The Last Thing to Go Jane Juska, 2014-08-06 Joan Didion and Nora Ephron have both written by turns grimly and hilariously about the indignities of getting older Now comes Jane Juska laying bare literally everything no one has yet said about life in the later years With her characteristic wit unsparing eye for detail and famously frank opinions on gender issues Juska author of the best selling memoir A Round Heeled Woman talks sex the ups and downs of body parts well below the neck and the indomitable human need for connection whatever a woman's age

Memory and Forgetting in the Post-Holocaust Era Alejandro Baer, Natan Sznaider, 2016-11-25 To forget after Auschwitz is considered barbaric Baer and Sznaider question this assumption not only in regard to the Holocaust but to other political crimes as well The duties of memory surrounding the Holocaust have spread around the globe and interacted with other narratives of victimization that demand equal treatment Are there crimes that must be forgotten and others that should be remembered In this book the authors examine the effects of a globalized Holocaust culture on the ways in which individuals and groups understand the moral and political significance of their respective histories of extreme political violence Do such transnational memories facilitate or hamper the task of coming to terms with and overcoming divisive pasts Taking Argentina Spain and a number of sites in post communist Europe as test cases this book illustrates the transformation from a nationally oriented ethics to a trans national one The authors look at media scholarly discourse NGOs dealing with human rights and memory museums and memorial sites and examine how a new generation of memory activists revisits the past to construct a new future Baer and Sznaider follow these attempts to manoeuvre between the duties of remembrance and the benefits of forgetting This the authors argue is the ethics of Never Again
