential for academics that enter the field of higher education and training as it focuses on preparing teachers
