Transformations in the Septuagint Theo A. W. van der Louw,2007 This study inaugurates interaction between Septuagint research and Translation Studies From the field of Translation Studies the author has singled out approaches suited to LXX research The historical survey of views of translation in Antiquity reveals that among Greeks Romans Egyptians and Jews similar disputes about language and translatability existed Three Septuagint chapters Genesis 2 Isaiah 1 and Proverbs 6 are analysed in depth whereby the transformations shifts are categorised with help of linguistic Translation Studies Before ascribing deviations either to the translator s ideology or to a variant in the Hebrew parent text we must ascertain that the deviation does not have a purely translational origin Every transformation has a reason and by categorizing the reasons behind all transformations one can trace the translational hierarchy that unconsciously guided the translator The rationale behind a transformation can be detected by analysing the literal alternative which the translator rejected The conclusions of this study are of importance for Translation Studies Classical Studies and Theology
