

Governing by Network

A large triangular network diagram composed of smaller triangles and nodes. The diagram is a Sierpinski triangle, a fractal that is formed by recursively subdividing a triangle into four smaller triangles, removing the central one. In this version, the central triangle is not removed but is instead filled with the text 'The New Shape of the Public Sector'. The nodes are represented by small circles at the vertices of the triangles, and the edges are lines connecting them. The overall structure is a complex, interconnected web of nodes and lines, symbolizing a network-based approach to governance.
