The Science of Religion in the Science of Life Dr David

Murphy, 2023-08-18 This is a work that challenges the modern scientific world view that nothing of any order producing significance created the ordered sum of everything Some however seem to think that when they discover the means by which something came into existence this is one less thing we need God to explain until we get to that point when we can conclude that nothing produced the ordered sum of everything The fact is that for things to be investigated intelligently they first have to be ordered intelligently Moreover a living being needs to be explained in terms of a living life producing cause a cause that can explain all that we predicate of the life defining nature of their existence We can see the origin meaning and purpose of something in that which it has been ordered to be Therefore it must be dangerously naive for scientists to suppose that living beings were ordered intelligently to reason intelligently by means that has nothing to do with intelligence and that there is no fool so foolish as he who thinks they can be wiser than their creator And as we have been created to be moral beings our creator must of logical necessity be a moral being who has the ability create this ineffable life generating effect in us and this in turn reveals something of His purpose in creating us To claim that all that exists has nothing to do with an intelligent and sufficient cause breaks all the laws of logic and takes us into the domain of farce and us as fools and all to avoid that we are answerable our maker who created us moral beings

Relational Caring and Presence Theory in Health Care and Social Work Andries Baart, Guus Timmerman, 2024-12-18

Three decades of neoliberal efficiency thinking about caring and care systems have resulted in a greater need for relationality in healthcare and social work than ever before These support services extend beyond the giving of care and support to include the development of relationships between caregivers and their care recipients in their socio institutional contexts The culmination of over 30 years of research this book provides an extensive and critical introduction to relational working in care education and welfare It explains what relational work is and proposes a new human orientated theory beyond the simple needs provision model Demonstrating the kind of professionalism required for such work it explores why it is as important to be present with and for people especially those in precarious conditions as it is to give care This is essential reading for researchers educators quality officers policy makers students and practitioners interested in understanding the growing scholarship related to both care theory and presence theory

A New Science of Suffering, the Wisdom of the Soul, and the New Behavioral Economics of Happiness: Towards a General Theory of Well-being Paul T. P Wong, Lok Sang Ho, Richard Gregory Cowden, Claude-Hélène Mayer, Fan

Yang, 2023-10-24 New developments in positive psychology have evolved into the 2nd and 3rd waves going beyond the individual and positive focus towards complex systems multi cultures and the existential positive psychology of transcending suffering The present project aims at developing a general theory of well being that integrates all the above changes as the new frontier of positive psychology At a time when humanity is threatened by all kinds of existential crises from climate change to nuclear war from ideological polarization to a widening income gap we need to develop a big picture theoretical framework showing that happiness is not just for those living in peace and prosperity but also for those struggling in dire poverty and war ravaged countries like Ukraine not just for the self but also for others not just for the present but also for future generations This broader approach towards wellbeing opens up new vistas for research and interventions
