Dreams in Early Modern England Janine Riviere, 2017-04-28 Dreams in Early Modern England shows the variety and complexity of the early modern English discourses on dreams from the role of dreams and dream theory in framing religious scientific and philosophical debates to the way that dreams continued to offer important spiritual and supernatural guidance and lastly how ordinary people exercised agency over their lives through interpreting and using dreams While today we tend to conceptualize dreams and dreaming as largely psychological this study shows how early modern people understood dreams and dreaming as many different things most significantly as political religious medical philosophical and supernatural

Encountering Cruelty: The Fracture of the Human Heart Michael R. Trice, 2011-04-21 Interest in recent years in reconciliation and conflict transformation has witnessed a great deal of attention to building a future through forgiveness and preventative measures in order to impede egregious wrongdoing This effort for a reconciled future is absent reflection on the nature of cruelty Cruelty has always been apparent in massive acts of wrongdoing and yet is repeatedly concealed in our assessment of the acts themselves This book is a theologically honest and deep structure exploration of cruelty in its personal communal and institutional encounters in human life Drawing on Nietzsche's challenge of cruelty to the western tradition the work offers a comprehensive study of how cruelty undermines care trust respect and justice all those elements of human reciprocity that mark our lives as interdependent beings The work concludes with a tightly written Epilogue on interpreting the theological meaning and accessibility of reconciliation today Luther's Works, Volume 6 Martin Luther, Lehmann, Jaroslav Pelikan, 1955 The Holy Spirit and the Reformation Legacy Mark J. Cartledge, Mark A. Jumper, 2020-09-16 This collection of essays explores the legacy of the Reformation with regard to the person and work of the Holy Spirit Following the five hundredth anniversary of Luther's posting of his ninety five theses these essays consider this legacy with particular reference to the work of Martin Luther and John Calvin as well as broader Reformation themes as they are related to pneumatology and the life of the church today The contribution of this collection is to tease out and reflect on pneumatology historically but also to relate these findings to contemporary discussions especially among scholars of pentecostal and charismatic Christianity Together these essays invite readers to appreciate the contribution that the Protestant Reformation makes to life in the Holy Spirit today as well as offering critical and constructive reflection on this theme It is a timely and significant contribution to the discussions of the person and work of the Holy Spirit and the church

Music and Theology Daniel Zager, 2006-12-13 The scholar Robin A. Leaver holds a unique place in sacred music scholarship because of his training in both music and theology He has written widely bringing acute insights on a variety of musical repertoires and topics related to Martin Luther sixteenth century psalmody hymnody and the sacred music of Johann Sebastian Bach In Music and Theology twelve scholars influenced by Leaver's work contribute essays in diverse areas of sacred music history and philosophy focusing on the intersection of music and theology Ranging chronologically from the twelfth century writer and composer Hildegard of Bingen 1098-1179 to present day considerations of American church music and worship the volume provides thought provoking new work for all who study church music Reflecting the prominent emphasis in Leaver's own scholarship eight chapters deal with the music of Johann Sebastian Bach including his organ music sacred cantatas and passion settings A final chapter provides a chronological listing of Leaver's own voluminous writings on music and theology

Luther's Works - Volume 6 Martin Luther, 1970-04-16 Luther's Works The American Edition published by Concordia and Fortress Press between 1955 and 1986 comprises fifty five volumes These are a selection representing only about a third of Luther's works in the Latin and German of the standard Weimar Edition not including the German Bible In this section of Luther's Lectures on Genesis 31-37 the subject is the mature child of God in the school of adversity Says Luther We have seen the triumphs and glory of Jacob let us now also descend with him into hell and see his sadness and terror Extensive treatment is given to a mounting series of afflictions for Jacob In every affliction Jacob wrestles with great infirmity and one trial may be termed light only by comparison with another Luther is also interested in pointing out the antidote for all adversity the comforting mercy of God This comfort is in Jesus Christ therefore Luther observes These emphatic words which Moses scatters like jewels here and there in his writings are wonderfully sweet provided they are referred to Christ Luther does not hesitate to draw comparisons These things are written to comfort us so that we may know that our afflictions and disasters are not extreme

The Abduction of Dinah Daniel Hankore, 2013-05-30 The process of understanding a text from the narrator's point of view is crucial for the tasks of interpreting and translating the Bible If the translator's understanding of a narrative from the narrator's point of view is erroneous then the whole process of translating the message into another language may also fall into error This poses Bible translators a difficult challenge How can we understand the narrator's point of view of the biblical stories which are culturally geographically and historically remote from our own Understanding a text from the narrator's point of view must precede the translation process In this work Hankore presents an argument for the intended utterance of Genesis 28:10-35:15 before proposing in brief how to translate it By following this process Hankore shows that a correct understanding of the concept of the ancient Israelite vow in the framework of a social institution is fundamental to reading and translating Genesis 28:10-35:15 and goes on to show how this same votive framework assists an explanation of the relevance of Genesis 34 to the Jacob story

Vulnerability and Resilience Jione Havea, 2020-01-28 In Vulnerability and Resilience vulnerability is not the final word Rather resilience provides the cutting edge and living breath in the stories of subjects who are vulnerable And they have many stories stories of being trapped in bodies teachings and or situations that make them and others like them vulnerable to discrimination hatred and rejection stories of being trapped because of their bodies theologies and or cultures and stories of being trapped for no good reason For subjects who are vulnerable life is like a maze of traps and stories of resilience keep them going The contributors to Vulnerability and Resilience refuse to be trapped At the intersection of body and liberation theologies they tell their stories in the hope that they will expose cultures that make individuals and communities vulnerable and that those stories will encourage vulnerable subjects to be resilient and bring change to theological institutions that conserve vulnerability Because of the location of the contributors the Americas Africa Asia Europe Caribbean and Oceania this book is a testimony that vulnerability is present all over the world and that resilience is a liberating alternative

work of an artist who molds a lump of clay the Spirit's sanctifying work lies in shaping people into the image of Christ. Avoiding either a Spirit only or a Spirit void theology Leopoldo Sánchez carefully crafts a Spirit Christology which considers the role of God's Spirit in the life and mission of Jesus and leads to five distinct models of sanctification that can help Christians discern how the Spirit is at work in our lives. Between Biblical Criticism and Poetic Rewriting Samuel Tongue, 2014-04-17 In Between Biblical Criticism and Poetic Rewriting Samuel Tongue offers an account of the aesthetic and critical tensions inherent in the development of the Higher Criticism of the Bible. Different types of Bible are created through the intellectual and literary pressures of Enlightenment and Romanticism and as Tongue suggests it is this legacy that continues to orientate the approaches deemed legitimate in biblical scholarship. Using a number of ancient and contemporary critical and poetic rewritings of Jacob's struggle with the angel Gen 32:22-32 Tongue makes use of postmodern theories of textual production to argue that it is the paragesis, a parasitical form of writing between disciplines that best foregrounds the complex performativity of biblical interpretation. The Place of Judas Iscariot in Christology Anthony Cane, 2017-07-05 Exploring the significance of Judas Iscariot for Christian theology and the difficult issues surrounding Judas Anthony Cane shows that focusing on the tension between providential and tragic interpretations of Judas in the New Testament and in subsequent writing about Judas is the key to understanding his significance. Building on the work of Karl Barth and Donald MacKinnon Cane's argument sheds light not simply on the way Judas is understood but on the way Jesus and the whole economy of salvation are understood. This book also highlights implications for the way in which issues relating to anti-Semitism and evil and suffering are most effectively explored. Bach Against Modernity Michael Marissen, 2023 In Bach against Modernity author Michael Marissen contests the common perception that J. S. Bach is a modern figure and instead suggests that by eighteenth century standards Bach and his music in fact reflected and forcefully promoted a premodern world and life view. He provides overlooked or misunderstood evidence of Bach's private engagement with religious and social issues that the composer also addressed in his public vocal compositions and exposes intellectual and ethical problems with prevalent anachronistic views of Bach. God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering, Volume One Jeff B. Pool, 2009-01-01 This book constitutes the first volume of a three volume study of Christian testimonies to divine suffering. God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering Divine Vulnerability and Creation. This study first develops an approach to interpreting the contested claims about the suffering of God. Thus the larger study focuses its inquiry into the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God. Through this approach this volume of studies into the Christian symbol of divine suffering then investigates the two major presuppositions that the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally hold an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love When fully elaborated these presuppositions reveal the conditions of possibility for divine suffering and divine vulnerability with respect to creation Philosophies of Work in the Platonic Tradition Jeffrey

Hanson, 2022-03-24 The Platonic tradition affords extraordinary resources for thinking about the meaning and value of work In this historical survey of the tradition Jeffrey Hanson draws on the work of its major thinkers to explain why our contemporary vocabulary for appraising labor and its rewards is too narrow and cramped By tracing out the Platonic lineage of work Hanson is able to argue why we should be explaining its value for appraising it as an element of a happy and flourishing human life quite apart from its financial rewards Beginning with Plato's extensive thinking about work's relationship to wisdom Hanson covers the singularly powerful arguments of Augustine who wrote the ancient world's only treatise dedicated to the topic of manual labor He discusses Bernard of Clairvaux introduces the priest craftsman Theophilus Presbyter and provides a study of work and leisure in the writings of Petrarch Alongside Martin Luther Hanson discusses John Ruskin and Simone Weil two thinkers profoundly disturbed by the conditions of the working class in the rapidly industrializing economies of Europe This original study of Plato and his inheritors' ideas provides practical suggestions for how to approach work in a socially responsible manner in the 21st century and reveals the benefits of linking work and morality The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1985
