In a patchwork narrative interwoven with dark memories from her childhood, McElmurray deftly treads where few dare into a gritty honest exploration of the loss a birth mother experiences. The year was 1973, a time of social upheaval even in small town Kentucky where McElmurray grew up. More than a story of time and place, however, this is about a girl who at the age of sixteen relinquished her son at birth. Twenty five years would pass before McElmurray began sharing this part of her past with others and actively looking for her son. McElmurray's own troubled upbringing and her quest after a now fully grown son are the heart of her story. With unflinching honesty, McElmurray recounts both the painful surrendering and the surprise rediscovery of her son juxtaposed with her portrayal of her own mother who could not provide the love she needed. The dramatic result is a story of birthright lost and found and an exploration of the meaning of motherhood itself. Wilson Library Bulletin Stanley Kunitz, Marie Duvernoy Loizeaux, 1929

Suture KJ Cerankowski, 2021 Combining memoir, lyrical essay and cultural criticism, KJ Cerankowski's Suture: Trauma and Trans becomes stitches together an embodied history of trauma and its ongoing impacts on the lived realities of trans, queer and other marginalized subjects. Suture is a conjuration, a patchwork knitting of ghost stories attending to the wound as its own archive. It is a journey through many transitions of gender through illness and chronic pain from childhood to adulthood and back again of psyche and form in the wake of abuse and through the work of healing and of the self becoming in and through the ongoingness of settler colonial violence and its attendant subjugations of diverse forms of life. Refusing a traditional binary based gender transition narrative as well as dominant psychoanalytic narratives of trauma that center an individual process of symptom diagnosis and cure, Suture explores the refractive nature of trauma's dispersed roots and lingering effects. If the wounds of trauma are disquiet apparitions, repetitions within the cut, these stories tend the seams through which the simultaneous loneliness of mourning and togetherness of queer intersubjective relations converge. Across these essays, healing and indeed living is a state of perpetual becoming, surviving and loving in the nonlinearities of trauma, time, body, time and queer time. Pillar of Fire, 1908 Primary Education, 1905 Night Reflections Robert Thomas Winn, 2016-11-22 Dr Winn's story is remarkably open, unguarded and intimate. I believe that almost any physician, staff member, patient, patient family member or friend will come away with new insights and understanding after reading this moving memoir. Frederick R Appelbaum, M.D., Director, Clinical Research Division, Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center. Little does he know that an unexpected call that interrupts an early Spring bike ride in the Wasatch mountains above Park City will change his life forever. A day later when Dr Robert Winn's beloved wife Nancy is diagnosed with the life threatening disease acute myeloid leukemia AML he is too devastated and emotionally shattered to communicate with family and their many friends For many months he can't even speak without getting choked up or crying At the nadir of her illness Nancy is given a 5% chance of survival and Winnie the name lovingly bestowed upon Dr Winn by his many patients and friends commits to always be by the side of his soul mate and to never leave Nancy alone at night As a result during the entire two years his wife is gravely ill and at times near death he sits in the quiet of Nancy's hospital room late into the evening and writes to their family and friends These trials and tribulations are movingly and remarkably captured for posterity in Night Reflections A True Story of Friendship Love Cancer and Survival Life with cancer a devastating disease for any patient and family is a constant struggle and fight for survival that demands that you learn to live through the entire day each hour and every minute Night Reflections chronicles an inspirational story of courage love devotion struggle and ultimately triumph Night Reflections will help anyone suffering from a devastating illness their loved ones caregivers and the medical community alike and the strength to face even the darkest of days Cobbett's Parliamentary Debates Great Britain.
