Gospel Edwin Abbott, 2016-10-17 Excerpt from Light on the Gospel From an Ancient Poet More important still is a third question. Has this pseudonymous poet anything of his own to say? Is he really a poet or only a quoter of poetry? Justin Martyr, for example, quotes poetry by the yard but is no poet. Clement of Rome and Ignatius quote comparatively little but have something of the passion of poetry. Barnabas quotes almost as abundantly as inaccurately and has some original fancies and conceits but no poetry. Is this poet like any of these or altogether unlike? Even if he does not quote, he must make up his poets. Spin poetry entirely out of their own consciousness without a particle of indebtedness to some predecessors. What does this poet imply? The Old Testament or the New? If the Old, then what books most of all? If the New, what gospels? Or what epistles? If any If neither Old nor New then what writers Greek or Jewish or both P About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
