Heathland Management In The Netherlands:

Heathland Management in the Netherlands Willem Herbert Diemont, Jacobus Thomas Smidt, 1987 Economy and Ecology of Heathlands W. Herbert Diemont, Wim J.M. Heijman, Henk Siepel, Nigel R. Webb, 2014-12-22 Heathlands in Europe reflect a long history of human activity and use Through the ages heathlands have been of importance as semi agricultural areas hunting territories and various other uses of mankind This diversity of use has created a cultural diversity over the whole Atlantic area of Europe from Portugal and Spain in the south to Norway in the north and from Germany in the east to Ireland in the west Economy and Ecology of Heathlands shows us both the diversity in use all over Europe and combines this information with the newest insights in ecology and the Natura 2000 status most of these heathlands have got nowadays Central theme is how to cover the costs of maintenance of these heathlands Is their future in new types of commons or do other types of land ownership using the revenues of heathland ecosystem services give better opportunities The editors combine a broad variance in knowledge of heathlands varying from all aspects of ecology land use as well as economy

Acidification Research in the Netherlands T. Schneider, G.J. Heij, 1991-08-21 This book contains the results and conclusions of extensive research on the causes and effects of acidification of forests forest soils and heathland in the Netherlands In 1985 the Dutch Priority Programme on Acidification was started in order to give a more concrete form to the increasing interest of policy makers in the effects of air pollution on ecosystems in particular In the last three years the research has focused on obtaining a more accurate estimate of the emission of ammonia on the deposition of SO_x NO_y and NH_x and also on quantifying effects on forest and heathland ecosystems This quantification of effects included experimental work model analyses and derivation of critical loads and levels for forest and heathland ecosystems Furthermore scenario analyses were made with the Dutch Acidification Systems Model DAS in order to evaluate the effectiveness of policy measures The research itself which formed the basis for this book has been described in the reports on individual projects A summary of the scientific results and conclusions is given in thematic reports added as annex An independent Review Team has provided a critical assessment of the research carried out since 1988 The Review Report has been incorporated as annex

Heathlands R. Aerts, G.W. Heil, 2013-03-14 Increased atmospheric nitrogen deposition and changes in the management of heathlands have caused a significant change in the species composition of the NW European heathlands This change from ericaceous towards gramineous dominance is analysed in detail in Heathlands Patterns and Processes in a Changing Environment Special emphasis is put on the effects of increased atmospheric nutrient input on nutrient cycling competition between plant species and plant herbivore interactions The possibilities for the long term conservation of heathlands are discussed by considering regeneration from seed and the usefulness of mathematical management models The book provides a synthesis of pure and applied plant ecology It is vital reading for plant ecologists biological conservationists heathland managers and government decision makers Handbook of Ecological Restoration Martin R. Perrow, Anthony J.

Davy,2002-09-05 The two volumes of this handbook provide a comprehensive account of the emerging and vibrant science of the ecological restoration of both habitats and species Ecological restoration aims to achieve complete structural and functional self maintaining biological integrity following disturbance In practice any theoretical model is modified by a number of economic social and ecological constraints Consequently material that might be considered as rehabilitation enhancement reconstruction or re creation is also included Restoration in Practice provides details of state of the art restoration practice in a range of biomes within terrestrial and aquatic marine coastal and freshwater ecosystems Policy and legislative issues on all continents are also outlined and discussed The accompanying volume Principles of Restoration defines the underlying principles of restoration ecology The Handbook of Ecological Restoration will be an invaluable resource to anyone concerned with the restoration rehabilitation enhancement or creation of habitats in aquatic or terrestrial systems throughout the world Lowland Grassland and Heathland Habitats Elizabeth Anne Clewett Price,2003 Grassland and Heathland Habitats is a practical guide to the habitat types flora and fauna of Britain s range of natural and semi natural grasslands and heaths Basis for Mapping of Critical Loads in Nordic Sensitive Terrestrial Ecosystems Knud Tybirk,Jesper Bak,Line H. Henriksen,1995 A Comparison of Heathland Management Practices, Approaches and Mechanisms in the UK and the Netherlands Bryony Williams,National Trust (Great Britain),2003 Ecology and conservation of the Dutch ground beetle fauna Hans Turin,D. Johan Kotze,Stefan Müller-Kroehling,Pavel Saska,John Spence,Theodoor Heijerman,2023-09-14 Over the past decades large amounts of data about carabids have been collected in the Netherlands initially for the purpose of creating distribution maps for the country In addition to information from collections and faunistic publications a significant amount of data came from ecological studies using pitfall traps Because of the rich tradition of carabidological research in the Netherlands an exceptionally large database of these pitfall data is available The database is a mix of approximately 1 500 short term samples and circa 4 400 so called year samples for which pitfalls were functional during the whole activity period of ground beetles in spring and autumn These year samples came from 2 850 sites covering the period of 1953 2018 and represent all habitats on the Dutch landscape These data offer an unusual view of the presence and activity of this common insect family The data gathered from pitfall trapping is summarised and provides a fresh integrated perspective about the Dutch ground beetle fauna The characteristic species composition of 17 habitat groups is described in detail Over 320 species present in the database have been classified into six main groups according to their patterns of habitat use Both the classification of habitats and associated species have been tested and used in various analyses in the book Two chapters give special attention to changes in the Dutch fauna over the past 66 years by means of extensive trend analysis and relate this understanding to nature conservation The book provides an extension and update for Turin s 2000 atlas The Dutch carabid fauna is discussed considering relevant literature but uses predominantly European studies to put the faunal patterns in broader context This book presents the story of Dutch ground beetles and illustrates the contribution of pitfall trapping to our understanding of the ecology of this fascinating and unusually well studied group of beetles Handbook of Biodiversity Methods David Arnold Hill,2005-08-04 This Handbook first published in 2005 provides standard procedures for planning and conducting a survey of any species or habitat and for evaluating the data The Oxford Companion to Global Change David J. Cuff,2008 In recent years global change has become increasingly important in technological ecological and political spheres This companion examines the environmental events of recent times and investigates long term trends as well as broader issues of global change Acidification Research: Evaluation and Policy Applications T. Schneider,1992-04-24 A large number of nationwide research programmes in the field of acidification have been carried out in the last decade Especially in Western Europe extensive programmes have resulted in a good overview of all the effects mostly negative caused by acidifying substances There is now consensus that types of acidification damage relate to the unique geography of an area air pollution affects vegetation acid aerosol the ozone layer New in this volume is the relation between scientific results of integrated research programmes and policy actions to prevent reduce and limit the widespread damage caused by acidification The results of many different national research programmes are evaluated and compared to present a unique compilation for the research scientist and policy maker In this volume thematic reviews on specific topics of acidification research are presented followed by overviews of acidification policy plans and actual abatement plans The result is the best review of acidification research carried out worldwide during the last decade and presentation of the critical relation between research results and policy actions Europe's Living Landscapes Bas Pedroli,Anne van Doorn,Geert de Blust,2014-12-22 This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology Film & Television Coll Europe Kirschner,2012-11-12 Published in 1995 Film Television is an important contribution to Film and Media Annual Report Macaulay Land Use Research Institute,1987 Encyclopedia of Global Change Andrew S. Goudie,2002 Mapping the relationship between human society and the Earth the Encyclopedia of Global Change is the first general reference guide to the impact of politics population economics and technology on the planet Containing over 300 original signed articles by distinguished scholars it is the comprehensive work for this multi discipline high profile field The Encyclopedia synthesizes current knowledge on natural and human made changes in the Earth's physical chemical and biological systems and the effects of these changes on society Areas such as altered ecosystems climate change food supply water production and consumption population and the political impact of global change are covered in detail And the clearly written articles also include responses to global modification agreements and associations institutions policies biographies and case studies Enhanced by 1 500 illustrations extensive cross references bibliographies and an index the Encyclopedia of Global Change links essential knowledge across many fields geography geology geophysics atmospheric science political science economics technology and others in a resource that is both accessible and authoritative The jargon free language makes it an excellent work for the professional scholar as well as the interested general reader

Applying Nature's Design Anthony Bennett Anderson, Clinton N. Jenkins, 2006 Human actions are fragmenting habitats throughout the world To address this problem conservationists have set up biological corridors areas of land set aside to facilitate the movement of species and ecological processes This book offers an overview of the design and effectiveness of these corridors

Global Application of Prescribed Fire John R. Weir, J. Derek Scasta, 2022-02 Global Application of Prescribed Fire provides a first hand perspective of the various methods and ways people around the world view and use prescribed fire It covers the logistics constraints and social dynamics surrounding the intentional use and application of fire by humans and demonstrates how why when and where prescribed fire is used in different regions Written by international experts the book has four key objectives explore new techniques ideas and thoughts on how to apply prescribed fire from a global perspective provide regional case studies covering issues that may constrain or enhance prescribed fire projects stimulate cross cultural conversations about how fires function in ecosystems and relate prescribed fire to wildfire regimes with implications for protecting life and property as well as sustaining local fire cultures and unique fire dependent flora and fauna Global Application of Prescribed Fire enhances our understanding and knowledge about the application of prescribed fire This comprehensive book will provide fire practitioners researchers agencies and policymakers with key ecological and managerial insight of how prescribed fires are conducted around the globe

The Impact of Nitrogen Deposition on Natural and Semi-Natural Ecosystems S.J. Langan, 1999-07-31 This book provides an up to date synthesis of the understanding of the interaction between the emission of nitrogen its deposition and impact on the most important components of natural and semi natural ecosystems The work consists of contributions from internationally renowned research scientists Individual chapters deal with the factors and processes related to nitrogen deposition and soils non forest vegetation communities forest ecosystems and surface waters The assessment of these impacts is discussed in terms of setting critical loads The book is aimed at researchers advanced course students and policy makers advisors involved with aspects of the impact of air pollution European Deserts Chris Stone, 2026-01-13 This is the untold story of the hidden deserts of Europe Scattered across the lowlands of this green subcontinent these sandy and infertile wildernesses are cold deserts In existence for millennia and formerly much more extensive they present arid landscapes profoundly different from their surroundings and offer refuge for scarce flora and fauna with nowhere else to go Fascinating and often magical such places provide a rare glimpse of our planet in the raw where extreme environmental conditions are the norm Few recognise or value Europe s deserts as the precious and threatened relict ecosystems that they are Unknown uninhabited and seldom regarded as places of beauty our knowledge of their origins and the roles that these wastelands once played in economies and societies is remarkably scant Frequently poverty stricken regions many had reputations as undesirable and even dangerous places Despite this they have held a particular place in the human imagination inspiring artists writers and poets including Shakespeare Nonetheless vast expanses of these unique habitats have been reclaimed for farming forestry and urban development Chapters explore remote tracts in Spain France the Netherlands Britain Romania Germany Poland and Iceland Such heathlands and badlands are islands of biodiversity on a highly developed subcontinent where specialised wildlife including the Great Bustard and Stone curlew the Adder and Large Blue butterfly Juniper and Grey Hair grass all flourish Accessible provocative and richly illustrated this groundbreaking book will transform ideas about these landscapes An essential volume for anyone interested in nature recovery and rewilding
