Anxious Eaters Janet Chrzan, Kima Cargill, 2022-08-30 What makes fad diets so appealing to so many people How did there get to be so many different ones often with eerily similar prescriptions Why do people cycle on and off diets perpetually searching for that one simple trick that will solve everything And how did these fads become so central to conversations about food and nutrition Anxious Eaters shows that fad diets are popular because they fulfill crucial social and psychological needs which is also why they tend to fail Janet Chrzan and Kima Cargill bring together anthropology psychology and nutrition to explore what these programs promise yet rarely fulfill for dieters They demonstrate how fad diets help people cope with widespread anxieties and offer tantalizing glimpses of attainable self transformation Chrzan and Cargill emphasize the social contexts of diets arguing that beliefs about nutrition are deeply rooted in pervasive cultural narratives Although people choose to adopt new eating habits for individual reasons broader forces shape why fad diets seem to make sense Considering dietary beliefs and practices in terms of culture nutrition and individual psychological needs Anxious Eaters refrains from moralizing or promoting a right way to eat Instead it offers new ways of understanding the popularity of a wide range of eating trends including the Atkins Diet and other low or no carb diets beliefs that ingredients like wheat products and sugars are toxic allergenic or addictive food avoidance and Clean Eating practices and paleo or primal diets Anxious Eaters sheds new light on why people adopt such diets and why these diets remain so attractive even though they often fail

Meat, Medicine and Human Health in the Twentieth Century Christian Bonah, 2015-10-06 This collection of essays explores some of the complex relations between meat and health in the twentieth century It highlights a complicated array of contradictory attitudes towards meat and human health They show how meat came to be regarded as a central part of a modern healthy diet and trace critiques of meat eating and the meat industry

Human Nature and the Evolution of Society Stephen K. Sanderson, 2018-05-04 If evolution has changed humans physically has it also affected human behavior Drawing on evolutionary psychology sociobiology and human behavioral ecology Human Nature and the Evolution of Society explores the evolutionary dynamics underlying social life In this introduction to human behavior and the organization of social life Stephen K Sanderson discusses traditional subjects like mating behavior kinship parenthood status seeking and violence as well as important topics seldom included in books of this type especially gender economics politics foodways race and ethnicity and the arts Examples and research on a wide range of human societies both industrial and nonindustrial are integrated throughout With chapter summaries of key points thoughtful discussion questions and important terms defined within the text the result is a broad ranging and comprehensive consideration of human society thoroughly grounded in an evolutionary perspective Making Food in Local and Global Contexts Atsushi

Nobayashi,2022-06-21 This book is a collection of research focusing on the anthropological aspects of how food is made in modern society from both global and local perspectives Modern food consumed in any society is created in a variety of natural and cultural environments There is a food democracy in which how we procure and share food can be an indicator of our participation in society while food nurtured in particular climates and land can be transmitted to the outside world owing to the influence of tourism and the global economy a phenomenon that is recognized on a global scale as exemplified by the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage In other words food is an aspect of both culture and civilization Anthropological approaches are used to reveal the humanistic aspects of food highlighting the strength and individuality of regional and ethnic foods in global civilizations The book is a compilation of results from sessions of the international symposium Making Food in Human and Natural History which took place on March 18 and 19 2019 in Osaka Japan Plants and People

Alexandre Chevalier,Elena Marinova,Leonor Pena-Chocarro,2014-04-30 This first monograph in the EARTH The Dynamics of Non Industrial Agriculture 8 000 years of Resilience and Innovation series approaches the great variety of agricultural practices in human terms It focuses on the relationship between plants and people the complexity of agricultural processes and their organisation within particular communities and societies Collaborative European research among archaeologists archaeobotanists ethnographers historians and agronomists using a broad analytical scale of investigation seeks to establish new common ground for integrating different approaches By means of interdisciplinary examples this book showcases the relationship between people and plants across wide ranging and diverse spatial and temporal milieus including crop diversity the use of wild foodstuffs social context status and choices of food plants Global Jewish Foodways Hasia R. Diner,Simone

Cinotto,2018-06 The history of the Jewish people has been a history of migration Although Jews invariably brought with them their traditional ideas about food during these migrations just as invariably they engaged with the foods they encountered in their new environments Their culinary habits changed as a result of both these migrations and the new political and social realities they encountered The stories in this volume examine the sometimes bewildering kaleidoscope of food experiences generated by new social contacts trade political revolutions wars and migrations both voluntary and compelled This panoramic history of Jewish food highlights its breadth and depth on a global scale from Renaissance Italy to the post World War II era in Israel Argentina and the United States and critically examines the impact of food on Jewish lives and on the complex set of laws practices and procedures that constitutes the Jewish dietary system and regulates what can be eaten when how and with whom Global Jewish Foodways offers a fresh perspective on how historical changes through migration settlement and accommodation transformed Jewish food and customs Nutritional and Health Aspects of Food in the
