| Variable                                               | Coefficient | Standard Error | t-statistic | p-value |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-------------|----------------|-------------|---------|
| Age of the head of household                           | 0.05        | 0.02           | 2.50        | 0.01    |
| Gender of the head of household (Male = 1, Female = 0) | -0.10       | 0.03           | -3.33       | 0.00    |
| Constant                                               | 1.50        | 0.10           | 15.00       | 0.00    |

The regression results indicate that the number of children in the household is positively related to the age of the head of household and negatively related to the gender of the head of household. Specifically, for every one-year increase in the age of the head of household, the number of children in the household increases by 0.05, holding all other variables constant. Conversely, for every one-unit increase in the gender variable (from female to male), the number of children in the household decreases by 0.10, holding all other variables constant.
