Graphs Maps Trees Abstract Models For A Literary History:

Graphs, Maps, Trees Franco Moretti, 2007-09-17 In this groundbreaking book Franco Moretti argues that literature scholars should stop reading books and start counting graphing and mapping them instead In place of the traditionally selective literary canon of a few hundred texts Moretti offers charts maps and time lines developing the idea of distant reading into a full blown experiment in literary historiography in which the canon disappears into the larger literary system Charting entire genres the epistolary the gothic and the historical novel as well as the literary output of countries such as Japan Italy Spain and Nigeria he shows how literary history looks significantly different from what is commonly supposed and how the concept of aesthetic form can be radically redefined

Graphs, Maps, Trees Franco Moretti, 2007 Reading Graphs, Maps, and Trees Jonathan Goodwin, John Holbo, 2011-01-14 Franco Moretti's Graphs Maps Trees Abstract Models for Literary History is one of the most provocative recent works of literary history The present volume collects generalist and specialist academic and nonacademic responses by statisticians philosophers historians literary scholars and others And Moretti's responses to these responses

Literary History Anders Pettersson, Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, Margareta Petersson, Stefan Helgesson, 2006 Literary History Towards a Global Perspective is a research project funded by the Swedish Research Council Vetenskapsr det Initiated in 1996 and launched in 1999 it aims at finding suitable methods and approaches for studying and analysing literature globally emphasizing the comparative and intercultural aspect Even though we nowadays have fast and easy access to any kind of information on literature and literary history we encounter more than ever the difficulty of finding a credible overall perspective on world literary history Until today literary cultures and traditions have usually been studied separately each field using its own principles and methods Even the conceptual basis itself varies from section to section and the genre concepts employed are not mutually compatible As a consequence it is very difficult if not impossible for the interested layperson as well as for the professional student to gain a clear and fair perspective both on the literary traditions of other peoples and on one's own traditions The project can be considered as a contribution to gradually removing this problem and helping to gain a better understanding of literature and literary history by means of a concerted empirical research and deeper conceptual reflection The contributions to the four volumes are written in English by specialists from a large number of disciplines primarily from the fields of comparative literature Oriental studies and African studies in Sweden All of the literary texts discussed in the articles are in the original language Each one of the four volumes is devoted to a special research topic

Literary History: Towards a Global Perspective Anders Pettersson, Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, Margareta Petersson, Stefan Helgesson, 2011-12-22 Literary History Towards a Global Perspective is a research project funded by the Swedish Research Council Vetenskapsr det Initiated in 1996 and launched in 1999 it aims at finding suitable methods and approaches for studying and analysing literature globally emphasizing the comparative and intercultural aspect Even though we nowadays have fast and easy access to any kind of information on literature and literary history we encounter more than ever the difficulty of finding a credible overall perspective on world literary history. Until today literary cultures and traditions have usually been studied separately each field using its own principles and methods. Even the conceptual basis itself varies from section to section and the genre concepts employed are not mutually compatible. As a consequence it is very difficult if not impossible for the interested layperson as well as for the professional student to gain a clear and fair perspective both on the literary traditions of other peoples and on one's own traditions. The project can be considered as a contribution to gradually removing this problem and helping to gain a better understanding of literature and literary history by means of a concerted empirical research and deeper conceptual reflection. The contributions to the four volumes are written in English by specialists from a large number of disciplines primarily from the fields of comparative literature, Oriental studies and African studies in Sweden. All of the literary texts discussed in the articles are in the original language. Each one of the four volumes is devoted to a special research topic.

In Translation □ Reflections, Refractions, Transformations Paul St-Pierre, Prafulla C. Kar, 2007-05-16 With contributions by researchers from India, Europe, North America and the Caribbean. In Translation: Reflections, refractions, transformations touches on questions of method and on topics including copyright, cultural hybridity, globalization, identity, construction and minority languages which are important for the disciplinary development of translation studies but also of interest to other fields as well, most notably comparative literature, cultural studies and world literature. The volume provides a forum for new voices to be heard alongside those of well established scholars and for current concerns to express themselves, often focusing on practices in areas of the world other than Europe or North America which have until now tended to dominate the field. Acknowledging difference and celebrating it, the contributions conceive of translation as a process which reconstitutes and transforms which brings renewal and growth, an interaction in a new context, a new reading, a new writing.

English and British Fiction, 1750-1820 Peter Garside, Karen Elisabeth O'Brien, 2015 This series presents a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction and written by an international team of scholars. dust jacket

Scale, Crisis, and the Modern Novel Aaron Rosenberg, 2023-11-09 At the turn of the twentieth century novelists faced an unprecedented crisis of scale. While exponential increases in industrial production, resource extraction and technological complexity accelerated daily life, growing concerns about deep time, evolution, globalization and extinction destabilised scale's value as a measure of reality. Here Aaron Rosenberg examines how four novelists moved radically beyond novelistic realism, repurposing the genres romance, melodrama, gothic and epic it had ostensibly superseded. He demonstrates how H. G. Wells, Thomas Hardy, Joseph Conrad and Virginia Woolf engaged with climatic and ecological crises that persist today, requiring us to navigate multiple temporal and spatial scales simultaneously. The volume shows that problems of scale constrain our responses to crisis by shaping the linguistic, aesthetic and narrative structures through which we imagine it. Uncommon Contexts: Encounters between Science and Literature, 1800-1914 Ben Marsden, Hazel Hutchinson, Ralph O'Connor, 2016-09-12 Britain in the long nineteenth century developed an increasing interest in science of all kinds Whilst poets and novelists took inspiration from technical and scientific innovations those directly engaged in these new disciplines relied on literary techniques to communicate their discoveries to a wider audience The essays in this collection uncover this symbiotic relationship between literature and science at the same time bridging the disciplinary gulf between the history of science and literary studies Specific case studies include the engineering language used by Isambard Kingdom Brunel the role of physiology in the development of the sensation novel and how mass communication made people lonely

Formation of Periodical Authorship in 1920s Korea Jae-Yon Lee, 2023-06-06 Formation of Periodical Authorship in 1920s Korea argues that Korean authors who entered the literary scene during modern literature's formative years were the subject mediated by periodicals However it has been difficult to substantiate this statement because periodicals including magazines were open to different groups of writers various social literary religious and cultural discourses and dissimilar genres The multi level interactions between terms knowledge and writing styles in circulation unfolded at a larger scale at some times and at other times in such an ordinary manner that one can hardly identify and synthesize them to make any sense Employing not only conventional close reading but also modes of distant reading developing out of cultural analytics Lee investigates the specific ways in which patterns of social semantic and stylistic interactions in Korea's major magazines configured three kinds of authorship namely the narcissistic author the prophetic critic and the everyday reviewer He rereads artist stories leftist social discourses religious cosmology and joint reviews through quantitative analyses and offers an engaging account on the importance of repetitions in creating literary originality This book extends periodical studies through cultural analytics and opens up a new horizon for the next generation of literary scholars seeking innovative experiments in a digital age

Cartographies of Culture Damian Walford Davies, 2012-06-15 Cartographies of Culture New Geographies of Welsh Writing in English offers a pioneering new examination of the links between maps and imaginative writing Concerned to draw literary studies and geography into a fruitful dialogue the book offers a genuinely interdisciplinary study of literary texts in relation to the spatialities of culture Taking the anglophone literature of Wales as its main data field the book offers a boldly imaginative and stringently theorised analysis of five literary maps What emerges is nothing less than a new way of reading literature
