The Sacred Landscape at Leska and Minoan Kythera Mercourios Georgiadis, 2023-01-01 This volume presents the results of the survey and excavation of a second peak sanctuary on Minoan Kythera at Leska An introduction to the archaeological background of the island is provided as well as a discussion on peak sanctuaries there and in Minoan Crete The discovery of Leska and the research conducted there are described and a discussion of the diachronic use of the summit is presented following analyses of the material remains including pottery figurines stone vessels stone tools and jewelry Detailed discussions of the active role and significance of the landscape and the cultic practices allow an in depth analysis of the links between society and cult and also of the ways in which the landscape and immediate surroundings at Leska were sacralised in the Middle Minoan IB to Late Minoan IB phase The broader analysis of the sacred landscape on Kythera provides a unique opportunity to assess Aegean religion during the Minoan period outside Crete Subversive Archaism Michael Herzfeld, 2021-10-11 In Subversive Archaism Michael Herzfeld explores how individuals and communities living at the margins of the modern nation state use nationalist discourses of tradition to challenge state authority under both democratic and authoritarian governments Through close attention to the claims and experiences of mountain shepherds in Greece and urban slum dwellers in Thailand Herzfeld shows how these subversive archaists draw on national histories and past politics to claim legitimacy for their defiance of bureaucratic authority Although vilified by government authorities as remote primitive or dangerous often as preemptive justification for violent repression these groups are not revolutionaries and do not reject national identity but they do question the equation of state and nation Herzfeld explores the political strengths and vulnerabilities of their deployment of heritage and the weaknesses they expose in the bureaucratic and ethnonational state in an era of accelerated globalization

Writing Literary History in the Greek and Roman World Giacomo Fedeli, Henry Spelman, 2024-06-27 The first study of ancient Greek and Roman literary history as a phenomenon on its own terms The Minoan Epiphany - A Bronze Age Visionary Culture Bruce Rimell, 2021-01-02 The art and iconography of the Minoan civilisation of Bronze Age Crete is rightly described as having a refreshing vitality with a fortunate combination of stylisation and spontaneity in which the artist is able to transform conventional imagery into a personal expression The dynamism torsion and naturalism evident in Minoan art stands in stark contrast to the hieratic rigidity of other ancient civilisations and nowhere is this more apparent than in the iconography of the Minoan Epiphany a set of mainly glyptic rings seals and seal impression images which appear to depict religious celebrants experiencing direct and seemingly ecstatic encounters with deities This collection of essays explores this central aspect of Minoan religion taking a strongly archaeological focus to allow the artefacts to speak for themselves and moving from traditional representational interpretations into embodied perspectives in which the ecstatic capabilities of the human body throw new light on Aegean Bronze Age ritual practices Such ideas challenge rather passive assumptions modern Western observers hold about the nature of religious feelings and experiences in particular the depictions of altered states of consciousness in ancient art and the visionary potential of dance gestures Speculative asides on the potential for a Minoan origin for Classical Greek humanism and hints in the imagery on ancient Cretan conceptions of the cosmos are set against sound archaeological theories to explain this lively and dynamic corpus of images Beautifully illustrated with images and sketches of the relevant artefacts this wide ranging volume will stimulate audiences with archaeological prehistorical and spiritual interests as well as historians of religion and art The Minoan Epiphany also represents an influential antecedent to the Visionary Humanist philosophy which forms the majority of Bruce's current independent research interests

Conservation Palaeobiology of Marine Ecosystems R. Nawrot, S. Dominici, A. Tomašových, M. Zuschin, 2023-07-03

Conservation palaeobiology tracks the history of ecosystems based on the fossil record to guide conservation decisions and contribute to the theoretical foundations of conservation biology. The accelerating pace of global change requires better understanding of the long-term resilience and adaptive capacities of ecosystems. Fossil assemblages in outcrops and cores together with surface accumulations of skeletal remains represent unique archives of past ecosystem dynamics and baseline community states prior to anthropogenic impacts. However, as biological data retrieved from fossil and death assemblages cannot be treated in isolation, conservation palaeobiology integrates palaeontological and geological tools to account for the nature of the stratigraphic record. This volume brings together studies that demonstrate how combining marine palaeoecological records with other types of geohistorical data (taphonomic, sedimentological, geochronological, geochemical) can inform biodiversity conservation and ecosystem management. The papers highlight novel approaches and challenges in applying geohistorical data to conservation problems, discuss the limitations imposed by time averaging, and offer both deep and near-time perspectives on conservation palaeobiology of marine ecosystems.

Hittite Texts and Greek Religion Ian

Rutherford, 2020-09-23. Our knowledge of ancient Greece has been transformed in the last century by an increased understanding of the cultures of the Ancient Near East. This is particularly true of ancient religion. This book looks at the relationship between the religious systems of Ancient Greece and the Hittites who controlled Turkey in the Late Bronze Age (1400–1200 BC). The cuneiform texts preserved in the Hittite archives provide a particularly rich source for religious practice, detailing festivals, purification rituals, oracle consultations, prayers, and myths of the Hittite state, as well as documenting the religious practice of neighbouring Anatolian states in which the Hittites took an interest. Hittite religion is thus more comprehensively documented than any other ancient religious tradition in the Near East, even Egypt. The Hittites are also known to have been in contact with Mycenaean Greece, known to them as Ahhiyawa. The book first sets out the evidence and provides a methodological paradigm for using comparative data. It then explores cases where there may have been contact or influence, such as in the case of scapegoat rituals or the Kumarbi Cycle. Finally, it considers key aspects of religious practices shared by both systems, such as the pantheon, rituals of war, festivals, and animal sacrifice. The aim of such a comparison is to discover clues that may further our understanding of the deep history of religious practices, and when used in conjunction with historical data, illuminate the differences between cultures and reveal what is distinctive about each of them.
