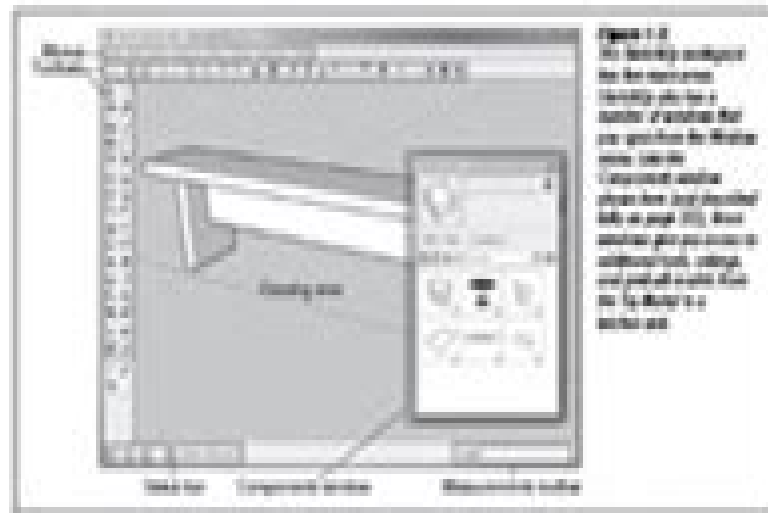

Figure 1-1: The SketchUp window. The SketchUp window is the main window for SketchUp. It contains a 3D view of the model you are working on, a toolbar, and a component window. The component window shows a list of components in the model, and you can click on a component to select it. The toolbar contains icons for various tools, and you can click on a tool to activate it. The SketchUp window also has a menu bar at the top, and you can click on a menu item to open a menu.

In addition to the five main windows, SketchUp also includes several other windows, such as the Component window that's open in Figure 1-1. You can open and close these as needed by using the Window menu. With the tools in these windows, you'll apply color and shading to your models, select prefabricated components, add shadows and lighting effects, and export your project.

Don't Be Afraid to Play

When you get started, don't be too afraid to play. SketchUp is a 3D modeling software, and it's designed to be fun to use. Don't be afraid to experiment with the tools and see what happens. You can always undo a mistake, and you can save your work frequently. Don't be afraid to ask for help if you need it.

It's important to remember that SketchUp is a 3D modeling software, and it's designed to be fun to use. Don't be afraid to experiment with the tools and see what happens. You can always undo a mistake, and you can save your work frequently. Don't be afraid to ask for help if you need it.

SketchUp's menu bar is located at the top of the window, and it contains the following items: File, Edit, Window, and Help. SketchUp's View menu is a little different from the ones in most programs (Figure 1-2). The View menu has items in the SketchUp window that you can show or hide, including things like the drawing guides, wireframe, component window, and view different models. If you're looking for tools that change over time of the SketchUp window, such as a View or the tool, look under the Window menu.
