Dear Mr. Dalton,

I trust this letter finds you well. I am writing to provide you with the necessary information regarding the upcoming changes in our project timelines.

As we move into the next phase of the Delta Project, there have been adjustments to the deadlines and deliverables. These modifications aim to ensure the project's successful completion while maintaining the highest quality standards. Please find below a summary of the changes:

- Phase 2 completion date has been extended by one week to accommodate additional testing.
- Client feedback sessions will now be scheduled bi-weekly for more comprehensive reviews.
- The final presentation to stakeholders is rescheduled for December 15, 2050.

We kindly request your team's cooperation in adhering to the updated timelines. If you have any questions or need further clarification, please do not hesitate to contact me at 222 555 7777.

Furnishing the Mind Jesse J. Prinz, 2004-08-20 Western philosophy has long been divided between empiricists who argue that human understanding has its basis in experience and rationalists who argue that reason is the source of knowledge A central issue in the debate is the nature of concepts the internal representations we use to think about the world The traditional empiricist thesis that concepts are built up from sensory input has fallen out of favor Mainstream cognitive science tends to echo the rationalist tradition with its emphasis on innateness In Furnishing the Mind Jesse Prinz attempts to swing the pendulum back toward empiricism Prinz provides a critical survey of leading theories of concepts including imagism definitionism prototype theory exemplar theory the theory theory and informational atomism He sets forth a new defense of concept empiricism that draws on philosophy neuroscience and psychology and introduces a new version of concept empiricism called proxytype theory He also provides accounts of abstract concepts intentionality narrow content and concept combination In an extended discussion of innateness he covers Noam Chomsky's arguments for the innateness of grammar developmental psychologists' arguments for innate cognitive domains and Jerry Fodor's argument for radical concept nativism
