Hartig,2017-08-11 How are language and disciplinary knowledge connected in the English for Legal Purposes ELP classroom and how far should ELP practitioners go in supporting students acquisition of the conceptual frameworks that shape the genres they are learning This book presents a pedagogical model for incorporating these conceptual frameworks into disciplinary language instruction and follows four focal participants as they learn to read and write new genres in a second language and disciplinary culture By examining not just students written texts but also their reading practices and interactions in class and in tutoring sessions the book traces the ways in which disciplinary knowledge and language interact as students develop academic literacy in a new disciplinary community Throughout the book the discipline of law is used as a lens for examining broader connections between language culture and disciplinary knowledge and their relevance for English for Specific Purposes and writing in the disciplines Staff Studies ,1990 Problems in Price Control David Farquhar Cavers,1948 Attempts to explain pricing control and pricing standard enacted by the OPA as they relate to Congressional law making and judicial review There is extensive analysis on the Barkley Taft Amendment especially as it related to pricing standards enacted during World War II as well as the formulation process used to determine standards Canadiana ,1991 Research in Education ,1974 Restoring the Promise Richard K. Vedder,2019-05-01 Higher education in America is in crisis Costs are too high learning is too little and the payoff to students and society is increasingly problematic In Restoring the Promise Richard Vedder shows how the precarious position of colleges and universities results from a mostly unsuccessful expansion of governmental involvement in the academy especially at the federal level The book examines today s most serious issues in higher education including free speech and academic freedom tuition and other costs culture and curricula governance gender race and diversity due process admissions student loans and much more It diagnoses problems and identifies solutions For example the total cost of college per student in the United States is now higher than in any other country When combining the monetary costs of college with the opportunity costs of losing years of labor to the economy the true cost of higher education to American society well exceeds one trillion dollars annually Yet despite American higher education s immense price tag students are learning less than ever before and continue to be underemployed The book discusses the three I s of university reform information incentives and innovation Without information it is impossible for taxpayers and governing authorities to ensure that public education spending truly furthers the broader interests of society rather than the narrow interests of faculty and administrators Shaping incentives for management would help to reduce costs and improve quality Business practices such as Responsibility Centered Management RCM for example allow profit to motivate efficiency and encourage learning outcomes And expanding the use of innovation in technology and open online courses along with relinquishing old rules such as tenure and three month summer vacations offer new hope for institutions of higher education The book discusses such additional reforms as the following Ending or revising the federal student financial aid program Giving departments or even professors a share of overall revenue based on student enrollments in their classes Departments or professors would then be required to pay their share of travel building rental maintenance utilities and other such costs from the revenues they receive Providing earnings data on former students by college five ten or fifteen years after matriculation Prospective students and parents as well as lawmakers and oversight officials would be assisted regarding school successes and failures Increasing faculty teaching loads Instituting three year degrees and year round instruction Ending discrimination against for profit schools Ending grade inflation Ending speech codes and other barriers to academic freedom Ending affirmative action and related diversity programs And more Atlantic Educational Journal ,1914 Historical Reports on War Administration United States Temporary Controls Office,1947 Tax Reform, 1969, Hearings United States.
