Dear Journal,

Today was another long day. I made up my mind to help Maria with the washing. My parents were out as usual, and I was in the kitchen, but we needed the extra money and Maria had to go to the factory. I was left alone to look for work again. The need to find a steady job at the factory had been my best hope. Now, the money from yesterday's earnings was gone. I was left with nothing but my eyes and a quiet sigh.

As I sat alone in the kitchen, Maria looked sad with some potatoes and onions, looking as far as she could. I could tell she was still hungry, but she gave the best bit to my little brother. I try not to complain, but my stomach grows all the time now. For dinner, I walked past the soup kitchen in town. The line stretched around the block. The people looked like they hadn't eaten in days. I was lucky to have a meal at home, even if it wasn't much.

I wonder what things will get better. Papa says we have to keep hoping. I try, but sometimes, my stomach is empty as my plate.
