original study of the political religious and literary uses of representations of the holy city in the fourteenth century The Oxford Handbook of Early Christian Ritual Risto Uro, Juliette Day, Rikard Roitto, Richard E. DeMaris, 2019 The Handbook provides an indispensable account of the ritual world of early Christianity from the beginning of the movement up to the end of the sixth century The Legend of Veronica in Early Modern Art Katherine T. Brown, 2020-02-18 In The Legend of Veronica in Early Modern Art Katherine T Brown explores the lore of the apocryphal character of Veronica and the history of the true image relic as factors in the Franciscans placement of her character into the Via Crucis Way of the Cross as the Sixth Station in both Jerusalem and Western Europe around the turn of the fifteenth century Katherine T Brown examines how the Franciscans adopted and adapted the legend of Veronica to meet their own evangelical goals by intervening in the fabric of Jerusalem to incorporate her narrative which is not found in the Gospels into an urban path constructed for pilgrims as well as in similar participatory installations in churchyards and naves across Western Europe This book proposes plausible reasons for the subsequent proliferation of works of art depicting Veronica both within and independent of the Stations of the Cross from the early fifteenth through the mid seventeenth centuries This book will be of interest to scholars in art history theology and medieval and Renaissance studies The Bible and Global Tourism James S. Bielo, Lieke Wijnia, 2021-01-14 This volume examines the ways in which biblical tourism is enmeshed within the production and management of heritage global contexts of marketing and publicity accessibility of sacred sites and routes for multiple audiences and the forging of connections between travel and social identity By exploring issues such as devotional piety religious pedagogy and entertainment an interdisciplinary collection of scholars traces how biblical tourism experiences are choreographed and consumed and how these practices shape embodied and narrative performances of scripture Contributors focus on four major questions How have people used tourism to develop new or renewed relationships with the Bible Historically what role has the Bible played in the development of modern tourism In the context of the tourist encounter how have people mobilized the Bible as a social and expressive resource And what forms of social exchange shape acts of biblical tourism such as among pilgrims or between people and landscapes These questions are centered not only around authorized shrines and Holy Places but also festivals museums theme parks and heritage sites This book aims to create a comparative and interdisciplinary dialogue around the dynamic relationship between biblical heritage claims and the practices and infrastructures of modern tourism Catalogue of the library of the Royal geographical society Hugh Robert Mill, Royal geographical society libr, 1895 The Athenaeum, 1856 Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham, John Sterling, Frederick Denison Maurice, Henry Stebbing, Charles Wentworth Dilke, Thomas Kibble Hervey, William Hepworth Dixon, Norman Maccoll, Vernon Horace Rendall, John Middleton Murry, 1858 Catalogue of the Library of Congress Library of Congress, 1880 The Road to Jerusalem F. Thomas Noonan, 2007-04-24 The history of early modern travel is captured in its volatile and evolving literature From the middle of the 1400s what had been for centuries a travel literature of pilgrimage to the Holy Land underwent two modernizations in rapid succession The first in the wake of Gutenberg was the casting or recasting of pilgrims accounts in the new medium of print By the waning of the fifteenth century such printed literature had reconfirmed and enhanced long distance pilgrimage as the primary narrative of European travel The second forged by the great discoveries and reformations of the sixteenth century reworked and enlarged again in the revolutionary medium of print the very content of European travel Travel and its literature ceased to be simply or even largely a matter of pilgrimage to the Levant The labors of Columbus Cort s and Magellan but also of Luther Zwingli and Calvin had altered the appearance complicated the ambitions and shifted the focus of much European travel The Road to Jerusalem traces the survival of the literature of pilgrimage as part of the literature of travel from the late fifteenth to the eighteenth century when powerful forces ranging from navigation to theology were redefining what it meant to go abroad Accounts of discovery exploration scientific expeditions tours and other species of travel crowded a field that had once been dominated by accounts of pilgrimage Yet pilgrimage did not disappear or retreat to the margins under pressure from these new forms of travel Its survival and development as a rendition of travel and not only as an expression of piety are documented by a massive body of printed literature largely overlooked by modern scholarship that in its turn chronicles continuity and change across centuries of not just European travel but European history and culture in general

The Rowman & Littlefield Handbook of Christianity in the Middle East Mitri Raheb, Mark A. Lamport, 2020-12-15 This work represents the current and most relevant content on the studies of how Christianity has fared in the ancient home of its founder and birth Much has been written about Christianity and how it has survived since its migration out of its homeland but this comprehensive reference work reassesses the geographic and demographic impact of the dramatic changes in this perennially combustible world region The Rowman Littlefield Handbook of Christianity in the Middle East also spans the historical socio political and contemporary settings of the region and importantly describes the interactions that Christianity has had with other major minor religions in the region

The Churches of the Crusader Kingdom of Jerusalem: Volume 3, The City of Jerusalem Denys Pringle, 1993 This is the third in a series of four volumes that are intended to present a complete Corpus of all the church buildings of both the Western and the Oriental rites built rebuilt or simply in use in the Crusader Kingdom of Jerusalem between the capture of Jerusalem by the First Crusade in 1099 and the loss of Acre in 1291 This volume deals exclusively with Jerusalem the capital of the Kingdom from 1099 to 1187 leaving the churches of Acre and Tyre to be covered in the fourth and final volume The Corpus will be an indispensable work of reference to all those concerned with the medieval topography and archaeology of the Holy Land with the history of the church in the Crusader Kingdom of Jerusalem with medieval pilgrimage to the Holy Places and with the art and architecture of the Latin East
